30 TO 50 PER CENT. INCREASE IN VALUES

That Is Extent Elimination of "Hardscrabble" Would Benefit East Side Properties

Property valuations on the east side of Front street from Calder to Herr were estimated to be increased from thirty to fifty per cent. by the elimination of "hardscrabble," according to realty experts who were on the stand to-day at the resumption of the hearing of the "Hardscrabble" condemnation viewers.

Only two witnesses were examined. George E. Etter, real estate expert for the Pennsylvania Capitol Park Extension Commission and widely known throughout the city as an expert on realty values, said he thought the proposed improvement would increase valuations on the east side of the street from thirty to forty per cent.

JAWS OF HORN TRAP PRIED WIDE OPEN

[Continued From First Page.] he didn't happen to have the money—from ten to twenty-five days in jail, to prove it.

The question of the legality of the so-called "horn trap" at the west end of Main street, Middletown, which was erected by the constables, and which has annoyed motorists for years, was settled by Judge Johnson today.

THE PROBLEM OF THE "HORN TRAP"

The whole question hinged upon the fact of whether or not the constables had the right, without legislative authority, to erect a so-called "horn trap."

Backed by the Motor Club of Harrisburg and the Middletown Motor Club, Secretary Myton again and again calmly sped past the "blow your horn sign"—and never tooted a toot. So he was arrested.

At quarter sessions court several months ago Mr. Myton was convicted, although Judge Johnson, in charging the jury left the question open.

"To convict the defendant in this case," declares the court, "it is necessary to show that the danger sign was erected by the 'proper authorities' of the borough of Middletown."

"The act to be performed by the 'proper authorities' is an important one. It is in the nature of a legislative act, the safety, as well as the liberty, of all who use the streets and highways is involved."

Judge Johnson then defines the duties of the borough fathers and the borough constables. "The general duties of all constables," says Judge Johnson, "is both high and petty, as well as of the other officers, to keep the king's peace in their several districts."

And Mr. Myton is a free man. "The borough council and burgess are the legislative body of a borough and they are the 'proper authorities' intended in the act of 1913."

DWELLING HOUSES ARE BADLY DAMAGED

Heavy Tool House Moved. A tool house filled with more than a ton of nails, cement and hardware used by Mr. Moeslein in erecting the house at Riverside, was moved more than two feet.

Along the River road between this city and Dauphin trees were uprooted and in several cases carried several feet by the heavy wind.

This city did not suffer much from the storm although residents of the West End particularly along Woodbine street, reported that their cellars were flooded with from six inches to three feet of water.

At Tuscarora, about 43 miles west of this city, a huge tree was blown down, striking the rear of a cottage occupied by party author, although the tree demolished the kitchen and smashed a stove. The cook had left the room a minute before.

Crops Suffer Slightly. Less than one inch of rain fell, however, in the city, according to measurements made at the weather bureau. The velocity of the wind as recorded was about 20 miles an hour in Harrisburg.

In many places near here hail fell in large quantities, damaging vegetable crops. It is not believed that the fruit or grain was damaged seriously.

"BEULAH" AT THE VICTORIA TO-DAY

To-day for the last time we present "Beulah," a most remarkable motion picture play, in which is featured one of the world's greatest screen stars, Henry B. Walthall, supported by Miss Joyce Moore and a cast of capable players.

This silent drama is a wonderfully acted and elaborately staged production of the heart-grIPPING classic of Louisiana, telling a pathetic story of "Beulah," the daughter of the old South, her sorrows, her heroic struggles and her ultimate triumph in the love of a real man.

"Beulah" is taken from Augusta J. Evans' great American novel of the same name. It is a story of a young and wealthy physician who had married a beautiful girl and gave her the deep love of a real man.

Her performance last evening was a triumph for her skill and daring. Herbert and Dennis are two comedians who get a lot of laughs out of a bunch of nonsense that is made thoroughly acceptable through the cleverness of the performers.

AT PAXTANG PARK

The general verdict of those who saw the vaudeville performance at Paxtang, last evening, is "some show." In fact the bill makes an evening's entertainment that seems to please everyone.

The "Colonial Girls" are programmed as the feature act and they clearly proved their title to the position last evening. The girls present about as classy a singing act as Harrisburg has seen in a long time.

The Clermont Bros. call themselves the world's greatest revolving ladder artists and there was no one who saw their performance last evening who felt that the brothers were not entitled to that distinction.

Harrisburg Lad Nearly Scalped by Revolving Wheel on Uncle's Farm

Special to The Telegraph. Waynesboro, Pa., July 20.—Royce Vinson, a twelve-year-old Harrisburg lad, who is visiting his uncle, Robert Donar, on the U. W. Harshman farm at Shockey's Station, south of Waynesboro, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon.

The little fellow accompanied his uncle when the latter went for a load of straw, and was sitting on the load on the return home. In some way he fell off and struck the wheel. His leg was caught between two spokes of the wheel and he was carried around by its revolution.

As he was swung around to the top of the wheel the tire caught his scalp and tore a piece five inches square, from his head, down over his cheek. The entire side of the lad's head and a portion of his cheek were also scraped by the wagon wheel.

Royce Vinson's parents formerly lived at 923 Grand street. Recently they moved to Seventh street.

A Full Measure of Health is the reward of those who live right and eat right.

And as fresh air, exercise, and good food are the principal factors, it is important that food be selected which contains the essential nutritive elements in well-balanced, easily digestible form.

In making the famous wheat and barley food, the malting of the barley brings out the diastase (the digestive element) while the long 20-hour baking breaks down the starch cells of the grains. Thus Grape-Nuts does not tax the digestion, but actually assists in the assimilation of other foods.

Grape-Nuts

For those seeking the fullest possible measure of health

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts—sold by Grocers everywhere.
