KEEP AMERICANS OFF ALLIES' SHIPS--BRYAN

Few Reckless Citizens Should Not Drag U. S. Into War, Says Former Secretary

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 23.—William J. Bryan, former Secretary of State, last night gave out the following signed statement:

"I have read the editorial opinions concerning the sinking of the Arabic, as those opinions were reproduced in Saturday morning's papers, but they seem to me to avoid the most important question. The real question is not whether American citizens have, under international law, a right to travel through the danger zone on the ships of belligerent nations. That is admitted. The question just now is whether an American citizen should put his convenience or even his rights above his nation's welfare. If American citizens refuse to consider their own safety or the safety of the nation, then a second question arises, namely, whether the government should permit a few persons to drag the country into this unparalleled war.

"Our government has made its protest and there is no doubt that the position taken is abundantly supported by precedent, but that does not necessarily mean that we are going to war. Diplomacy has not yet concluded its work, and even if diplomatic efforts fail we have recourse to the treaty plan, which must be resorted to in case of disputes with Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia, and should be resorted to before going to war with any other belligerent nation.

"If the treaty plan fails we still have a choice between entering this war and the postponement of final settlement until peace is restored. In the meantime it will be well to think of the thousands who would be sacrificed if we enter this war; these brave men are certainly entitled to consideration as well as the few who by entering as well as the few who by deliberately incurring unnecessary risks bring harm upon themselves and danger to their country.

"It is time for the unneutral portion of the press of the United States to lay aside its bias and unite in helping the President to keep the country out of war.

"The pro-allies papers are insisting upon war with Germany for the benefit of the allies, and pro-German papers are insisting upon an embargo on Germany and ammunition for the benefit of Germany. These two groups of papers would join together and urge measures to restrain American citizens from going into the danger zone of belligerent ships, and prohibiting American passenger ships from carrying arms and ammunition—if they would do this, they would aid in preventing war and in reserving for our nation the priceless opportunity to act as peacemaker when the time for peace arrives."

PALMER ACCUSED OF GIVING INFORMATION

leged by the World to be "M. P." named in the correspondence. Mr. Palmer last night denied that he had given any information to the German Government or its agents. Secretary Lansing is said to have talked with "M. P." and that later this information reached German agents.

Talked With "M. P."

The World fixes a period from July 19 to 23, inclusive, as the time within which the President must have discussed with the mysterious "M. P." the German situation if he discussed it at all. The World further gives a list of the President's visitors during that period. Among the persons named by the World are former Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Harrisburg, Pa. Mr. Palmer, last evening in a statement given to a representative of the Philadelphia Press, from his home in Stroudsburg, denied emphatically that he ever had any conversation with the President as detailed in the World story. He also denied that he ever knew John Simon or Legal Agent Levy, the men who made the report upon which the World bases its allegations.

The correspondence of the World is copyrighted, and therefore may not be reproduced.

Mr. Palmer said "the whole thing looks to me like a cock and bull yarn. I have heard about this thing before and the matter contained in the Simon conversation, therefore does not surprise me."

"So far as I am concerned I never have had any connection with the German Government in any way, nor with its agents so far as I know. I do not know the man who is named as John Simon, of the firm of Simon and Brother, New York, cotton brokers, neither have I any recollection of any legal agent named Levy."

Says He Saw the President

"It may be that I did see President Wilson on July 22. In fact, I probably did see him about that time. I certainly did not discuss with him anything remotely resembling the implications related in the Simon-Levy report.

"I do not believe that Simon or Levy or whoever made this report intended to refer to me. The whole thing so far as I am concerned, at least, is unworthy of serious consideration."

COMPACT HAND TRAP MADE FOR "PIGEON" THROWING

For the use of the sportsman who enjoys target shooting, a compact hand trap for throwing clay pigeons has been brought out which is easily carried and provides endless opportunities for unusual trap shooting. It is built of metal and fitted with a heavy spring which actuates a lever arm, hurling the targets in various ways, providing "climbers," "skimmers," "jack rabbits," "winters," or whatever is wanted. The weight of the device is 8 1/2 pounds, while its size allows it to be carried in a suitcase, handbag, or special case, as is most convenient. The device is described with illustration, in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

CINNAMO BUNS

Four cups flour, half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cream of tartar and one teaspoon baking soda, sifted together. Rub in two-thirds cup lard. Mix in one cup sweet milk to make a very stiff dough. Roll very thin. Mix a teaspoon of ground cinnamon with one teaspoon sugar and spread over the dough, with English currants or not as liked. Press well into the dough with rolling pin, and then roll up the dough tightly into a roll. Slice off half an inch thick, with a sharp knife. Lay in rows in pan and bake rather quickly to a light brown. Add a little Farm and Home, is good either hot or cold, with coffee or tea.

OATMEAL CRACKERS

Over one cup dry oatmeal pour one cup boiling water. Let stand ten minutes and add half teaspoon salt and four tablespoons lard. Mix together one and a half cups flour sift one teaspoon baking soda and one teaspoon cream of tartar, if preferred. Mix the two, turn onto a floured board, and roll very thin. Cut into rounds, brush with lard and sprinkle with salt. Bake in a quick oven to a light brown. Be careful they do not burn, according to directions in Farm and Home.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AND MARY PICKFORD AT THE REGENT

Charlie Chaplin, in his latest release, "The Bank," in two reels, will be shown at the Regent to-day and to-morrow. This is a scream from beginning to end. Don't fail to see it.

Another great attraction for these two days is Mary Pickford in "The Dawn of a To-morrow," Paramount, in five reels. Mary Pickford is the world's foremost film star and Harrisburg's favorite, "The Dawn of a To-morrow," the world-famous story of a young girl's unflinching faith and its triumphant ultimate reward. Mary Pickford portrays the weird and wonderful character of Glad, the beautiful and ragged girl of the London slums.

Wednesday and Thursday—"The House of the Lost Court," a dramatic adaptation of the novel by Mrs. C. N. Williamson, in five parts.

On these two days will also be shown the Picnic at Hershey Park given by Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart for their employees. Come and see yourself in the movies.—Advertisement.

MISHAP TO STEAMER REPORTED

Paris, Aug. 23, 5.30 a. m.—Rumors of a mishap of a channel steamer on a voyage from Folkestone to Boulogne are being circulated widely in Paris. Apparently they originated in the fact that passengers from England who were due in Paris last night did not arrive. Railway officials had a report that the vessel met with an accident and returned to Folkestone where the passengers were transferred to another steamer.

BRITISH SCHOONER SUNK

London, Aug. 23, 1.03 p. m.—The British schooner Martha Edmonds, 1820 tons gross, and owned at Fowey, has been sunk. Her crew was landed.

HOW FORMAL ENTRANCE TO TWELFTH STREET PLAYGROUNDS WILL LOOK

Actual work on the new formal entrance to the Twelfth street playgrounds will be started next week by a gang of graders under direction of Commissioner Taylor, of the park department.

The entrance, as shown above, will be laid out much like the vestibule of a house except that there will be brick columns at the gateway with a square enclosure inside. Evergreen hedges will fence in the square and benches will be placed inside. In the exact center of the small plaza will be placed an attractive concrete "bubbler."

Money for the erection of this pretty park entrance was raised by several of the most prominent colored residents of the city as a memorial to Dr. Jones. Graders are expected to complete their work by the latter part of next week and it is probably that the entrance will be completed before the Municipal Improvement celebration.

UNION LEADERS ON TRIAL

By Associated Press

Boulder, Colo., Aug. 23.—Five mine union leaders charged with the murder of Pit Stanef, a miner in a strike battle at the Hecla mine April 23, 1914, were to go on trial in the district court here to-day. The Hecla battle was an incident in the rioting through the Colorado coal fields after the Ludlow battle April 20, 1914.

OUR FLAG

Fling forth its folds and let them float From north to south, from east to west; All honor to the stars and stripes That keep a nation free and blest.

Lift up the flag and let it wave, Its color symbols clear and true—Red for the love and sacrifice, For faith and truth the white and Blue.

Unfold the flag and lift it high, It speaks a nation without fear; For loving justice, right and truth, Our fathers set their imprint here.

Fling forth the folds and let them float, And while the Old World bleeds to-day, We in the New will grasp the staff And for our banner war and pray.—Annette M. Stubbs, in Farm and Home.
