Steps to Bring It to Attention of the Appellate Court to Be Taken Next Month

Attorneys for railroads interested in the appeal from the Public Service Commission's decision in the anthracite coal cases and other important tice of the situation when it meets in Philadelphia on July 20. On that day the appeal of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company-Pennsylvania Railroad Company rate case will be presented to the court and attention will be called to the suspended state of the twenty or more appeals in the Dauphin county court. It may be possible that a test of the constitutionality of the new act may be made or else the Public Service Commission be asked to reopen the cases and make new orders, which could be done by withdrawing them from the Dauphin county court.

There is no criticism, the commissioner remarks, of the food quality of the average breakfast cereal when it is sold in a fresh condition to the consumer, but it is well known to all dealers that these preparations are very liable to insect attack unless the greatest care be taken to keep the stock fresh and to store in places where the danger of such attack is least. Past examinations by the bureau have revealed numerous cases in which the contents of packages were simply alive with vermin and cobwebbed with the tissues woven by the insect larvae they contained.

The commissioner recognizes the conditions confronting the retailer in keeping his stock of breakfast foods fresh, and wholesalers who make a careful comparison of the 100 to 150 brands of such foods on sale in the state will find that in reality there are only twelve to fifteen types of breakfast foods that differ at all distinctly one from the other, and yet nearly every week sees community after community canvassed by agents presenting samples of some new breakfast food, taking orders for the same and turning them over to the local grocers supplying these several families, with the demand that he add this new name to his stock, despite the fact that his shelves are already crowded with the SKIN ERUPTION
