

DIVES, POMEROY AND STEWART FOLK HAVE MERRY TIME AT HERSHEY PARK

Dives, Pomeroys, Stewart, etc., Hershey Park, Hershey, Pa., July 30, 1915.

AMUSEMENTS

PAXTANG PARK
This week's vaudeville bill at Paxtang Park will be headed by Joe S. Willard and Harry Bond in a laughable military satire entitled, 'The Battle of Bunco Hill, a travesty on the battle of Bunker Hill. They carry a complete stage setting representing a battlefield, fortifications, tents, guns, swords, telegraph apparatus, cannon, uniforms, etc., in fact every detail pertaining to war. This act comes directly from New York City, and was especially engaged for the park theater. Messrs. Willard and Bond have been seen at the park before this season in a comedy sketch that was a great success. Another act on this week's park bill that Manager Davis has deemed worthy of a return engagement is the Cuban Trio, novelty ball rolling and balancing acrobats. The two played the park early in the season and were a real sensation. McCowan and Gordon, two well-known musical comedy stars will be seen in a classy singing comedy stunt entitled, 'Two in One. The Minstrel Kids, known as the singing and dancing lilliputians and Sittich, a Japanese who presents an oriental novelty act will complete the park program. Another grand fireworks display is announced for Wednesday evening and a varied pyrotechnical program is promised. Previous fireworks displays at the park have been of such quality that the mere announcement of fireworks at the park, is taken by the public as a guarantee of a first-class evening's entertainment and a big crowd is assured.—Advertisement.

VICTOR MOORE IN "SNOBS" AT THE REGENT

To-day and to-morrow Jesse L. Laaky presents Victor Moore in "Snobs," at the Regent. The role played by Mr. Moore is that of Charles Disney, a milkman of no pretensions whatsoever, who suddenly finds himself the sole heir to the title and vast estates of an English Duke. This convulsing comedy is not without a romantic element. In fact it is this romance which solves the difficulties of the "Dook." A strikingly novel and interesting feature will be shown at the Regent the last four days of the week. This is "Hypocrites," a photoplay written and directed by Lois Weber. The play deals with hypocrisy in a daring and original manner but with all Miss Weber's well-known artistry and delicacy. One of her inspirations for the story was the painting by A. Faugeron, "The Truth," now in the Paris Salon, a painting which has caused more discussion than any of late years. In "Hypocrites," scenes similar to that conceived by A. Faugeron are reproduced and we see how the Mirror of Truth pierces the thin veneer of hypocrisy and reveals men and women as they really are. Courtenay Foote is featured in the all star cast.—Advertisement.

SURVIVED GAS FUMES

HENRY LA PIERRE
HENRY LA PIERRE, CHAZY, N. Y., who served in the Thirteenth Battalion of Royal Highlanders of Canada, is back at his home, after surviving the gas fumes at the battle of Ypres, where the Germans turned loose the latest war device, poisonous gases. La Pierre arrived in this country on the liner St. Paul, after being discharged from the British army at the request of Ambassador Page. Practically the entire regiment, La Pierre said, was mowed down by the deadly gas bombs of the Germans. He said he crawled for 150 yards under the heavy clouds of yellow gas to the French trenches. Those of his comrades who perished from the gas lingered for three or four days in dreadful agony before succumbing. Of his battalion of 1,000 men only 15 were left after ten minutes of fighting.

JOHN K. SHRYOCK DIES

Veteran of the Paper Trade and Editor of Stories For Children
Philadelphia, Aug. 2.—An illness of more than two months terminated yesterday in the death at his home, No. 1414 North Bouvier street, of John K. Shryock, the oldest man in the paper trade of this city, aged 90 years. He was born in Chambersburg, his father having been a pioneer paper-maker in the Cumberland Valley, and when a young man he conducted the famous old Chambersburg Academy. For more than 20 years he conducted the Papyrus Mills, at Middle Springs, but since its destruction by fire in 1898 he had been engaged in the paper board trade in this city. Though blind for the past 14 years, Mr. Shryock kept in close touch with his business and found time to translate and publish several volumes of stories from the German for young people, and was for years superintendent of the Lutheran Publication Society. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and two daughters survive him. His body will be taken to Chambersburg for burial on Wednesday.

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 2.—The International Motor Car Company, which has looked orders for more than 1000 motortrucks for shipment to Europe, issued an announcement of a 20 per cent. increase in wages and an eight-hour day. The announcement states distinctly that the increase is a "war bonus," effective at once and payable at the end of each month. The company says it has perfected a fine organization of efficient and willing employees and will give the war bonus as an appreciation of their loyalty. The company employs 600 men at Allentown, where most of the machinery for the trucks is made, and a like number at Plainfield, N. J., where they are assembled. The orders on hand aggregate $5,000,000.

Rockefeller Pays $75,000 For Aphrodite Statue

New York, Aug. 2.—John D. Rockefeller has purchased for $75,000 one of the most noted art mysteries of modern times, an Aphrodite attributed to Praxiteles, which caused a furor of admiration and a tempest of criticism during its exhibition in the National Arts Club here in February and March, 1905. Foreign advices state that this statue has been sold in London, cleared through the American consulate general there for shipment to New York, and probably is now on its way to this city. It is described as the Montalvo Venus, but is identified beyond question as the mysterious golden-tinted marble Aphrodite of amazing loveliness which connoisseurs warred about ten years ago.

ENEMY AGAIN REPULSED

Rome, Aug. 1, via Paris, Aug. 2, 2:30 a. m.—The War Office to-day made public the following official statement from Italian army headquarters dated August 1: "In the valley of San Pellegrino (Aviso) on Friday the enemy renewed in greater force his attack, which had failed on the 28th against our occupation of Costa Beta. Notwithstanding the support of artillery posted in the neighborhood of Ohmert Pass, the enemy's columns again were completely repulsed.

Coke Workers Awarded Prizes For Gardens

Connellsville, Pa., Aug. 2.—Vegetables valued at $10,850 were raised in the gardens at two plants of the H. C. Frick Coke Company in Fayette county, according to the committee of officials who to-day completed the annual award of prizes to coke workers and their families. Of this amount $8,150 was grown by gardeners at the Leisenring plant where sunflowers were planted to support vining beans and only two of the 165 backyards in the colony were not cultivated. Boy Scouts had one of the best gardens, and George Orr raised a fine crop of strawberries on ground that three years ago was the floor of a stone quarry. Another notable feature was found in cabbage patches where the smallest heads weighed six pounds. Equal success was attained as the Adelaide plant where the first prizes were awarded five years ago. Then forty per cent. of the lots in the colony were cultivated. The awards to-day covered 99 per cent.

WHERE TO FIND NATIONALLY ADVERTISED GOODS
The World's Best Merchandise In and Near HARRISBURG, PA.
Merchandise that will bear national advertising has to have exceptional merit, else the manufacturer could not afford to spend large sums of money for the advertising, and to attach his name and reputation to an article that was not extraordinarily meritorious, for it is the repeat sales that he depends on. It is therefore quite evident that when an article is nationally advertised and nationally sold, year in and year out, year after year, it is exceptionally good goods to stand the test and prove worthy of continued sales and growth. It is conceded by experts that when an article is advertised generally—nationally—it is the best possible product. The wise always, in consequence, prefer nationally known goods and ask for what they want by name. Read the magazines and keep posted on nationally advertised goods.
