For "Dollar Day" (Tomorrow) We've Planned a Feast of Bargains That Will Establish a New Record in Value-Giving for This Important Event

"Youth Is Not a Time of Life, It Is a State of Mind"

declares Dr. Crane, at the same time insisting that people grow old only by deserting their ideals.

Ever striving for a higher goal, this store has invested 44 years of its life; still in its youthful freshness; and ever young in its ambition, hope and self-confidence.

As individuals, we know that the Tree of Youth must remain green and flourishing—we believe that recreation is essential to youth; that men and women must know how to play well in order that they may work well, and harmoniously.

Friday, July 9th, has been set aside as our annual Picnic for both Harrisburg and Carlisle stores, and we trust the public will again endorse this movement and concede this holiday to our associates, by shopping a day earlier or later—Thursday or Saturday.

PENROSE MAKES "OUR STATE" SPEECH Senator Talks of the Glories of Pennsylvania in Address to Bellefonte People Senator Boies Penrose, who on Saturday at Gettysburg began the first of speeches he has made since the campaign, spoke on the glories of Pennsylvania at Bellefonte's Old Home Week yesterday. His speech was heard by one of the largest crowds ever gathered in the Center county capital and like his Gettysburg speech contained no reference to politics. In the course of his remarks at Bellefonte the Senator said: "The statute books of Pennsylvania

An Unfailing Way to Banish Hairs (Beauty Notes) Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.—Advertisement.

never, from Colonial days down to the present time, have been stained by a single act discriminating against any citizen on account of his religious opinions. Of no other colony can this be said. New England boasts of its literature and its intellectual progress and yet the people of New England were burning witches and persecuting dissenters, while the most complete toleration prevailed in Pennsylvania. The nearest State to approach us in this respect was Rhode Island, where Roger Williams preached the same doctrine of toleration, and yet the record of Rhode Island is tarnished by laws passed discriminating against Roman Catholics. Our State has been the scene of great events, marking the turning points in American history since the earliest Colonial times. Independence was proclaimed in Philadelphia; Valley Forge marks the darkest period of the Revolution, and the most heroic struggle of Washington and his army. One of the most illustrious events in the glorious annals of our navy is the battle of Lake Erie. Gettysburg marks the flood tide of the rebellion and the turning point of the Civil War. "In resources, enterprises and development the State constitutes an empire in itself. While we have a population composed of many nationalities, no other State is more patriotic. We are Americans first; but we are proud that we are Pennsylvanians." At Gettysburg the senator made a national defense speech. He cited as possible causes of international trouble the Panama Canal, restricted immigration, the tariff and the demand for the open door in China. Concluding Senator Penrose said: "It would seem that ordinary common sense would demand that we make reasonable and adequate preparation for national defense. We ought to have a large navy and an adequate army, together with a system of reserves, and such drilling and instruction among the people in general as can be had without interference with industry and commerce. Many persons think that it would require a war to teach the American people the necessity of these things. I would rather hope that the common sense of the American people, the most intelligent people in the world, would persuade them as to the necessity of national preparedness, and that the next Congress will take preliminary steps looking toward this end." EDITH WYNNE MATHISON IN "THE GOVERNOR'S LADY" TODAY AT THE REGENT. HEAR OUR PIPE-ORGAN WITH "THE HUMAN VOICE" Jesse L. Lasky, in association with David Belasco, presents the international dramatic star, Edith Wynne Mathison in "The Governor's Lady," at the Regent this afternoon and evening in five reels. At the opening Daniel Slade is working in a mine and, though not positively in need, he and his wife live in comparative poverty. Slade is a man filled with ambition, but his wife is contented and absorbed in her love for her husband. By a fortunate accident he discovers a gold mine and, with his newly acquired wealth, immediately sets out to make a position of influence for himself in the world. In the course of time he becomes attracted to the Senator's daughter, who, like him, is of ambitious temperament. In fact, though she does not love him, she agrees to marry him if he obtains a divorce from his wife. The concluding episodes of the story show how the wife rescues her husband from his unpardonable folly, and how, much chastened, he finally persuades her to come back to him. He has now become the Chief Executive of the State and Mary at last takes her place as the Governor's Lady. Wednesday and Thursday Harrisburg's favorite, Marguerite Clark, the dainty and magnetic little star, who sprang into instant national popularity as a screen favorite through her two previous Famous Players' productions, "Wildflower" and "The Crucible," returns to the screen in picturization of Grace Livingston Furness' celebrated romantic comedy, "Gretta Green," in which she far surpasses all her former successes. "Gretta Green" is certain to add to the many distinctions already possessed by this fascinating stage and screen favorite.
