HOUSEHOLD PETS NOT TO BE TAKEN UP

Attorney General's Department Gives Opinion on Operation of the Alien Dog Law

The act of the last Legislature prohibiting unnaturalized foreign-born residents from owning dogs is not to be construed so as to include household pets and children's puppies, according to an opinion given to Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, by Horace W. Davis, Deputy Attorney General. The enforcement of the act is placed upon the Game Commission and notices were given in various languages of intention to carry it out. These notices resulted in so many protests against enforcement of the letter of the law that the commission asked for a ruling. It having been represented that it would take from many homes valuable pets as well as result in the removal of many worthless curs kept by people who did not take proper care of them and which were allowed to roam at large.

In the opinion Mr. Davis reviews the act of June 1, 1915, and points out that it is similar to the alien gun law of 1909. The impression given by reading of the acts is that the possession of dogs would be unlawful when it was intended to use them to hunt, he holds, quoting from an opinion of the Superior Court:

"We would advise that the use, or intended use, of a dog owned or possessed by an unnaturalized foreign-born resident is not material in the conviction under the act of 1915. The only question of fact upon which a justice of the peace has to decide is whether the defendant is owner or possessor of the dog."

"This act was directed to that class of residents of this commonwealth who are, to a greater or less extent, unfamiliar with our language, our customs and our laws. To allow them to possess the instrumentalities for the destruction of game or other wild life would be merely encouraging them, at least, permissibly, in a more serious infraction of the game laws of the State. For that reason the act was drawn to prohibit the possession by such persons of hunting or such other dogs as were liable to injure or destroy game or other wild life.

"Such an act must necessarily be broadly drawn in order to permit the correction of the evil sought to be remedied. Acts so drawn frequently by their phrasology cover facts which were never intended to be covered by them. This act was not intended to authorize a constable or other officer to go into a foreigner's home and take a lap dog or a child's puppy and arrest the owner of the house. The utmost good sense, as well as fairness and honesty, are essential in the enforcement of this act. Game wardens and other officers of this State should be cautioned that this act must not be used as a means of oppression or senseless prosecution, but that it should be enforced in all cases where it is really intended to apply, and in these only, and not for the purpose of mulcting fines and costs from foreign-

SECOND BRIGADE HIGHLY PRAISED

General Logan Speaks of the Fine Spirit Among the Militiamen of the Western End

General A. J. Logan, commander of the Second Brigade, said yesterday in Pittsburgh that the annual encampment of the brigade at Indiana, just ended, was the most successful in the history of the brigade. He said:

"Many new features were introduced. In the first place, 90 per cent. of the enrollment of the brigade organizations attended the camp, the men returned to their homes in much better physical condition than when they left, and they certainly knew more about modern warfare. Modern machine gun firing and trench digging, with illustrated lectures and moving pictures, lessons in aeronautics by Aviator W. S. Luckey, of the Aero Club of America, track and field meets and boxing exhibitions all made the encampment entertaining and instructive for the men.

"Lieutenant W. B. Loughborough, of the machine gun company of the Third United States Infantry, who lectured on machine gun firing at the camp, said the brigade was well informed on things military. The United States army officer stationed at the camp to instruct the men on methods of sanitation said that Company E, Tenth Infantry, erected the most perfect kitchen he had ever observed, including his observations of regular army camps."
