WEST VIRGINIA IS STUDYING METHOD

State Officials Here to Observe the Way Dr. Dixon Handles Health Problems in State

West Virginia State Health De-partment officials are making a study of the methods of the Pennsylvania Department of Health with a view to incorporating them in the new system of public health supervision that has been established in their commonwealth. Dr.

C. A. Weirich, chief of the division in charge of communicable diseases, is spending a week here studying the procedure and work of the division o medical inspection as established by Commissioner of eHalth Samuel G. Dixon, recent outbreaks of smallpox and other diseases having afforded a means of making first hand observaand other diseases having afforded a means of making first hand observation of methods.

The West Virginia authorities will also make a study of the sanitary enginering work of the Pennsylvania Department and also make some observations in what the State has done in the Erie flood.

Four Commissioners Here. — The Public Service commission has been holding its hearings with four commissioners this week, ex-Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker being at his home, while William A. Magee has been at Pittsburgh because of the death of his brother.

Fourteen Arrests. — Fourteen arrests have been ordered in Western Pennsylvania by the State Dairy and Food authorities because of adulteration of vinegar and other frauds turned up in the recent tests. The arrests were ordered in Allegheny, Bearver, Lawrence, Erie and Washington counties.

Remember This When You Go Jewelry-Buying

This store has just taken another progressive step that is far-reaching in its benefits to you.

By invitation, it has become a member of the Jewelers' Co-Operative Syndicate—an organization comprising huadreds of reputable jewelers throughout the country - with main offices in New York city.

Instead of going into the market and buying in small quantities to fill individual needs, these hundreds of jewelers lump their requirements into one enormous quantity.

Through the tremendous purchasing power thus enjoyed, lowered costs and the cutting out of the middleman's profits are natural results—that means less cost to you.

But that is not all.

A close personal touch is kept with all manufacturing centers and first hand knowledge is had of the very newest ideas in jewelry of all kinds, silverware, etc.
