Woman Jailed Finds Husband in Next Cell
Special to The Telegraph
 Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 7.—"I went down there to look for my husband," was the excuse given by Mrs. Ida Reed in police court for her presence in a room adjoining the Horse Shoe bar, where she was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.
 "Where was your husband?" asked Acting Police Judge Hackett.
 "Why, I found out all right," said Mrs. Reed. "When they brought me into the jail he stuck his head out of another cell and said 'Hello.'"

Mine Workers to Demand Big Increase in Wages
By Associated Press
 Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 7.—Several hundred delegates were in attendance to-day at the opening of the tri-district convention of the United Mine Workers, the chief business of which will be the formulation of a new wage scale which is to be presented to the coal operators prior to the expiration of the present agreement on April 1, 1916. The principal demands will include a wage increase of from 20 to 25 per cent.; an eight hour day; a system of adjusting disputes "which will make for expediency" to supplant the present conciliation board, and complete recognition of the union.

Motorcyclist Hurls Boy From Bicycle to Road and Then Speeds Away
 Hurling from his bicycle when struck by a motorcycle with a sidecar attachment along the Hummelstown pike near Paxtang, last evening, Clyde Gahrman, aged 12, sustained severe lacerations of the scalp and cuts and bruises of the body. He is in the Harrisburg Hospital.
 A man in the sidecar, according to witnesses was injured as blood was seen flowing from his head as he was thrown from the machine sped away. Operator of the motorcycle, Gahrman, was pedaling toward Paxtang when the motorcycle, witnesses said, came speeding down the pike on the wrong side of the street and crashed into the boy, hurling him home with John Stair, a Paxtang dairyman. The Hummelstown pike is being used as a speedway nightly by automobilists and motorcyclists, residents of Paxtang say and they have been powerless to stop it.

A house party was given by Miss Erna Henry at the Wood Haven. Those in attendance were Miss Ruth Hunsberger, Miss Nina Ruth, Miss Erna Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood, of Philadelphia; Messrs. Ralph Geringer, Stanley Shupp and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruth.

AMUSEMENTS

COLONIAL TO-DAY—"THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES"
 Of the many big feature photodramas that have been shown at the popular Colonial Theater, no film play has created more interest with Harrisburg audiences than the Selig class production of Meridith Nicholson's novel "The House of a Thousand Candles" which is the headliner for to-day. This interesting film play follows closely the characters and characters of Mr. Nicholson's quaint novel which has for its central character and characters, old John Glenarm, a recluse who forced his son to marry the girl he wishes him to marry by making a will that he must find the million dollars that he has secreted in his strange manor. The old man dies in the early part of the story and the next to commence the search for the hidden treasure. After an elapse of a year the elder Glenarm appears as healthy and happy as any of the characters in the story and he is brought to a happy ending by old Glenarm bestowing his fortune on his son and the winning of the right girl by young Glenarm. Herman Yeager at the pipe organ, renders a special and a musical program while two clever comedians keep the audience in a good natured mood.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY THE COLONIAL will represent to the feature, the Fox Film Corporation's six part masterpiece, "Dr. Rameau," a photodrama of romance, thrills and action dramatized from George Ohnet's famous novel and will be seen with an excellent cast of screen favorites headed by the noted star, Frederick Perry.—Advertisement.

MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE
 It's a holiday bill that delighted big audiences at the Majestic theater yesterday, and which will remain there for the first half of the week. A delightful "girlie" musical comedy called "The Beaux and Belles" holds the coveted position. The show starts at a very interesting pace with Marie Hart, who in company with Billy Hart, were great favorites at the Orpheum last season. Then Webb and Burns, two men who do a piano and violin act, and who were very popular there, appear. Many of yesterday's audiences remembered this clever duo and they were given quite a reception as soon as they appeared. Their appearance, their act proved so successful that they were forced to exhaust their little program of encores. Another of the features of the bill, and one that always appeals to Harrisburgers, is a nifty flirtation skit with songs that Patricia and Meyers, a very clever couple appear in. Frear, Baggett and Frear have something new and decidedly interesting in the way of a spectacular juggling novelty.—Advertisement.

AT THE ORPHEUM
 "The Red Rose"
 The sale of seats for John C. Fisher's musical comedy success, "The Red Rose," coming to the Orpheum Thursday is now open. Prominent in the cast are such well-known musical comedy artists as Marguerite De Von, Nellie Wagner, Evelyn Stewart, Polly Merrill, Edna Fay, Maurice Carey, Donald Archer, George C. Hall, Robert LaLonde, Hubert Boyle, Alden MacClaskie and Fred Harden, together with the original singing and dancing chorus that made "The Red Rose" one of the most talked-of Broadway musical comedies produced in this country since "Floradora."—Advertisement.

"DADDY LONG LEGS"
 All the fascination of a pretty girl's winning fight for a chance in life is set forth in "Daddy Long Legs," which Henry Miller will present at the Orpheum on Friday and Saturday. This story of a modern Cinderella, written by Jean Webster and first published in a woman's magazine, has since, in book form, charmed over six million readers. Miss Webster set about dramatizing it and the story of how it ran for a season in Chicago, another in New York and for many weeks in San Francisco is now stage history.
 Henry Miller has produced "Daddy Long Legs" on a scale of lavishness that is worthy of the fine qualities of the famous stage story. It will be interpreted here by a really remarkable cast that includes: Renae Kelly, as Judy Abbott; Evelyn Beasley, as Jean Pendleton; Lucia Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eberle, Jacques Martin and other equally noted players. The seat sale opens Wednesday.—Advertisement.

"THE MOTH AND THE FLAME" AT THE REGENT
 In the picture version of "The Moth and the Flame," as seen at the Regent yesterday, the spectators followed breathlessly the path of the moth and watched, with many a thrill, the glow of the flame as it strove to catch the fluttering moth, who always hovered near. This powerful drama will be shown to-day for the last time. The poor little moth blind by the flame, until she cannot see the fatal perils threatening her. Just on the verge of her great error, her vision returns, and with the resultant extinguishment of the flame, the moth sees her danger, and is saved—terribly scorched in heart, but with her soul rescued from the devouring fire.
