FIRST HOME VICTORY FOR THE INDIANS

Win Game on Two Hits, One a Triple by Tooley; Cruthers Wild at Intervals

Harrisburg's tribe of International League Indians performed a war dance around the Jersey City 'Skeeters' yesterday. The first score on the new reservation was a victory for Harrisburg, 3 to 1. The big crowd and ideal baseball field was a little bewildering to Jersey City. The loyal support from rooters helped to put new life into the Indians.

Class AA baseball took with the local fans. It was something this city has been hungry for, and they promise to feast on the luxury during the balance of the season. Sensational plays featured the game. Harrisburg won on two hits, Cruthers' wildness and shaky support being a factor. Schacht, who pitched for the Indians, used a vice in pinches. Five 'Skeeters' failed to make the circuit, three of whom were on third.

Jim Thorpe Stars Jim Thorpe, the Olympic champion, was a big star. Harrisburg's brilliant work was scattered. Those who came in for a big share of honors were Mowe, Tooley, Callahan and Kraft.

The one run by Jersey City came in the second inning. Barry doubled to right, went to third on a triple by Mowe and scored on Purzell's sacrifice fly.

Two runs were hung up in the first frame by Harrisburg. Mensor walked. Mowe singled to right, putting Mensor on third. A wild pitch by Cruthers gave Mensor an easy ramp home and put Mowe on second. Sensational advanced Mowe one base and he came home on a fast sprint when Callahan sent up a sacrifice fly to center. In the eighth Schacht was passed. Mensor sacrificed him to second. A triple to left field by Tooley made Schacht's run easy scoring. The score follows:

Charley White Favorite; Meets Freddie Welsh. Special to The Telegraph. New York, July 3.—The unusual circumstance of a challenger being a favorite over a champion will be presented when Charley White, of Chicago, assails Freddie Welsh, light-weight title in a ten-round bout at Brighton Beach race track to-night.

PUNISHMENT FOR KAUFF. Special to The Telegraph. New York, July 3.—Following a conference here yesterday between James Gilmore, president of the Federal League, and the officials of the Brooklyn club it was announced that Benny Kauff had been fined $100 and suspended for ten days. President Ward, of the Brooklyn club, declared that Kauff would not be traded and would not be permitted to play with any club other than Brooklyn.

Veteran Athletic Infielder Is Now Red Sox Property

PHOTO BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. Boston, Mass., July 3.—Jack Barry, shortstop, a member of the famous combination known as Connie Mack's $100,000 infield—McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker—has been secured by the Red Sox and will join the Boston Club at once.

President Joseph J. Lannin announced the purchase of Barry late last evening. It was cash transaction, and $3,000, it is said, was paid for him, although Mr. Lannin stated that he did not care to give the amount of money involved. Barry will undoubtedly add strength to the Boston team. He has not been playing for the past few weeks on account of a sore hand, but said today that he would be able to work most any day now—possibly to-day. The purchase of Barry was made with a view to strengthening the infield of the Boston Club, and he will be placed wherever it is thought he will be the most effective.

Barry figured in four world's championships while with the Mackmen, and would have undoubtedly taken part in a fifth had he not been seriously spiked in the leg which kept him out of the game for two months in 1909, the year Detroit beat out the Macks for the flag after a neck-and-neck race for the pennant. The loss of Barry cost the Athletics the pennant that season. In 1910, 11 and 12 Barry was the sensation of the league, and his wonderful work in the series against the Cubs in 1910 caused Charley Comiskey, of the White Sox, to proclaim him the greatest shortstop of the decade.

WHO CARES IF NEITHER MOON NOR STARS SHINE O'ER OBERLIN COURTS

Tennis Players Aren't a Wee Bit Anxious as to Early Darkness—Club to Have Electric Lights

Twilight, starlight, moonlight—all may be lacking during the early summer evenings on the courts of the Reservoir Tennis Club, but the members of that live-wire organization won't care a wee bit. The tennis players of Oberlin needn't bother about the lack of sufficient moonlight to play any more—nor need the coming of early nightfall stem them any reason for anxiety. The courts of the Oberlin Tennis Club are to be lighted by electricity. The little town numbers some crack college players and most of them who are home for the summer vacation have decided to take no chances with darkness in late play and some of the embryo electrical engineers have rigged up the lighting standards. The problem of obtaining a supply of current is simple. It merely means establishing a connection with the Harrisburg Light and Power Company's service.

Two 50-watt lamps have already been installed and two more of 750-watt will be installed in a few days. Harper Fressler installed the lights. After which, the Oberlin tennis players frankly declare, the moon can go chase himself.
