Hot Weather Fatigue

not caused by the heat.

With the digestion good and the body functioning properly, hot weather seldom bothers.

Grape-Nuts

is an ideal hot weather food. It's a body-builder—delicious, highly nourishing and easily digestible.

It's made of whole wheat and barley and contains those mineral salts, found under the outer coat of the grain, which are essential to well balanced daily rebuilding of body, brain and nerves.

Grape-Nuts will coax the sluggish appetite. And it's always ready to serve—a boon during the hot months.

DAUPHIN POOR BOARD WANTS NORTHUMBERLAND TO PAY

Dauphin county's poor board has asked the Northumberland county poor authorities to pay the bill for maintenance at the local almshouse for aged Mrs. Louisa Barch. Mrs. Barch came here from Milton several weeks ago, the poor board declares, while suffering from erysipelas, and because she was too ill to travel farther and there was no other place to place her she was taken to the almshouse. After an investigation it was discovered that Mrs. Barch had been confined for some time at the Northumberland county almshouse at Milton, but left there to come to Harrisburg. The Northumberland poor board denied that it had tried to shift the responsibility for Mrs. Barch by sending her to this city, but pointed out that she was given a ticket because she wanted to chew tobacco and smoke at the poorhouse.

WAYS OF CORCERERS ALIKE THE WORLD OVER

A Korean named O Pongmun went to Chinampo recently and murdered a "sorceress" named Yi Hongwon and injured more or less severely her mother and two brothers. Hethen surrendered himself at the Chinampo police office. O Pongmun, we learn from the Seoul Press, has been suffering from some disease for the past few years, and the coroner told him that the cause of the disease was due to the anger of the gods and could be cured only by prayers to the gods. He was superstitious enough to believe in her story, and paid her substantial fees for offering up prayers, with the result that he at last became penniless. Meanwhile his illness gradually became worse, and he discovered too late that he was being cheated. Mad with resentment, the unfortunate man paid one more visit to the woman, whose sorcery was unable to save her from her dupe's murderous fury.
