STATE LIVESTOCK TO ABATE THE BAN

Likely to Declare All of State Free Except a Portion of South Philadelphia Soon

CENSORS WIN BIG SUIT

Supreme Court Upheld Them—News of the Day About the State's Capitol

It is probable that as a result of the raising of quarantine against practically all of Pennsylvania by federal government that the State Livestock Sanitary Board will follow suit at a meeting to-morrow or next day. Officials said to-day that it was likely that all of Allegheny county would be made free from restrictions for foot and mouth disease and that except for a portion of South Philadelphia the State would be made open. However, the State and federal authorities, who are working together, will not abate their vigilance.

The State Livestock Board has had every area which has been infected lately thoroughly inspected and is in possession of very complete reports about conditions.

Board in Session. — The State Industrial Board is in session at Philadelphia to-day to consider applications for modification of the State women's law for hotels.

Censors Upheld. — The State Board of Censors, created for the purpose of regulating moving picture films, was upheld by the Supreme Court yesterday and the appeal of the film manufacturing concerns which attacked the constitutionality of the act creating the State board dismissed. Last January a bill in equity was filed in Common Pleas Court No. 5, Philadelphia by the Buffalo Branch, Mutual Film Corporation; Mutual Film Corporation of Pennsylvania and Interstate Films Company and the Overbrook Theater against J. Louis Breitinger, chief censor, and Mrs. E. C. Nover, assistant censor, constituting the State Board of Censors. The complainants asked for a preliminary injunction restraining the censors from operating under the act of June 15, 1911, regulating the exhibiting and using of moving picture films. It was contended by the film companies that the act was against the State and Federal Constitutions.

Gilday Accepts. — Patrick Gilday, of Clearfield county, formerly active as an officer of the United Mine Workers and now connected with the Federal Bureau of Conciliation, has accepted the position of chief of the new State Bureau of Mediation. He will likely confer with Commissioner John Price Jackson in Philadelphia to-morrow when the State Industrial Board meets to hear applications for modifications of the women's employment laws. Mr. Gilday will have his headquarters in Harrisburg.

Jitney Case Next. — Much interest is attached to this week's meetings of the Public Service Commission owing to the fact that some steps may be taken to fix a date for argument on the objections to the incorporation of the Williamsport jitney service, which case contains most of the points in dispute over the jitneys in the State. When the commission finished its hearings last month it arranged for briefs to be filed.

More Inspectors. — State Dairy and Food agents, who have been engaged in collecting hundreds of samples of milk and cream for a general State survey of the manner in which the milk standard act is being observed, will be started on a tour of inspection in the manner in which breakfast foods are sold within the next few days. This sampling will be in accord with a warning given some time ago by Commissioner Foutz and will be as extensive as the milk sampling, which included 4,000 samples in the 150 communities. According to reports reaching the Capitol many grocers have burned or thrown away cereals which they have had on their shelves for a long time and in some parts of the State "bargain" sales to clearout stocks which have not been good sellers because of change of public taste have been held.

Two Cases Likely. — It is probable that the State Board of Pardons will be asked at its meeting in September to hear the Pennington and March applications for commutation of the death sentence in the Delaware county crime which attracted much attention some months ago. March was released clemency some time ago but Pennington's case did not come in before the time limit expired. Inquiries have been made indicating that the case may be listed and March's application may come up as a request for a rehearing.

Going to the Exposition? Don't Miss Colorado Scenery

No one can be indifferent to the beauty and grandeur of the Colorado Rocky Mountain scenery, and visitors to the California Expositions should make a point of seeing it. Also Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, the Royal Gorge, and Salt Lake City.

Now there's no extra charge for all this if you go via the Burlington Route (C. B. & Q.), because it so happens that the through service of that line has been planned so that you pass all of these points by daylight, and you can view from the train a panorama of mountain scenery that is as celebrated as any in the world.

Surely on your way, you will not miss this opportunity and I would like to send you free, some pictures, maps and printed matter, not only of the Colorado wonders, but also of the Glacier Park or Yellowstone Park, which, by all means, you should visit on the return trip. Please make use of me—let me help plan the trip for you. Call on or write, Wm. Austin, general agent, Passenger Dept., C. B. & Q. R. R. Co., 835 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, adv.

GOVERNOR READY TO TALK FARMING

New Board Expected to Meet Within a Short Time to Begin Its Big Campaign

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh's plans for the reorganization of the Department of Agriculture will really call for the aid of every citizen. The Governor does not mean to stop at the reorganization of the administration of the department, but according to his present plans he means to make it the means of showing the people how they can increase yields, make loading lands work and get more out of what he calls the by-products of farming, the chicken and the pig. The Governor will probably choose his secretary of agriculture this week and if he makes the announcement he will lose no time in calling together the new commissioners and telling them what he wants done.

It is the idea of the Governor to have the reorganization of the office forces of the various bureaus fit in with the work he expects of them. The administrative end will be gradually changed. First and foremost, however, will be the framing of a program for agricultural advancement, conservation of the soil, betterment of rural life and the building up of a popular sentiment which will be reflected on the next Legislature and secure from it the funds necessary to make the department one of the most active in the government. The Governor intends to make the department figure as much in the public eye as do the Health and Highway departments. The commissioners will divide up the state and make visits to the agricultural exhibitions and fairs and in addition to finding out what are the needs of each locality will outline in an intimate way the Governor's plans.

People who have been looking for a turning inside out of the department, most of whose bureaus have been doing work that has attracted much at-
