City Council formally made this pos-

City Council formally made this possible this afternoon by unanimously adopting the Taylor and Bowman ordinances providing for the installations in accordance with the plans suggested by the Harrisburg Light and Power Company.

Both measures permit the city to pay for the installations in five-year instalments. Fifty-four standards will be placed on the wall this year by the Taylor ordinance at a total cost of $9.581.50. These lights will be kept burning during May, June, July, August, September and October. During the winter months they will be removed in order to safeguard them

Mr. Taylor Takes First Steps to Motorize City's Whole Fire Department

City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, superintendent of parks and public property, this afternoon took the initial steps toward placing before the people the question of whether or not Warrisburg's entire for a construction. arrisburg's entire fire department buld be motorized.

The question was embodied in an or inance offered in council which if passed, will give the people a chance to vote in November upon the problem of floating a $60,000 loan to buy additional motor driven apparatus.

Ir offering his measure, Mr. Taylor said that the few motor driven machines the city now owns have proved \lim_{W} that the cost of maintenance can be cut down by substituting motor apparatus for the horse drawn vehicles.

Edward Adams Instantly Killed by Passenger Train On Railroad Near Carlisle

Special to The Telegraph Carlisle, Pa., Aug. 24.—Edward Adams, 54 years old, employed on the farm of Horace Cornman, near Bonnybrook station on the Gettysburg and Harrisburg branch of the Reading railroad, about four miles south of Carlisle, was instantly killed by a passenger train near his home about 8 o'clock this morning. Mr. Adams was slightly deaf and it is thought he did not hear the approach of the train. He was rolled a considerable distance and his head and body were crushed and one leg cut off. He was walking on the track between stations when struck by the train. Two daughters live at Harrisburg.

Details Surrounding Loss of Arabic Lacking

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C., Aug. 24. — Detailed official information surrounding the destruction of the White Starliner Arabic with the loss of two American lives still was lacking today. Officials, however, continued their efforts to get the facts necessary to enable the United States Government to base a course of action upon. Further dispatches were looked for from Ambassador Page at London giving a summary of affidavits obtained by him from American survivors and also word from Ambassador Gerard as to whether he had received a report from the German Government on the sinking of the Arabic. 2,000 Homeless Face Shortage of Supplies

St. Louis, Aug. 24.—Two thousand residents of Valley Park, Mo., made homeless when the 25 foot rise of the Merimac river flooded the town with 10 to 15 feet of water, to-day faced a food and drinking water shortage which threatened to result disastrously. Twenty-five truck loads of food were rushed to the flood refugees from suburbs of St. Louis yesterday but this was consumed before the night was over. A committee of St. Louis businessmen is planning relief.

The flood waters receded six feet last night. Valley Park was still without light and to-day the factories gave no hope of early employment to 10.000 homeless and unemployed men. Two railroad bridges at Edwardsville, Ills., near here, collapsed last night after withstanding the onrushing flood of water for two days.

Campaign Against Grade Crossings Has Been Launched With Considerable Vigor

Members of the Public Service Marietta, Ga., Aug. 24. — Without Commission were to-day formally being able to elicit from any one of called upon by Chairman W. D. B. the eleven witnesses a single clue as to the identy of any person connected with the lynching of Leo M. Frank near this city last Tuesday morning, a coroner's jury to-day returned a verdict that Frank came to his death by hanging at the hands of parties unknown.

City and county officials declare that they have endeavored diligently to get at the facts of the lynching but so far their efforts have been of not avail.

"Of course, you know these things are kept pretty close and are hard to find out," said Mayor E. P. Dobbs, of Marletta.

Deputy Sheriff Hicks and City Marshal Looney stated they were working hard on the case but at this time could throw no light on the identity of the parties who participated in the lynching.

The nearest disclosure as to what happened in the Oak Grove near the Frey gin came from J. A. Benson, a Marietta merchant, who drove by the place soon after the lynching party had parked its automobiles by the roadside and had led Frank to tree where death awaited him.

Mr. Benson said he had a "pretty good suspicion" as to what was going on but he did not stop to see it, and he did not recognize anybody in the party.

The text of the jury's verdict was as follows:

The letter issued by the chairman is as follows:

Harrisburg, Pa..

August 24, 1915.

To the Public Service Commission of The Comonwealth of Pennsylvania: Gentlemen of the Commission:
I desire to lay before you formally and as a part of the general program of grade crossing investigation, protection and elimination, to which the Commission has by resolution turned its attention, the suggestion of the Governor with respect to the Lincoln Highway, over which there are thirty-six steam railroad crossings at grade. It is the desire of the Governor, expressed to me on Saturday, August 21st, that these crossings be made the subject of investigation by the Commission, in order that the conditions surrounding each of them may be promptly determined, and that thereafter such steps be taken as may be warranted under the authority of the act constituting the Public Service Commission, and may be proper in the light of the results of such investigation.

I have directed the Chief of the Bureau of Engineering to make a preliminary field examination and engineering report, in order that there may be laid before the Commission, when it re-assembles September 7th, full information as may in the interlim be secured, and I have also directed the Chief of the Bureau of Accidents to submit such information as he may now have or may secure.

ALLISON HILL WOMAN SAYS ACCEPTED DATA ON CITY'S FOUNDING IS "ALL WRONG"

MRS. ANNA MACDANIELS

An original and unique biography of John Harris and history of the founding of Harrisburg is now being rushed to completion after five years' toil by Mrs. Anna MacDaniels, of 1417 Market street, who claims she is a direct descendant of the illustrous trader.

While Mrs. MacDaniels is adverse to making all her findings public, she asserts that she has facts and figures to prove that the accepted theories of the founding of the city are "all wrong." "Why there are scores of the descendants of Harris living in this city, unaware of their relation to its founder," she said this morning.

It is understood, however, that the older residents of the city, who are well versed in the history of the city's founding, discredit Mrs. MacDaniel's views on the subject.

Declares Strongly in Favor of Renomination of Superior Court Judge Orlady

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh has come out with an unqualified endorsement of his friend from boyhood days, Superior Court Judge George B. Orlady, who is a candidate for renomination. Before leaving late yesterday afternoon for San Francisco to attend the Pennsylvania Dayexercises the Governor declared that he hoped the judge would be renominated and promised a statement of his personal interest. This was given out to-day in the following form:

orm:

"I am interested in the re-election of George B. Orlady to the superior court of Pennsylvania because of my long acquaintance with him and my high regard for him.

"I believe his record in that position amply justifies every friend of justice in Pennsylvania in giving to him his support at the coming primaries and at the Fall election.

"It has always been a source of

ACTION WILL BE DELAYED

State Department Is Willing to Wait Reasonable Time For Official Report

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C., Aug. 24 .- Gernany, through her ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, to-day asked the United States not to take a final stand on the sinking of the White Star liner since the disaster. Count von Bernstorff telegraphed the State Department to-day, saying

In view of the ambassador's request, the State Department can do nothing but wait a reasonable time for word from Berlin. Ambassador Gerard has been instructed to watch for a report, but has not been told to ask for one. The German ambassador's request today indicates that one soon may be volunteered.

Meanwhile the State Department is gathering evidence from all other sources to supplement what it already has but considers too fragmentary to be of full value. When some word is received from Germany the government's action will be decided. The result of this latest development in the situation is to delay any forward movement a few days longer.
