Independence Day Celebration Attracts Fire Fighters; Change Parade Route

Many visiting fire companies will lend color and enthusiasm to Steelton's big Independence Day parade next big Independence Day parade next Monday. Already word has been received by the local committee in charge that ten out-of-town companies will accept the invitation to participate in the big celebration. Companies will be here from Harrisburg, Carlisle and Highspire. The Reading companies have cancelled their plans to be present on account of another engagement. At last evening's meeting of the committees the route of the parade was changed to avoid several steep hills. The new route, after leaving Hygienic Hill, will be as follows: Harrisburg street to Pine, to Second, to Chambers.

The committee in charge of the division of floats decided not to offer any prizes, inasmuch as sufficient interest already has been manifested in this part of the parade. More than twenty floats of various designs will be in line. Chief Marshal Smith and his aids will meet Friday evening to complete arrangements for the street demonstration. Monday. ### Widow Faints as Home Is Destroyed by Fire

Fire Chief John E. Shupp, Jr., this morning investigated the fire which last evening completely gutted the home of Mrs. H. A. Walters, a widow, at 321 South Fourth street. It is the fire chief's belief that an overheated chimney caused the blaze instead of firecrackers, as was at first believed. The loss will amount to $1,000, partly covered by insurance, said Chief Shupp. A lack of water pressure hampered the work of the firemen. During the blaze Mrs. Walters became hysterical and had to be restrained by firemen from entering her burning home. She fainted and was carried into the home of George Daniels, where she received medical treatment.

SURPRISE DEWALD REINHARD

A surprise party was given last evening in honor of Dewald Reinhard at the Lock House, above Steelton. Music and games were followed by refreshments. Among the guests were the following: Bertha Levin, Catherine Chambers, Margueriet Cummings, May Blade, Catherine Murphy, Sara Chambers, Frank Hoffman, Clem Kelley, Herman Leisman, Charles Mutzabaugh, Welmer Reinhard, Dewald Reinhard, Joseph Chambers, Pat Murphy, Tom Reinhard, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy O'Donnell and daughter Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reinhard and son Charles, Mrs. Mary Reinhard and son Charles, Mrs. Mary Reinhard and Dewald Reinhard. Hoquiam, Wash., June 30.—Laden with a cargo of four thousand old style Springfeld rifes and 1,000,000 cart-ridges loaded with dum dum bullets, according to the captain, the three-masted schooner Annie Larsen arrived at Hoquiam to-day short of both provisions and water. She was seized by Deputy Customs Collector R. L. Sebastian and is in charge of deputies pending receipt of instructions from the customs collector at Seattle.

Some of the authorities believe, though her manifest cleared her from San Diego, Cal, for Topolobampo, Mexico, the Larsen's cargo was intended for one of the European belligerents.
