CONNIE MACK HANDS OUT ANOTHER SENSATION TO BASEBALL WORLD; NO REASON GIVEN

Special to The Telegraph Philadelphia, June 29.—Another sensation was sprung by Connie Mack last night.

Jack Barry, for seven seasons a member of Mack's original $100,000 field, may never again play shortstop for the Athletics. Barry is to be used in a trade or outright sale within the very near future. Manager Mack practically admitted so much last night, though he did not exactly say so much.

Bob Shawkey has become a member of the New York Yankees. This was definitely established yesterday when 'Wild Bill' Donovan obtained his services by claiming him at the waiver price.

Shawkey's dismissal from the ranks of the Athletics, it is said, was due to his inability to round into good physical condition.

Shawkey Not in Form Just why Jack Barry is to be disposed of remains a secret with the management of the Athletics. Barry has not participated in a game with the house of Mack since June 19, when the Chicago White Sox closed their series here. His hand was injured when a Chicago player slid into second base. The injury was not serious at the time, for Barry continued to complete the game.

Since June 19 it has been said that Barry was absent from the line-up of the fallen world's champions because of this injury. He was not taken with the team on its trip to Washington when the Mackmen went away last Friday. As a matter of fact he was not in uniform, and when officials of the Athletics were questioned about his absence they replied that his injury was coming along well as could be expected.

Barry joined the Athletics in 1908.

FREE BASEBALL FOR FANS; FIRST IN MANY SEASONS

Special to The Telegraph New York, June 29.—For the first time in many years admission to a big league game was free yesterday, when the Brooklyn club of the Federal League gave a fans' day. President Robert E. Ward had engaged a band for the game with the Chicago club, the purpose of the novelty was to add to the popularity of the Brooklyn club. Chicago won, 10 to 5, by batting free pitchers hard in the last three innings after Brooklyn had rained the lead. A Wilson made a home run in the ninth.

TIGER MANAGER, AND ST AR PLAYER; BIG FACTORS IN AMERICAN RACE

TY COBB

HUGH JENNINGS

This picture shows two typical photographs of two very great baseball players—Ty Cobb, in the act of bunting, and his manager, Hugh Jennings, wearing his fine broad grin after his great outfielder has succeeded in the bunt. Cobb has a peculiar way of drawing up his lips at the moment he bunts, but not so the pitcher or the fielders of the opposing club see the action in time to offset his play. There is little doubt that Cobb is the greatest of baseball players. He may even be the greater player of the game has known.

I. C. S. FOUNDER IS DEPOSED BY BANKS

New Directors Control Textbook Co.; Cut Salaries; Foster Loses Financial Direction

Scranton, Pa., June 29.—About 150 of the $300,000 or more stockholders of the International Textbook Company learned to-day, at the annual meeting of stockholders, held in the company's offices here, that there is no prospect that they will receive dividends again for several years of the company, repayable at the rate of $20,000 a month after next February, but also the entire bond issue of $1,000,000, which the stockholders who were not present for several years of the company, repudiated. Until this debt is repaid, under the agreement with the bankers, no dividend can be paid. The banks will hold as security for the loan all the company's assets.

Other things which the stockholders were present learned were these: That of the total amount of supposed assets of the International Textbook Company, stated at more than $1,000,000 in the annual report submitted by Thomas J. Foster, president of the company and founder of the International Correspondence Schools, which the textbook company owns, only $49,000 was in actual cash.

Control Taken From Foster That in order to conserve the property and also secure the $500,000 loan, it has been decided that the financial management of the company must be turned over to other hands than those of Foster and his associates. In accordance with this plan six Scranton bankers and businessmen who have arranged for the $500,000 loan were elected directors of the International Textbook Company yesterday, giving them a majority control of the corporation's board of directors.

The International Correspondence School has a branch office in this city and hundreds of students in this vicinity are working on the school's courses.

Most Distinguished of All Fine Arts

Delights of Embroidery Come From Stitches—Fashionable This Year.

The beauty of plain sewing lies in hiding the stitches—the beauty of embroidery nearly always lies in the stitches themselves. The object of the embroiderer should be to express form and lay on color in stitches so regularly and skillfully that they will themselves be objects of admiration. The beginner in embroidery should first try some of the simpler designs in The World Famous Embroidery Outline and thus gain confidence. The magnificent pieces are really easy after one learns the stitches and the details of which they are made up by executing simple designs. There is no limit to what may be done with a needle in the way of pictorial adornment. Earliest written history tells of fine embroidery picturing events of great importance. In one well authenticated account of Roman life we are told of a Christian Roman Senator whose flowing garments illustrated the gospel narrative. The noble senator's garments created a sensation in fashionable Rome and it is presumed that scores of women worked for years to complete the magnificent vestments.

Embroidery to-day has been replaced by other forms of art insofar as recording historical events are concerned, but as an art of home decoration and feminine dress it has its place in every family. Its products are the most fashionable of all garments for this summer's wear. Patterns of the very latest design, napery or articles of home decoration are provided by this paper in The World Famous Embroidery Outline. A coupon plan is provided so that regular readers may secure the patterns without difficulty. Add to these coupons (one appearing in the paper every day) sixty-eight cents to cover cost of handling. With mail orders the sum enclosed should be seventy-five cents as postage and packing amounts to seven cents.

The pattern outfit in this extension of our women's feature departments includes more than 450 exclusive designs, a set of the best hardwood embroidery hoops, a highly polished bone bodkin and complete instructions for making all the fancy stitches, each stitch being illustrated and clearly explained.

CORNELL'S CLEAN-UP IS COURTNEY VICTORY

Leland Stanford University Is Dark Horse; Came in Second Yesterday

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 29.—Charles E. Courtney is once more the "grand old man" of rowing, for yesterday the Cornell varsity and junior varsity crews won thrilling victories, while Courtney's freshman eight was beaten only by Syracuse. This was near enough to a Cornell sweep to remind the great throng present of the years when Courtney's crews were wont to win every event on the program.

But great as was the surprise when Cornell won the varsity race yesterday, a greater was furnished by the Leland Stanford University eight, which the critics had picked for the tail end position. These young giants from the Pacific coast rowed in third position for three miles, hit up a terrific spurt in the last half that carried them past Syracuse, and for a brief interval past Cornell and placed them second at the finish. Syracuse was third, Columbia fourth and Pennsylvania a poor last. Vivian Nickall's crew never being in the race after the first 10 yards, Syracuse led to within a quarter mile of the finish, only to be nosed out and beaten by both Cornell and Stanford. The line-up at the finish follows:

Varsity Eight, Four Miles—Cornell University, 20:36 3-5; Leland Stanford, 20:37 4-5; Syracuse University, 20:43 3-5; Columbia College, 21; Pennsylvania, 21:00 1-5. Junior Eight, Two Miles—Cornell University, 10:00 1-5; Pennsylvania, 10:05; Columbia College, 10:07 3-5. Freshman Eight, Two Miles—Syracuse University, 9:29 3-5; Cornell University, 9:43; Columbia College, 9:47 4-5; Pennsylvania, 10:01 2-5.

Penn Weight Star to Coach Football Eleven

Philadelphia, June 29.—Larry A. Whitney, the Dartmouth athlete who won the intercollegiate shot-putting championship on Franklin Field this year, according to information received here yesterday, has signed to coach the Penn State football team next year. According to the report, Whitney signed the contract Saturday and will be unable to compete in the Pan-American Pacific championships, as he automatically becomes a professional by strict interpretation of the Amateur Athletic Union laws. At the eastern tryouts at Boston Saturday Whitney qualified to take the trip to the coast next month, but was not selected.

BELMONT WANTS A GAME

Belmont A. C., that crack amateur team that has been making such a big "rep" in amateur baseball circles these days will play in hard luck Saturday and Monday, July 3 and 5, respectively, unless some equally crack team sees this notice and takes the tip and starts negotiations toward arranging a game. William R. Danner, a brother of County Register R. C. Danner, is the manager of the Belmont team and he has asked for games for the Belmonts the afternoons of Saturday and Monday. The necessary arrangements can be closed by writing Mr. Danner at 1851 North street or telephoning, Bell, 2874.

RECORD PRICE FOR HORSE

New York, June 29.—Horsemen asserted to-day that the purchase for $12,500 of a chestnut colt by Star Shoot-Hunburg Belle at a Sheephead Bay auction was the first instance in which a thoroughbred yearling has sold for five figures since the gambling laws were enacted. The colt was bought by John Sanford of Amsterdam, N. Y. Horse fanciers saw an upward trend in values in the fact that one consignment of 34 horses sold for $44,725.

BIG OPENING IF TEAM'S TRANSFERRED

Harrisburg to Have Representative at New York Meeting Tomorrow

Harrisburg's interests will be looked after at the International League meeting in New York to-morrow morning. It is probable that William R. Douglass, who has been one of the big local boosters, will go to New York early to-morrow, or this evening. The International League session convenes at 11 o'clock. The Newark transfer proposition will be taken up about noon. In the meantime, local boosters are going ahead with plans for a big opening on Friday, should the transfer be made. Invitations have been prepared and will go out as soon as official notice is received that the Newark team will come to Harrisburg. Every uniformed amateur club will be invited to participate in the parade. It is proposed to have at least two bands of music. Prizes will be offered for the team having the best decorated automobiles in line, and to the team in uniform having in line the largest number of bonfire members of an association supporting the team. Other inducements will be offered to get local teams and players in the procession. If the transfer is made Jersey City will be the opening attraction on Friday. This team will also play here Saturday, and two games on Monday, July 5. As soon as the final answer is known to-morrow, it will be wired to Harrisburg. If favorable, the local committee will get busy at once.
