Make this a Glad Summer for Your Baby

Make him glad with quiet nights and cool days, with plenty of sleep and with good health and laughing eyes and round cheeks and little hands that dimple at the knuckles. Make the bow mouth smile. It's so easy—you can laugh at hot days and hotter nights if you give your baby the food that will help him fight the summer heat—give your baby the food that has saved so many thousands of babies in the last forty summers.

When your own breast milk begins to get thin, give him one feeding a day of

because Nestié's is nearest to mother's milk. Then add another feeding un-til at last the baby is entirely weaned on Nestle's Food. Don't make the summer days heavy for the little one by making him drink cow's milk— from dirty dairies—cow's milk that brings summer complaint and even consumption to our babies.

Give your baby Nestle's—made from the best cow's milk from sanitary dairies, purified and modified so it contains just what your baby needs. Nestle's comes packed in a tight tin box—where no fly can touch it. You add only fresh water—boil sand it's ready. Nestle's is always fresh and pure and clean—no thunderstorm can affect it, and it is right for the most delicate little stomach.

Send the little coupon for a can of Nestle's (enough for 12 feed-ings) and a book by specialists full of things you should know about caring for your baby.
