"You were reported as saying so," reminded Mr. Taylor.

"I would like you to explain where in I have bungled as you were quoted as saying," interpolated Mr. Bowman.

"Oth. I didn't say that."

"Oh, I didn't say that," deprecated Mr. Gorgas.

"That wasn't in my mind. What I said, I believe, was that this was all mixed up; that someone bungled."

"Then you admit that the morning."

bungled."
"Then you admit that the morning paper's report of the charges you made against us about bungling were not true?" persisted Mr. Bowman.
"No, I don't say that either. Newspaper reports, you know, are open to criticism the same as reports we make here."

here."

Mayor Royal a little later was placed
Mr. Gorgas un-Mayor Royal a little later was placed in a similar position. Mr. Gorgas unconsciously helped to do it, too.

The Mayor demanded to know how "constitutionally" Council had expended more than $300,000 along the river front when the vote of the people had only authorized the expenditure of $500,000.

"The vote was for $316,000, wasn't it?" suggested Mr. Lynch.
"No sir, it was not," emphatically declared the Mayor, "it was for $300,000."
"Suppose you get the loan ordi-$300,000!"

"Suppose you get the loan ordinance," suggested Mr. Gorgas.
Assistant City Clerk Seaman dug up the ordinance and the Mayor scanned it. Then:
"You're right. It calls for $316,000," said he.

"You're right. It calls for $316,000," said he.

Leaves Big Sewer Exposed

Commissioner Lynch called attension to the unfinished condition of the River Wall improvement if the gap at Market street wasn't closed.

"The sewer itself, the interceptor, is exposed at that point more than at any other point along the River Front," said Mr. Lynch.

"And it's used more, too," added Mr. Taylor.

Front," said Mr. Lynch.
"And it's used more, too," added
Mr. Taylor.
"Oh, I differ with you," declared
Mr. Gorgas. "I've walked along there as much as anyone while that work was going on—"
"Yes, I've seen you—often," dryly commented Commissioner Lynch.
"Well, I admit that," answered the commissioner of finance and accounts,
"and I'm only sorry that I couldn't devote more time to your work."
"Oh, no," and Mr. Lynch grinned pleasantly, the Stucker Brothers' bondsman, "you weren't looking after MY interests there!"
Old Vote of 3 to 2
Then the question of Mr. Gorgas' refusal to O. K. warrants for half a month's pay for the engineers, rent
and janitress' services was discussed.
The latter's pay—held up for more than a week—totals just four dollars,
by the way.
Mr. Gorgas thought that whole question could be settled by putting the matter up to the court ar suggested that "he could be mandamused."
