IS THERE MUCH IN A NAME, MR. J. BULL?

Byron Shultz Isn't Going to Take Chances When He Visits Friends in Canada, Anyway

Whether or not there is anything in a name may be a question that is open for much argument, but Byron E. Shultz, a conductor, 2232 North Sixth street, has his own idea about it.

He's had that opinion ever since his wife returned from a recent visit to Niagara Falls.

That J. Bull may or may not kick up a fuss about some sons and daughters of his friend, Uncle Sam, if they bear a German name, Mr. Shultz isn't sure, but he isn't going to take any chances when he takes his wife to Colburn, Canada, just across the lakes from Erie on a little visit a few weeks hence.

Mr. Shultz expressed himself to that extent this morning when he called at the city clerk's office and asked Assistant Clerk R. Seaman just what steps he should take to equip himself with necessary papers to prove that he is really a citizen of these United States and a taxpayer of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and so forth.

Asks Court Clerk's Advice. Mr. Seaman referred him to Attorney Frank Snodgrass, clerk for the Federal court for the middle district of Pennsylvania and the latter forwarded Shultz's request for passports to the State Department. It is understood that at least one other similar case has been called to Mr. Snodgrass' attention.

Shultz said to-day that his determination to be properly fortified against the inquisitiveness of Canadian officials grew out of Mrs. Shultz's experience on the road over the Gorge Belt trolley line that includes a section of Dominion.

And much to her astonishment, when she reached the Canadian side a kindly disposed fellow passenger told her to advance her name, as she might not be permitted to get off the car.

ate employment of so-called "trade bureau" will give advice of any kind desired, but of doubtful value, for a little money. Despite the rainy weather the luncheon was largely attended.

Announcement was made at to-day's luncheon that United States Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, one of the most prominent men in the Senate and very much in the public eye at this time, will address a membership luncheon of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce at the Harrisburg Club on Monday, Aug. 16.

His subject will be "Some of the Relations of Government to Business." To-day's speaker said in part:

"The great European war has provided a wonderful opportunity to United States Commerce and to American businessmen. It has opened the eyes of the American manufacturer and merchant to the possibilities of foreign trade."

"America for many years has done a large export trade, but when in the past the majority of the export has been of raw material, things have changed and a daily increasing quantity of manufactured goods are leaving the country."

"The American businessman with few exceptions has been asleep and now that the opportunity has come to him instead of him going after it, is prepared to do it."

"Financial houses in New York and in other cities of the United States are now working feverishly in order to make New York city the financial center of the world and make the exchange take the place of the well tried and up to the time of the war always reliable Pound sterling exchange."

"Need Qualified Men. Another point on which we were not prepared was in the way of duly qualified men to handle the business."
