BLOOD STAINED CAP SHOT FROM BURGLAR

Guy Williams Fires at Man on Roof of Porch at Dauphin

Home

Dauphin, Pa., July 12 .- A bloodstained cap with its vizor torn to shreds is the sole clue, which the authorities here have, in their search authorities here have, in their search for a midnight marauder, who, early Sunday morning, attempted to force entrance to the home of Mrs. J. E. Williams and was fired upon by her eighteen-year-old son.

The force of a shell from a Winchester pump gun aimed at the intruder, at a distance of less than a foot, practically blew him off the porch roof where Guy Maxwell Willams saw him crouching. A difference of one inch in young William's aim would have shattered the man's head. The shell load buried itself twenty-five feet away in the side of a neighbor's house.

of Linglestown, who sustained an injured foot.

The accident occurred late in the afternoon when many visitors to Camp Major-General John W. Schall were hurrying back from the rifle range to the big parade grounds before division headquarters for the review by Major-General C. Bow Dougherty. Ordinarily each car of the train holds fifty passongers, but twice that number were on the car which left the rails. The train had proceeded scarcely 100 yards when the overloaded, top-heavy car swung over on its left side as the train was rounding a curve and fell, reducing a rail fence to splinters and lodging against a tree. To this fact alone is attributed the absence of casualties, for as the car tilted the passengers were tossed to the ground. They would have been crushed beneath had not the car hung against the tree.

Those who remained on board the car were quickly joined by those on the first car, which escaped derallment because the coupling snapped, and the work of rescuing the injured and imperiled passengers was quickly accomplished. Lieutenant Robert S. Hopkins, Company F, Third Infantry, and James T, Maguiro, a Philadelphia traffic policeman, who is on detail duty at division headquarters, directed the rescue.

Harrisburg Guardsmen Active
Companies D and I, Eighth Regiment, from Harrisburg, are located about two and a half miles from the railroad station on a plot of ground that was recently cleared of stumps. The members of these companies are taking an active lead in the special activities of the camp. On the way here Corporal Russell and his squad directed the placing of a Cornwall and Lebanon engine back on the track after it had jumped the rails. Private Harry Sansom is getting a taste of how it feels to have a "Jack Johnson" whiz around on the "fire brigade," which is busily blasting stumps from the Fourth Brigade ground.

BIG CONGREGATIONS GREET PASTOR-ELECT

Dr. George Edward Hawes, of Bellefonte, Preaches Morning and Evening at Market Square

Large congregations greeted Dr. George Edward Hawes, the Bellefonte pastor who has been extended a call to the pulpit of the Market Square Presbyterian church at both services yesterian church at both services yesterian church at the call under consideration for some time he has not yet indicated his intentions with respect to it. It is likely, however, that he will reach a decision within a few days now that he has been here and occupied the pulpit to which he has been given a call.

Dr. Hawes made a most favorable impression at both services and his presence, his delivery and the treatment of the subjects of his discourses evoked all manner of praise from the members of the congregation and the many visitors who heard him. He has an attractive personality and is a ready speaker, his fluency in both sermons being the subject of comment. During his stay yesterday he visited the Bible classes of the Sunday school and met many members of the congregation. Quite a number called upon Dr. and Mrs. Hawes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Fleming on Saturday evening.

While the pastor-elect pleased all who heard him, Mrs. Hawes likewise won the favor of all by the cordiality of her manner. Officers of the Market Square congregation were more than pleased with the large midsummer attendance.

DAINTY FOOD Turns Pale Cheeks to Pink.

Our best physicians of the present day seek to cure patients by the use of food and right living, rather than heavy drugs, and this is the true method, for only from food can the body be rebuilt.

Many people, after living on poorly selected or badly cooked food for a long time, and when their ailments become chronic, expect the doctor, with some magic potency, to instantly rebuild them.

This is not possible. The only true method is to turn as quickly as can be, from poor food to good. A young lady in Ohio says:

"I was variously treated for my nerves, stomach, lungs, etc., but none of the treatments gave me relief.

"About a year ago when my appetite failed completely and I began to have sinking spells similar to fainting, I took all manner of tonics and stimulants, but they were of no effect. I had been brought to quit drinking coffee and taking Postum in its place and gradually began to get a little better.

"Someone suggested that if I found Postum so beneficial I had better use

All of them laughed when asked as to the truth of the port. "Why that's absurd," grinned Mayor Royal, "because the act specifically declares that a city treasurer shall be appointed or elected by council. Some plan might be in the air to turn the work over to the city superintendent of finance and accounts, but," added the chief executive, "the duties of THAT office also are defined by the act."

Mr. Gorgas, who was with the mayor at the time, shook his head and declared he had known nothing of such a movement other than what he had read in the papers.
