WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so that the emaciated and plotted in the emaciated and properties are stomach sufferers are usually so that the emaciated and properties are stomach sufferers are usually so that the emaciated and properties are sufferers who have been off those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products. I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be or or of the properties of the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid riritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine whenever necessary, but I must adm't that I cannot see the sensed stomach with drugs instead of getting from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Advertisement. #### When You Wash Your Hair Don't Use Soap

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use it just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement. We are publishing it without a change.

New York, May 21, 1915.

Chalmers Motor Co., Detroit, Michigan. Gentlemen:—It seems to me that it would be only fair to the Chalmers Company for me to express my opinion of mykar. I have had it long enough to know it thoroughly. The enthusiasm which goes with the purchase of "something new" has had a chance to tone down a bit, and I can now analyze the actions and the general make-up of the car much better than I could during the first days of my possession of it.

A Buyer's Questions Here are a few things that the buyer of a new car is sure to ask himself: Could I have purchased a better car for the same or a less amount?

Will it make a hit when I "show it off" to my friends? Is there anything about it that looks

Is it comfortable to ride in? Is the engine quiet? Will the self-starter always start? Is it easy to keep going? Will it "ride the bumps?"

How will the local office handle any "kick?" These are not the questions of the technical man nor of the expert automobilist. They are the things that a business man who drives his own car, will ask.

An Owner's Answers

Here are my answers: I consider the Chalmers Car at $1,650. the cheapest buy on the market. In appearance, equipment, make-up, con-struction, power, flexibility, and comfort, it is, to my way of thinking, superior to cars selling at several hundred dollars more. I have had owners of higher priced cars ride with me and every man has expressed his amazement at the ability of the Chalmers Company to put out such a remarkable car at such a very low price.

I never have to show off my car to my friends. They do the talking for me. They say, "Isn't it a beautiful car"—"what fine lines." One of my associates in business One of my associates in business said, "it represents a combination of beauty and evident strength such as I never have seen in any other auto at anywhere near the price. There is nothing cheap about one little item." little item.

Comfort for the Wife

Regarding the matter of comfort in riding, my wife could best answer that question. She selected the left hand side of the tonneau seat as her "place" in the car and from the first ride of a few miles, to one of 625 miles that we have just finished, she has been thoroughly comfortable and declares that even a long ride does not tire

The quietness of the engine is a constant

As for the self-starter, I never saw a better one. It doesn't go off with a loud, grating noise. It does not whirr and buzz, but just slips into action with scarcely a

As I am careful to give the car all the gasoline, oil, water and grease that it needs, "keeps going" every minute. It is far from being a greedy consumer of gasoline and it demands a most moderate allowance

Rides the "Bumps"

Will it ride the "bumps?" It certainly will and does. There is a joy in riding in a car that travels over cobblestones, over rough, rocky roads, over bumpy places, without making the riders bounce up and down like jumping jacks.

And finally, what about the Chalmers service? Well, I know of no way to improve I have not been in need of repairsbut the few little things I have needed have been given such courteous and prompt attention that I can appreciate why other owners give so much praise to the way their requests and complaints are attended to.

During the past month I have made two tours in New England. One covered the cities of Connecticut, the other took in a dozen or more of the Massachusetts towns. I averaged over one hundred miles a day. I drove the car myself.

Never Any Trouble

Not once did I have any real trouble. The tool kit, so far as I was concerned might just as well have been left at home. A little water, an occasional supply of lubricating oil, the filling of the gasoline tank whenever I saw an "attractive" price at a supply station—a screwing up of grease cups—that was all my Chalmers needed.

Think what the possession of such a car means to a business man! Freedom from complications so far as to the operation of the car is concerned. Absence of worry over possible break-downs. The luxury of owning and operating a responsive, reliable, speedy piece of machinery that will take him a hundred or two hundred miles a day, or a few miles through the parkways of his own city. A car that his wife or his child can drive. A car that he is proud to be seen in.

And Always Economical

A car that is economical to operate and which has an established reputation for the way it keeps out of the repair shop. And the business man gets all of this for less than $1700.

Am I to be blamed for being so enthusiastic about my Chalmers? It is a great car and I am glad that I own one. Yours sincerely, E. D. GIBBS, 219 West 81st St.
