Three Easterners and One Player From West Remain For Semi-Finals Today

breaking battles which resulted in the defeat of Detroit's star survivors were sparkling incidents yesterday in the third round of match play for the national amateur golf championship. Three easterners and one winner from the West are left to compete in the semifinals to-day.

Max R. Marston, of Springfield, N. J., and Howard B. Lee, of Detroit, claimed a double distinction. They played the poorest golf, but took part in the longest and most desperate match. Marston, after seemingly beaten on the home stretch, came up from behind and wrested victory from his opponent on the thirty-eighth hole. James D. Standish, Jr., of Detroit, stier being far behind Sheril Sherman, of Utica, compelled the New Yorker to play thirty-six holes before the latter won 1 up.

Robert A. Gardner, of Chicago and Yale, former national champion, gave Ned Sawyer, of Wheaton, Ill., a fearful beating—the count being 7 up and of the first ten still and Pell and Bull.

Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans, lost to John G. Anderson, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., 3 and 2.

The semifinals to-day will bring together Gardner and Marston in what is expected to be the feature match. Anderson will oppose Sherman. The Utica man, "dark horse" of the tournament, will have his first opportunity to compete in a contest of national interest.

Rochester Uses Up Three Harrisburg Twirlers, Winning Easy Victory

Harrisburg's Indians played too hard in the first game yesterday with Cincinnati. They had no "pep" in the game with Rochester that followed, the Hustlers winning by a score of 9 to 6. Al Schacht was the only local twirler who had anything to show in the way of puzzlers yesterday.

The Cardinal said afterward that the President was greatly gratified. He made the important announcement that the message he delivered to the President was for the United States alone and was not communicated to any other neutral nation.

While the terms of the Pope's communication are not disclosed and there is no authoritative statement as to its effect upon this government, it may be said that the United States will not undertake to make overtures to all or any of the warring powers unless it is assured in advance that its mediation will be acceptable to every great nation concerned.

In this connection, it is learned that the government knows that Great Britain and probably the other members of the quadruple alliance would regard as unfriendly any effort of the United States to attempt peace negotiations at this time.

For this reason, in addition to its own decision to follow a policy of caution, it may be taken for granted that if neutral persons desire to initiate a peace movement at this time they must not look to the United States to act as the active peacemaker.

We have revolutionized the clothing business here; clothing of ordinary merit could not have made this possible.

We know that we give the greatest clothing value in the world at anywhere near the price, and for the coming season it is great in quality, great in style, in appearance, in workmanship and great in service, and doubly great in the guarantee that covers them, that puts your money back in your pocket without any "ifs" or "ands," if you are not perfectly satisfied.

Were we to advertise and tell you all we know about $10 WONDER SUITS, and tell you the exact truth what we think and know of their intrinsic worth, we would overshoot the mark, in fact you might question our varacity. It is therefore far better that you visit the Wonder Store and find out their real value for yourself.

The profit on a $10 WONDER SUIT is amazingly little but the accumulated profit is made up by selling a customer season after season for a number of years; in other words, it means volume.
