

WIFE'S LIFE ESTATE IN COURT OF EQUITY

Edgar C. Neely Begins Unique Proceeding to Determine Whether He May Share Income

Equity proceedings were begun today in the Dauphin county court by Edgar C. Neely, Newville, against Albert H. Hamlet, Jr., and Harry L. Daugherty, children of Hamlet and Emma S. Daugherty, of this city, to have a master in petition appointed to dispose of the estate of the Daugherty's and incidentally to determine the question of whether or not the surviving husband of one of the heirs is entitled to the income of his dead wife's life estate.

By the will of Hamlet Daugherty, dated February 18, 1909, the property at 1011 North Second street and all the personal property was left to his widow Emma. After her death Hamlet provided that the property should go to the daughters Alberta and Mary E. Daugherty and that in the event of the death of either, the surviving one was to have the dead sister's share. It was further provided that Alberta should be the executrix and that she should inherit the funds in the Pennsylvania Savings fund and the city school bonds. Harry and Frank Daugherty were each to get $500 and Paul Reese Daugherty was to have $100. Mary E. died, however, and now Neely, whom she married, wants his wife. He asks that the partition be made by a master appointed by the court and that the income of his dead wife's life estate be apportioned.

They are hammering especially hard upon Ivangorod, where the Teutons' guns are declared to be playing on the railroad line which runs through Lublin and Chelm.

TERRIBLE ITCHING AND BURNING

On Body, Limbs, Face and Between Fingers. Couldn't Sleep. Mass of Scales.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"A rash broke out on my body and it got on my limbs and face and even between my fingers. The itching and burning feeling was so terrible and also the pain. At night I couldn't sleep for the itching and burning. My whole person was a mass of scales. Then a friend told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment which I did. Just as soon as I used them a little while I began to feel better. At night I would put the Cuticura Ointment on, then I would wash with Cuticura Soap, and after using them a little over two months I was healed and I have now good skin like velvet." (Signed) Mrs. A. Hopkins, 1230 Wallace St., Philadelphia, Pa., March 11, 1915.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS ELECTRIFICATION INCREASES IN COST

Main Line Improvement Will Not Be Ready August 15; Short Wires Too Weak

Special to The Telegraph Philadelphia, July 24.—Present indications are that the electrification of the Pennsylvania main line between Paoli and Philadelphia will not be ready for service before August 15. Officers are much disappointed over the delay, which is proving rather costly. The total cost to date is $4,000,000. Delay is costing the railroad nearly $1,000 a day in extra charges and the cost of new wires and installation, it is said, may swell the total loss to more than $100,000. The short wires holding the lower or contact wire to the upper or power wire did not meet requirements. They were lacking in tensile strength, and in the first practical demonstration several hundred broke. Then began the work of installing the heavier supporting wires over the four-track system. Scarcity of the special type of wire caused further delay, but officials of the road expect that within a few weeks the defect will be completely remedied.

Traffic passing Lewisport Junction during the period amounted to 68,303 cars, an increase of approximately 2 per cent. over that of a year ago.
