

TV COBB CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Champion Batman of American League Has Played Wonderful Path of Fame

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26. — Tyrus Raymond Cobb, often referred to as the greatest baseball player in the world, to-day celebrated the tenth anniversary of his debut as a major league player.

Cobb's path of fame which he blazed for himself has probably never been equaled in the history of baseball.

On August 26, 1905, a tall, nervous-looking boy of 19 years from the Augusta, Ga., club in a class league named a Detroit club.

Only once in these ten years has the mighty Tyrus been replaced by a pinch hitter.

Cobb has always played right or center field. Only one day during his Detroit career did he perform elsewhere.

He acted as volunteer second baseman, and Cobb, as was the manager Jennings, admitted after the game that the infield did not lose anything when the Georgian's first manager made an outfielder of him.

Thin Men and Women

DO YOU WANT TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG? The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract properly assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This preparation is called Sargol and is much remarkable because it is given as a successful use in flesh building. Sargol, which comes in the form of a small, non-injurious tablet, taken at meals and mixing with the digesting food, tends to prepare its fat, flesh and muscle building elements so that the blood can readily accept and carry them to the starved portions of the body. You can readily picture the transformation that additional and previously lacking flesh-making material should bring with your cheeks filling out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappearing and your taking on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh. Sargol is harmless, inexpensive, efficient. George A. Burgess and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and are authorized to refund your money if weight increase is not obtained under the guarantee found in each large package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advertisement.

"THE CLIMBERS" AT THE COLONIAL To-night is the last opportunity for the movie fans of the city to see "The Climbers," the great social drama photoplay featuring the Colonial program yesterday afternoon, to-morrow and Saturday the headliner at the photoplay house de luxe will be Frank Daniels, the great actor who plays the part of "Crooky," a comedy of errors in five reels. "The Climbers" is a fast moving drama dealing with society life and high finance. George Soule Spencer and Gladys Hanson are seen in the principal roles. The story preaches a powerful sermon on the full of tense situations and gripping action. When the storm clouds of the heroine's troubled life clear away the bubble of frenzied finance has broken and all is over except happiness for her and the one man who really loves her. Frank Daniels, in "Crooky Scruggs," the headliner for to-morrow and Saturday, is said to hold the record for the New York Morning Telegraph. Daniels is a New York Crooky Scruggs, a convict who escapes an escape identical with that of Colonel Bob Roberts, a wealthy rancher, on his first trip East. As Bob Roberts he is entrusted with the care of the fortune of Bob Roberts' nephew, a Wall Street broker, who is mostly "broke." Susan Dough, a comedy character, is the heroine of the play. Finally the real Colonel catches up and Crooky goes back to his quiet cell. The play is a comedy of errors in society are, needless to say, excruciatingly funny. Every scene is full of laughs. The pipeorgan concerts at 2 to 5 and 7 to 11 at the popular Third and Market street photoplay house, are making Herman Yeager the talk of the town's musical circles.—Advertisement.

FIREWORKS AT PAXTANG The fireworks display at Paxtang Park, this evening, if carefully prepared, should be a success. The fireworks expert who has charge of the exhibition has been on the job for two days. Special attention will be given to a new line of aerial stuff and some good features in the way of bombs and rockets may be looked for. The show at the park theater this week is well worth the price of admission. The program includes "The Avenge Conscience," in six reels, founded upon Edgar Allen Poe's thrilling story, "The Tell-Tale Heart." The newspapers have unanimously pronounced it to be a most remarkable achievement.—Advertisement.

Boy Horse Thieves Have Confessed to Many Crimes

Special to The Telegraph Gettysburg, Pa., Aug. 26. — Frank Burns and Raymond Reinhold, the 16-year-old horse thieves that were apprehended by Chief of Police Emmons and Officer Smiley here led quite a career before reaching Gettysburg. In a confession it is said that Reinhold collected $29 when he delivered a C. O. D. package in Philadelphia, on which he made a trip to Atlantic City and met his "pal" Burns. While at the shore they operated sneak thieving at several hotels and collected loot consisting of two rings, a scarf pin, a watch and two dollars in cash. From there they went to Lancaster and added another ring to their booty. Their next place to operate was at Carlisle, where they obtained a pocket-book, belonging to a landlady of a place where they stopped to get a meal. At a hearing before Justice Hill they were held for court.

Electric Equipment Is Safest For the Home

"Safety in the home is first in the housewife's thoughts; after safety is secured she then sets about to make her work efficient and to practice economy. Safety is not less a scientific endeavor than to save money and promote comforts in the home." These words of Mrs. Frank A. Pattison, manager of the Household Experiment Station of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs, lends new emphasis to a report just issued which shows that during the past year more than 1,000 children died as a result of eating the tips of matches. Matches caused $30,000,000 damage by fire during the same period. The same report states that less than 2 per cent. of all the fires are caused by electricity. Electricity's advantages in the home begin with safety first; then comes health, control, comfort and convenience. Next to safety from accidents comes health. The illuminant absorbing the least amount of oxygen is undoubtedly the best. As the electricity is generated in the big power plant at high pressure, it certainly isn't a play toy—neither is steam at high pressure—but as it reaches into the home it is quite harmless. New ways of using the mild electric current supplied to homes are being invented every day. Tiny wires now light up the Christmas tree, festoon the porches and gardens and remove the dangers of fire ever present in the oil lamp and the candle. The electric appliances once introduced in the home brings a host of little electrical servants who never take "days off" and who get paid when they work.

HOW TO BE SLIM

By Winifred Grace Forrest If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at on account of your fat, but go to any good druggist, and get a box of Koren capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body. It costs little, is absolutely harmless and I am sure a week's trial should convince anyone that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unsightly fat.
