HUMIDITY FACTOR IN DOUBLE-HEADER

Players Beg Off Second Game; Indians Break Even With Maple Leaves

General humidity butted in on two gruelling baseball controversies at Island Park yesterday. The sun was setting behind the western hill when the last man went out on the Harrisburg side. One Toronto man, Centerfielder Gilbert, toppled over and was sent to his hotel under the care of a physician.

Harrisburg had a twelfth inning rally in the first battle, winning by a score of 5 to 7. The second went to Toronto, score 3 to 2. It was a question whether the second game would be played. The players were almost "all in" at the close of the first contest.

Players on both teams begged off, and a number left the field with the umpires soon after the winning run was scored by Harrisburg. Manager Eddie Zimmerman called them back. An argument followed and President Edward G. Barrow of the International League, who was at the game, was called in as the arbitrator. He settled the arguments by ordering a seven-inning game.

Sticks Were Busy In the first game the Indians and Maple Leaves kept their sticks busy. Each team used two pitchers. Luque and Cockran were on the firing line for Toronto, and Lee and Schacht for Harrisburg. Toronto was in the lead in the sixth. Harrisburg scored two runs in the seventh. The Indians had a bunch of bingles in their half, and went two ahead of the Maple Leaves.

Toronto came back in the ninth with three, going one better on Harrisburg. The losing evened up in their half, and the real fight was on. In the twelfth with one man down, Witter drove the ball to center for two bases. Hickinger sent the ball in the same direction, scoring Witter and victory.

Walter Manning, the former Tri-State heaver who was always a lucky man in Harrisburg, kept the Indians guessing up to the seventh. Goodbred was hit hard and received raged support. Harrisburg rallied in the seventh but the Maple Leaves cut them down before any great damage resulted from a series of bingles. The score:

CLOSE MURPHY DEAL; CHICAGO TAKES ST. LOUIS

Was Lead-off Man in World's Series Two Years Ago; Weak in Fielding

Special to The Telegraph: Chicago, Ill., July 17.—The deal between the Chicago White Sox and Connie Mack for the sale of Eddie Murphy, right fielder of the 1913 world's champion Athletics, was closed yesterday, and the player was turned over to Manager Rowland, of Chicago. The price was not made public.

The deal was pending for over three weeks. Manager Rowland has felt the need of a good lead-off man for his batting order all season, and when in Philadelphia in June made Mack an offer for Murphy. Mack's price was said to be too high, and the deal fell through. Subsequently, Rowland purchased Nemo from the Athletics. Nemo had failed to come up to expectations as a hitter. Hard pressed by Boston, the power behind the White Sox has had to give up on Murphy. He is a native of Hancock, N. Y., where he was born October 2, 1891.

He played for Villanova College. He was secured from the Baltimore Eastern League team in September, 1912, by Connie Mack and immediately placed in the lead-off position in the Athletics' batting order. He held this post through 1913 and 1914, but in the opening months of the present season his fielding weaknesses became so glaring that he was taken out of the regular line-up and has been on the bench ever since.

Marysville Pastor States He Was Misrepresented in Article on Sunday Concerts: Special to The Telegraph: Marysville, Pa., July 17.—Sunday band concerts in the square appear to have caused a great difference of opinion among the people of the town as to their propriety, but a large majority seem to favor the rendition of sacred music on Sunday evening. It is said to-day that the young people societies of the Reformed, Methodist and Evangelical Churches, which meet on Sunday evening, intended to hold their services in the square with the band furnishing music, but if the burgess objects they will not do so tomorrow at least. The Rev. S. L. Beckinger, of Trinity Reformed Church, and the Rev. A. L. Fuhrman, of the Evangelical Church, were said yesterday to be opposed to the concerts, but it is now stated that they believe them to be a good thing for the town and that their churches approve of them.

This morning the band officials telephoned to District Attorney W. V. Rice, at New Bloomfield, in reference to the legal side of the question and he said he knew of no law to prevent giving of sacred concerts on Sunday.

Burgess Lentz insists that he will put a stop to the concert to-morrow evening.

The Rev. C. A. Parson, pastor of the Church of God, states that he had not been consulted when the first article was published and the statements therein did not represent his views of the matter of Sunday evening band concerts.
