

Big Night School Opening Monday Evening Sept. 6th

Our Night School will open Monday evening with a splendid enrollment. You can avail yourself of the opportunity to learn shorthand and Typewriting, or Bookkeeping. Expert instruction in Penmanship will be given to those desiring it, with either course, without additional cost.

Just What You Want

We have arranged a course in English consisting of Spelling, Arithmetic, English and Penmanship. There are many young people, whose education has been more or less neglected, who will avail themselves of this splendid opportunity to get a better knowledge of these subjects. Our night students are employed during the day, consequently they are earning while they're learning.

How to Save Money

You earn, learn and save money while taking a night course. Instead of following places of amusement to waste away the time, you improve your education and save money. Night students will be admitted Monday, September 6th, and Wednesday evening, September 8th; thereafter, Monday evenings only. The school is in session Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7:15 to 9:15.

May Raise the Tariff to Build Up Dye Trade

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—The Washington administration will probably take steps that will give American manufacturers who use dyestuffs and chemicals relief from the embarrasments that have confronted them as a result of the suspended shipments of such products from Germany. In normal times Germany practically holds a monopoly in the sale of dyestuffs and chemicals, and the United States, as well as other countries, has grown accustomed to depend upon this source of supply.

Police at Loss to Know What to Do With Woman

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 4.—Police officials and the public prosecutor today were at a loss as to what action, if any they can take against Eugenia De Forest who was arrested to-day on a charge of posing as a man. The prisoner's story presented one of the strangest cases of dual sex presented to local officials and medical circles in many years. Eugenia De Forest to-day told her story, of how she posed as a man for twenty-five years. "I have always been dual sexed," said the prisoner. "I have always been torn between attachments for my women friends and attachments for men I have known. While I have the body of a woman at times the thoughts and characteristics of a man seemed uppermost. When I was young, I married J. H. Hart, a New York newspaper man. He knew my secret, but insisted I be married. We were very happy until his death some years ago. "Then I came to the coast, where I dressed as a man. I married Margaret Horton Hawley. She proposed to me, and when I told her there were obstacles to prevent our marriage, she waived them aside. She soon tired of the marriage and we separated. "I have wronged no one. If I am ordered to, I will again wear woman's clothes. "The police to-day said they were doubtful if they could successfully prosecute the prisoner. Medical circles are deeply interested in the case, and several prominent physicians are said to be discussing plans to help the woman.

New Magazines at Fort Mifflin Are Proposed

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—Contracts for the erection of four magazines at Fort Mifflin, which will increase the ammunition storage facilities of the post and make it one of the most important on the Atlantic coast, have been awarded to Charles Gilpin. They will cost $60,000. The enlargement of the fort is in line with the policy of the Navy Department to develop the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Fort Mifflin is a necessary adjunct. Practically all shells and powder for battleships, those of the first line and of the reserve fleet, are stored at Fort Mifflin, which is situated west of League Island. One of the buildings will be a re-forming plant, 40x60 feet, in which shells will be primed. Another will be a "shell house," 50x200 feet. The others are magazines and storerooms, of which the dimensions will be 100x50 feet.

REV. MARSHALL IS RETIRED BY BOARD

Serves City School District 30 Years; Dedicate Shimmell Bldg. Thanksgiving Day

The Rev. William H. Marshall, one of the first two colored graduates of the local high school and for years pastor of the Wesley A. M. E. Zion Church, was formally retired last evening by the School Board as an instructor on the city's teaching staff. The Rev. Mr. Marshall had been principal of the Calder building. For thirty years he had faithfully served the district and particularly the colored youth of the community. During the last few years, however, his health has been very poor and his physical condition, in fact, was the reason for his retirement. Mr. Marshall and John P. Scott got their high school diplomas in 1883, the first colored youths of the city to receive them. The Rev. Mr. Marshall's retirement required the following changes:

Mr. Scott from the sixth and seventh grades, Wickersham building, to the principalship of the Calder building; J. Henry Williams from the third grade, Wickersham building, to the school vacated by Mr. Scott; Clara E. Reed from the fourth and fifth grades, Wickersham building, to the school vacated by Mr. Williams; Ida E. Brown from the first grade, Wickersham building, to the school vacated by Miss Reed; Emma C. Miller from first and third grades, Foose building, to the school vacated by Miss Brown; Mary L. Grant from the first and second grades, Downey building, to the school vacated by Miss Miller; Jane Blalock from the substitute list to the school vacated by Miss Grant. Examinations permitting, the following girls will enter the teachers' training schools: Lena Marcus, Alice E. Rankes, Leah F. Klavens, Hope Eyster, Lenore S. Pritchard, Blanche L. Minnie, Helen S. L. Shuey, Margaret E. Kline, Margaret Smith, Esther H. Shultz, Ida F. Hoffman, Claudine Melville, Clara May Bittner, Hazel Meekley, Kathryn Gamble, Mary Strop, Estelle R. Wagner, Helen E. Broomall and Ivy Ruth Frisvold. Lighting systems and fixtures for the new Shimmell school building will not be selected by the School Board until the effects and results of the installation of some sample systems are tried out. This was decided by the board last evening and it instructed President Harry A. Boyer and Architect C. Howard Lloyd to take charge of the matter. Several proposals for fixtures ranging in prices from $52.33 to $1,875 were received. While no definite action was taken last evening, the dedication of the new Shimmell building was discussed and it is probable that the exercises will be held Thanksgiving day. The use of the Technical high school was given Professor F. E. Shambaugh, county school superintendent, for institute purposes September 8. Professor Howard G. Dibble, the new principal of Central high school, met with the board last evening. He wants a new room for the teachers fitted up.

Corn, "Doggies" and Apples Roasted at Camp Weasel

Dauphin, Pa., Sept. 4.—Herbert Springer, Richard Hamer and Anson Devout, three Harrisburg boys, were camping above town at "Camp Weasel," entertained a party of friends from Harrisburg last evening. The crowd, who were chaperoned by Professor Frank Roth, of the High School faculty, and Miss Roth, hiked from Dauphin or came in automobiles. An enormous bonfire was built, where corn, "doggies" and apples were roasted. "Three Deep," "Farmer in the Dell," ghost stories, and other games were played. The show included: Misses Mary Roth, Dorothy Hellman, Martha Miller, Marian Marz, Katharine Peters, Gertrude, Dorothy Duncan, Agnes Hess and Sabra Clark, Professor Frank Roth, Frederick Lyster, Paul Parham, Kenneth Patterson, Clarence Cooper, Herbert Springer, Anson Devout and Richard Hamer.

Thief Loses Good Watch in Stealing Little Paint

Lewisport, Pa., Sept. 4.—Samuel R. Hull, contract painter, made a profitable deal with an unknown thief. Hull is doing a job for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in painting the old brick hotel at the Junction, and when he had completed the day's work he left his paint cans in the cellar. In the morning when stirred up the paint, he noticed he had lost one of the buckets. Pouring the paint out into another can Hull found a watch valued at possibly $30. Hull missed considerable paint from one of the cans and his head is that some fellow stealing the paint dropped his watch into the can without noticing the loss.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Orpheum

MISS MARGUERITE DEVON

Prima donna, with John C. Fisher's Globe Theater, New York, production of the musical comedy success, "The Red Rose," at the Orpheum Theater, Thursday, September 3.

"DADDY LONG LEGS" "Daddy Long Legs," which comes to the Orpheum Friday and Saturday, September 10-11, has been described by many reviewers as "a comedy that breathes the spirit of youth." It is a tender love story built around a quaint little Cinderella in real life, Judy Abbott, the whimsical young heroine, begins life as a founding girl in an orphan asylum. Her life is lightened by vivid day dreams in which she fancies herself a student in a girl's college with plenty of pretty frocks to wear, money to spend and all the other delightful blessings that fall to the fortunate girls who live in the unknown world beyond the walls of her asylum-home. The three big acts of "Daddy Long Legs" tell her dreams come true through the reckless generosity of a modern Prince Charming. Naturally, a subsequent romance between Judy and her mysterious benefactor provide the scenes of exquisite sentiment that give the play its irresistible charm.—Adv.

AT THE COLONIAL

EDWIN ARDEN

In "The Eagle's Nest" at the Colonial to-day. Herman Yeager, Harrisburg's talented organist, is winning a great deal of praise by music-lovers through his rendition of popular and classical music on the Colonial's superb pipe organ. Mr. Yeager is at the organ from 2 to 5 and from 7 until 11.—Adv.

MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE

Just the kind of a vaudeville show that always makes a strong appeal to vaudeville fans is the one that is appearing at the Majestic right now. Excellent music, pretty girls and riotous comedy are blended in the offering and the respective artists are unusually clever in their line. One of the "girls" musical comedies that the management has been announcing to appear during the new season makes its appearance on the new Majestic bill on Monday. The act is called "Beaux and Belles" and it has pretty girls aplenty, several good comedians, attractive scenery and elaborate scenic and wardrobe divestment. The act appears for three days only and the management is warning admirers of this type of a vaudeville attraction to get to the Majestic early. McCloud and Carp, two men presenting a top-notch piano and violin act, and Patricia and Meyers, breezy couple in songs and sparkling repartee, are two others of the attractions booked for the first half of the week.—Adv.

THE CLOSE OF PAXTANG

To-day will be the last of the summer vaudeville season at the Paxtang Park theater. Some excellent shows have been given at the park playhouse this summer and the one that week may be classed with the best of them. The Milan Opera Troupe is a most excellent and amusing act. Few headliners have been as well received by the park audiences as this one has. They are obliged to respond with two or three encores at every performance. Henry Bachelor, a clever comedy musician, and Tom Ural with his wonderful trained dogs are two other acts on the bill that materially help toward putting the park show in the class with the best in vaudeville. The two free hand concerts by the Tyrone Band at the park theater on Monday afternoon and evening will finish the park season. All seats in the theater will be free and an excellent concert program with an imposing list of special soloists will be given.—Adv.

"HELP WANTED" AT THE REGENT

To-day is the last day to see "Help Wanted," featuring Lois Meredith and Owen Moore, Paramount in five reels. "Help Wanted" handles in a striking way the startling fact that many employers, who would probably be on their best behavior in a girl's home, for some reason regard her as fair prey when she enters an office as an employe. It is a drama of the humiliations that lie in wait for anybody's sister. Monday and Tuesday Daniel Frohman presents Clyde Fitch's powerful drama, "The Moth and the Flame," with a famous players cast. The presentation of this great emotional drama shows all of the realism of life itself. It contains all of the elements of the "stage success." The poor little moth is blinded by the flame until she cannot see the fatal perils threatening her.

Just on the verge of her great error her vision returns and with the result an extinguishment of the flame the moth sees her danger and is saved. "Beaux and Belles" and it has pretty girls aplenty, several good comedians, attractive scenery and elaborate scenic and wardrobe divestment. The act appears for three days only and the management is warning admirers of this type of a vaudeville attraction to get to the Majestic early. McCloud and Carp, two men presenting a top-notch piano and violin act, and Patricia and Meyers, breezy couple in songs and sparkling repartee, are two others of the attractions booked for the first half of the week.—Adv.

LABOR DAY AT HERSHEY

Miller's Jubilee Singers will be the special attraction Monday, September 6, at Hershey Park theater. It comes highly recommended, having played many return engagements at Central Park, Allentown, and Island Park, Easton. These colored entertainers depict scenes from the South before the war in which they introduce a grand chorus of Southern melodies, plantation scene, Uncle Ephraim's return, Aunt Chloa and the pickaninnies who entertain Uncle Ephraim by their plantation songs and dances, introducing Rufus Rastus, the hottest dancer on the plantation, the jubilee quartet and closing with a grand ensemble, "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground." The opera and vaudeville during the summer season, it was decided to give a different class of entertainment, and a school day was set for this special attraction.—Adv.

Businessmen in West May Get Touch of Army Life

Kansas City, Sept. 4.—Businessmen of the Greater Mississippi Valley are to have the same chance to qualify for army positions in case of war that was given at the recent camp at Plattsburg, N. Y. Captain Charles M. Gordon, regular army officer assigned to reorganize the Third Regiment, has received a circular from the War Department announcing such a camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., near Chicago, September 20 to October 17. The camp will be under the direction of regular army officers, who will drill all businessmen attending in the rudiments of military tactics, and conduct a school that will qualify natural leaders to take charge of men in case of the calling of a volunteer army requiring such services. A Charge of Fifty Cents a Day The men attending will have to furnish their own uniforms, and will pay fifty cents a day, which will cover the cost of feeding them. The government will supply all other necessary equipment and will give businessmen between the ages of 18 and 45 years a schooling in drilling, strategy, and the necessary hygiene and sanitation knowledge that is an important part of army life.

LABOR and PROGRESS

☐ The great wheels of Progress must turn perpetually.

☐ Slowly or swiftly, their speed is governed by the hand of Labor; for Labor is Power.

☐ Working unseen, unrecognized for ages, Labor has made world-history. It has sanctioned the rise of nations; it was material for the welfare of Humanity.

☐ When Labor shirked, dark ages replaced bright periods of civilization and prosperity.

☐ To-day, this same great brawn and brain Power works constantly, and vehemently.

☐ To-day the World recognizes Labor because Labor stands for Progress.

☐ If rightly directed it will bring Contentment to men, women and the home—to nations, Prosperity—to the world, PEACE.

☐ This store will honor Labor Day by remaining closed all day Monday.
