BULLETIN BORES BOLE TO 1ST CORINTHIANS

Evangelist Aiding in Testament Distribution Says Book Saves Souls and Bodies

Philadelphia, July 31.—Charles M. Alexander, singing evangelist and partner of the Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, who passed through this city on his way to Northfield, said thousands of British soldiers were carrying pocket Bibles as they went to the front. The evangelist boasted that the Pocket Testament League, which distributed the Scriptures, "would evangelize the British army, both at the front and at home." The league was organized in Philadelphia in the course of the Chapman campaign.

Bodies as well as souls are being saved by the pocket Testaments, in proof of which Mr. Alexander shows a New Testament pierced by a German bullet. This book was hit while reposing in the pocket of a British soldier in a trench in Flanders. The steel pellet plowed through 400 pages, stopping at First Corinthians. This Testament saved its owner's life.

Since the war began Mr. Alexander has devoted considerable attention to distributing Testaments among Kitchen's soldiers. The plan is to have every recipient sign a pledge card signifying his willingness to carry the Testament always and read a chapter each day. Mr. Alexander spent two months in the main camps in Salisbury Plain, in which time 9708 soldiers joined the league and 2600 declared their acceptance of Christ. "Tell Mr. Alexander that Jesus Christ is able to keep me, even in this mouth of hell," was the message sent by the evangelist by one British soldier from Hill No. 60, in Flanders, where the Allies were fighting desperately to hold the Germans in check.

A Dramatic Conversion The evangelist in Flanders, who, while walking along a trench, saw a private reading the Gospel. "Do you believe in that sort of thing?" remarked the officer. "I don't." "Well, you should believe in it, sir," answered the soldier. "You ought to be interested, not only for your own sake, but for your family." The officer walked on, but had not proceeded far when a shell dropped into the trench. Turning, he saw the head of the soldier he had been addressing fly from his shoulders. The officer was now dead and his knees and hands were clasped in prayer.

Returning home on leave of absence, he got into the train at the Harrisburg Station and returned to his home in the Pocket Testament League, and when he returned to France he carried 200 Bibles for the league. The pocket shell killed two officers who had been converted and seriously wounded others. Mr. Alexander says that since Italy went to war he has distributed many Testaments. Thousands of pocket Testaments have been distributed among Russian soldiers in Petrograd and agents of the league are working among the Australian soldiers in Egypt.

121 VACCINATED QUINCY ORPHANAGE

Members of Staff, Old People and Children Subjected to Treatment on Account of Smallpox

Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 7.—One hundred and twenty-one persons were vaccinated at the United Brethren orphanage and Old Folks' Home at Quincy yesterday, because of the illness of Mrs. Anna Everson, a matron there with the smallpox. A mess, ninety-seven were children in the orphanage, seven were members of the orphanage staff, and seventeen were inmates of the Old Folks' Home. A peculiarity of the old Folks' Home people is that twelve of the twenty-nine there have had smallpox.

The vaccinating was done by Dr. John H. Kinter, county health officer, and Miss Florence Matthews, the district nurse.

Dr. B. F. Royer, State medical inspector, of Harrisburg, who quarantined the place, will have charge. The condition of Mrs. Everson is very encouraging and it is believed that she will recover.

Lebanon Police Try to Identify Mystery Youth

Lebanon, Pa., Aug. 7.—Lebanon police and hospital officials are at their wit's end in seeking to solve the mystery surrounding the presence here for the last nine days of a young man, who, although able to speak intelligibly, could not give his name. He persists in declaring that his mind is a complete blank with respect to his own identity. He is a youth of about 18 years, of good manners and clothes without any marks of identification except a girl's gold bracelet bearing the inscription "Will to Claire," a Junior Order of American Mechanics pin and a triangular pin, evidently a class pin, with a large "A" and the initials V. W. G. inscribed on the back.

The youth, whose clothing was free from travel stains, wandered out of the Hartman farmhouse, near Anville, in a dazed condition. He was thought to be ill, but the doctor found him sound in mind and body, except for a complete loss of memory. The presence of a loaded revolver on his person was made an excuse for turning him over to the Lebanon police, who sent him to the City Hospital on learning his condition. The "mystery youth" has blue eyes, wavy brown hair, clear skin and wears a blue serge suit with the name of a Fen Yan, N. Y., business firm.

Suspected Spy Is Under Arrest at Catasauqua Catasauqua, Pa., Aug. 7.—Catasauqua last night and to-day had a German spy scare, and while no serious results followed, it had some foundation in fact. For several nights a stranger has been seen lurking about the plant of the Bryden Horseshoe Works, which ever since the outbreak of the war has been making horseshoes for the Allies. He is reported to plant a number of times, and always sneaked back after having been chased out. Eventually the conviction grew that a spy was about, and he arrested he was making hurried sketches of some of the machinery, which forms the basis of the company's manufacturing ability.

Chief of Police Sheckler was informed and he arrested the man as he was about to board a train. At the police station he surrendered his sketches and confessed he was William Downs, a member of the Burden Iron Company, of Troy, N. Y., rival manufacturer of horseshoes. He was held in $500 for a negotiable bond and returned to his home in Troy. Downs went on the bond.

If Your Practice Were--

The churches are inviting you weekly to attend church services, because they know what a powerful force the church can be in your life. They invite you to be in attendance of services, for therein you can best unloose the bonds of your soul, and allow it to communicate with your Maker.

If your practice were to go to church every Sunday would it be the churches or yourself who would derive the greater benefit? The church is your institution, and if you do not heed her call and invitation; it will be a matter for you to answer.

Every church unites in inviting you to services on Sunday; not for what it means to them, but for what it will bring to you, to your nation, to your fellowman, to the great cause of Christianity which our Saviour commanded should be preached to all the world. By going to church you will be discharging the first step of your share in that command.

MR. F. WEBER AND HIS BAND DID VERY WELL

Geniality of Weather Man, Too, Helped Take Record Crowd to Concert at Reservoir

After teasing quite a lot of Harrisburg music-loving folks throughout the day with his indecision as to the weather, the weather man at last relented handsomely and turned out a mighty nice concert evening for the Commonwealth hand program at Reservoir Park. The concert was provided by the Harrisburg Light and Power Company. Did the folks respond to the genial spirit of the weather man? They did. The biggest crowd of the summer heard such a program as Conductor Fred Weber had mighty good reason to be proud of.

In selecting his numbers for last evening's concert, Conductor Weber went himself just a few better than in previous occasions, perhaps, and in responding to encores he behaved like a prospective candidate for some city office.

Much might be said 'tis true of the record numbers but it was surely in the encores that the band did itself more than proud. Of course Mr. Weber and his band played "Tipperary," "The Girl on the White Horse," "The Rose Tree," and "The Girl on the White Horse." The crowd wanted it just once more—and they got it. Thus a new record for things done at Reservoir was established.

Brother of Harrisburger Escapes Germans and Returns to British Lines

Word has been received by John L. Price, Thirteenth and Sycamore streets, who is fighting in the English army, that he was captured by the Germans, but later escaped and succeeded in reaching the British lines with valuable information.

Leonard, the brother, writes that after he was captured by the Germans near Ciermont, Belgium, he was held in front of a German soldier as a shield while he retreated. His motorcycle was commandeered and during his period of captivity he was forced to teach a German corporal to ride. During this time he was allowed the freedom of the fortress, and made a sketch of it for the British.

For his bravery in rescuing Charles Emanuel, aged 9, 1117 Wallace street, from the Susquehanna, June 7, Sammy Sherman, of 419 Herr street, a newsboy, has been awarded a medal by the British Purina Hero Commission of St. Louis.

Sammy's friends in the Harrisburg Newsboys' Association are planning a big celebration at which the medal will be pinned on the young hero. It is planned to have Mayor Royal preside at the presentation.
