

STRIKERS QUIET AT STANDARD OIL PLANT

Sheriff Warns Men First Man Who Shoots Will Be Arrested

PAYDAY DELAYED A WEEK

Fear of Clash Keeps Employees Away From Works of Company

By Associated Press New York, July 23.—Comparative quiet, in marked contrast to the three previous days of the week prevailed in the Constable Hook section of Bayonne, N. J., to-day around the plants of the Standard Oil Company and the Tidewater Oil Company, which have been closed because of a strike of 1,000 men in the Standard Oil Works and the resultant disorder whereby three men were killed and scores injured.

Crowds gathered as usual in the streets leading to the works to discuss the situation but no threatening move was made. Desultory firing occurred during the night but the police said this was chiefly due to some false alarm among the watchful guards. Sheriff Kinkead and Commissioner of Public Safety Henry Wilson said to-day they believed the situation was well in hand and that there would be no need of troops.

Two events set for to-day caused the authorities some uneasiness, however, and they kept a strong force of police and deputy sheriffs on duty. One of these was the funeral of the first victim of the riots, John Strachuk. A church service conducted by the regular clergymen of the vicinity and a procession, it was declared, would not be interfered with, but speeches were barred.

The other matter to cause uneasiness is the fact that it is payday at the works and it was thought some of the men might go there to collect wages and their approach might incite shooting and disorder. Sheriff Kinkead, in order to avoid possibility of trouble, asked the strikers' committee to defer their payday for a week and said that if any of the men were in distress and needed their money, he would personally try to collect the money. The committee members said they would present the sheriff's offer to the men.

Sheriff Kinkead invited the strikers' committee, which is headed by Jeremiah J. Daly, to police headquarters and besides discussing the pay proposition asked them to strongly counsel the men to avoid further disorder. He appealed to them, for the sake of homes and families, to keep men off the streets. He said he believed the strike could be settled without further bloodshed and he hoped for their hearty co-operation, which was promised.

"I want to warn the strikers through your paper," he concluded, "what I have instructed my deputies to arrest the first man who fires a shot."

VARE SUPPORTS HIS BROTHER FOR MAYOR

Senator Gives Out Statement Holding Congressman Is Well Qualified For Office

Philadelphia, Pa., July 23.—Interest in the situation with reference to the next candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor of Philadelphia was heightened to-day when Senator Edwin H. Vare issued a statement in which he gave the reasons he advanced at the recent majority conference in Atlantic City why his brother, Congressman William S. Vare, should be considered as a candidate.

Senator Vare enumerated all the various interests he said were allied against his brother four years ago when he was a candidate for the nomination and added that most of these interests are now for the Congressman's nomination. Continuing he said:

"I assured those at the meeting that the name of William S. Vare as a candidate for mayor, would be a full guarantee that every efficient city employee of the four thousand who were dismissed under various pretexts, in the last four years, would feel certain of reinstatement."

"It would seem that with all the big improvements that are contemplated under the next mayor, it is honesty, thorough knowledge of contracts and contractors, and familiarity with public men and needed improvements, are the main qualifications for the office."

The recent conference in Atlantic City, attended by Philadelphia Republican leaders, considered more than fifty persons for the nomination and eliminated all but eight. It was announced at the time that the leaders were seeking a candidate who would have the support of all elements within the Republican party for the nomination.
