

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

—Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Why Weak Nervous People Should Take Iron to Build Them Up

Stimulants and Narcotic Drugs Worse Than Useless Says Dr. E. Sauer, Author of Medical Articles on Public Health

Contrary to general opinion, a weak nervous condition is always dangerous. Without iron, your blood soon loses its oxygen-carrying power and can no longer purify itself, in consequence of which poisons accumulate which weaken both your body and brain, make you extremely nervous and irritable, pale and anaemic, often cause fits of great despondency, and undermine all your vital organs, leading to the development of dangerous diseases which have landed many a man and woman into an unending grave. In such cases it is worse than useless to take stimulants and narcotic drugs, which "pick you up" for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. What you need is a true blood food—iron. "A man of blood and iron" has always been synonymous with great power, showing that for centuries physicians have well known and prized the great value of iron. The only trouble has been that the older forms of iron often upset the stomach and were so difficult to assimilate that they usually actually got into the blood, but with late discoveries of newer preparations of iron all this trouble has been removed. Nuxated Iron, for example, is easily assimilated and does not disturb the stomach; on the contrary, it aids digestion. Two five-grain tablets taken three times per day after meals will quickly put renewed health and vigor into any weak, nervous man or woman and give you the kind of strength that stays there. E. Sauer, M. D. Note: The publication of the above article is authorized by the Garfield Public Health Laboratories. It is desired to instruct people to become strong and healthy without the use of dangerous drugs and stimulants which are so often taken to "brace one up." Upon inquiry it is learned that Nuxated Iron is carried in stock by Kennedy and other leading druggists in this city.—Advertisement.

McCLAIN HITS AT THE QUARANTINES

Sharply Criticizes the Manner in Which the Federal Government Handles Things

People at the Capitol to-day read with much interest an article written by Lieutenant Governor Frank B. McClain, president of the Lancaster Livestock Exchange, in his "Weekly Cattle Market," on which he scores the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry and the Federal Department of Agriculture for the restrictions placed by them on the handling of cattle.

He asserts that these restrictions have proved a "gold mine" for the so-called "Beef Trust," and have caused a great loss to the cattle raiser, feeder and butcher. Mr. McClain says in part:

"The attendance of buyers for butcher cattle at the Lancaster market this season has shown a decided falling off, which is traceable to the quarantine regulations that went into effect with the coming of the foot and mouth disease last November and which more or less rigorously have been maintained since that time. Butchers who slaughtered their own cattle because of the difficulties experienced in getting them to their home ports during the first five or six months of quarantine regulations, were forced to patronize the dressed beef houses operated by the Chicago packers. These packers, in the habit of doing so naturally, are somewhat loathe to return to their original custom, until after quarantines entirely are removed and transactions in live cattle can be conducted in a normal way.

"And this suggests the thought, and it is a thought that to-day is in the mind of every cattle dealer, every cattle feeder, every independent packer and every individual butcher throughout the land.

"That it is high time that the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry and the Federal Department of Agriculture abrogate some of the restrictions in the handling of live cattle that have worked to the advantage of the big packers and to the disadvantage of cattle raisers, cattle feeders and local butchers, whether individuals or organized. The foot and mouth disease, aided by Federal regulations for its control and extinction, furnished a veritable 'gold mine' for that aggregation of big operators sometimes called 'the Beef Trust.' And, at the same time, worked disaster to the business of the 'little fellow.'

"A great many people are beginning to inquire whether present quarantine restrictions, many of which have become ridiculous, are to be continued to the great loss and disadvantage of those most concerned, simply to furnish employment for the annual horde of 'veterinarians' that are being turned out by the various schools and colleges. In every stockyard these days there are almost as many veterinarians, paid out of the public treasury, on duty as there are carloads of cattle on sale."

Submersible Warship to Be Weapon of U. S.; Plans Are Submitted

A warship of the destroyer type carrying a battery of heavy guns and torpedo tubes, and which can be merged like a submarine, is not beyond the realms of possibility and will be part of the world's navies in the near future.

This was the opinion expressed to-day by experts of the New York Shipbuilding Company and the William Cramp and Sons Ship and Engine Building Company in discussing the plans submitted for such a boat to Secretary Daniels by Lieutenant Commander Charles F. Courtney, United States destroyer O'Brien.

Courtney is well known among Philadelphia shipbuilders. He has been stationed here at various times and is in charge of construction of vessels for the navy. His knowledge of warship construction is said to be wonderful, and as a student of the work of men in the navy excel him, according to his friends here at the shipyards.

Pope Benedict Will Make New Peace Appeal

Rome, Aug. 10, via Paris, Aug. 11.—Pope Benedict has determined to make a new appeal for peace, according to the newspaper Roma, which declares that the Pontiff is resolved to use every means within his power to bring about the desired result. He will ask the help of the episcopate and, the newspaper asserts, is even considering the convocation of a universal council of the Church of Rome.

The Roma, which does not give its authority, asserts it has been informed that the Pope will forbid all representatives of the church in belligerent countries, under pain of excommunication, from offering prayers for victory, from asking blessings for the combatants or even administering the sacraments to those responsible for a continuation of the war.

The same newspaper claims to have information to the effect that the Pope has made a personal appeal to the President of the United States, the President of Switzerland and of the Central and Southern republics as well as to the Kings of Spain and the Scandinavian countries asking them to join with him in an effort to obtain at least a truce preparatory to the opening of peace negotiations.
