Charlotte Walker in Paramount Pictures

CHARLOTTE WALKER is admittedly one of the foremost dramatic artists of America. Her stage successes were so notable that The Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Co. engaged her to appear exclusively in photoplays for several years. The first screen production in which Miss Walker appeared was "Kindling." This picture is in demand all over the country.

"Out of Darkness" is the title of Miss Walker's latest picture. This is the story of a rich woman, who, through loss of memory, becomes a worker in her own factory and thus suffers through the bad industrial conditions imposed upon her women and children employes. Upon regaining her mind she at once takes steps to provide better conditions in her great establishment.

You can see Charlotte Walker only at theaters featuring Paramount Pictures

THE COMING COUNTY FAIR
THE LARGEST YET HELD

The annual exhibition of the Lancaster County Fair Association, which will be held at Lancaster on September 28, 29, 30 and October 1, promises to far outclass anything in the fair line ever attempted in Lancaster county.

Since a year ago, when hundreds of thousands were passed within the turnstiles of the grounds, many improvements have been made to the permanent buildings on the grounds, and scores of temporary ones have either been already erected or are now contracted for. These buildings promise to be filled to their utmost capacity. Space has already been rented by enough firms from all over the United States who never exhibited in Lancaster before, to make up a fair in itself. These will make displays alongside the many business concerns who have pinned their faith to Lancaster from the very start.

The cattle sheds will show some of the very finest herds to be found anywhere. Of dairy products there will be almost no end. Farm machinery will be grouped with automobiles and almost everything else that "goes." There will be fancy work, cakes, candies, preserves and fruits for the women, and everything man wants to see. The Midway will be the greatest ever, and the free attractions will outclass many a circus. There will be harness and running races every day, and this year a specialty will be made of the saddle events, with liberal purses offered. The famous Ringgold Band, of Reading, will give free concerts every day, and this one team alone will be well worth the small price of admission charged. The dog and poultry shows will be unusually large and the heads of both of these are already at their wits ends for space to accommodate the entries already pouring in. Viewed from any angle the fair of 1915 promises to eclipse anything of a similar kind ever attempted in Lancaster county, and worth going miles to see.—Advertisement.

MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE

The Majestic installed a new vaudeville show this afternoon which is varied and well chosen. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Voelker and company in their musical act, "Music Hath Charms" occupy the leading position. This is a delightfully arranged act of its kind, in which the suggested story though light is sufficient to bind together the musical numbers. Mr. Voelker's playing is, naturally, the feature of the act and probably anything better in this line hasn't been heard here. Mrs. Voelker plays the piano accompaniments tastefully, and adds much charm to the stage picture while Emma Carroll sings very sweetly and F. Russell Gilbert and Lovine Smythe give able assistance. A popular and winsome young miss is Jessie Coult, a sweet and vivacious singer of late song hits; and Eckert and Parker scored immensely with their bright tomfoolery and parodies. Ernie and Ernie, presenting a variety of clever novelties and one of two other rounds out a very deserving show.—Advertisement.

AT THE ORPHEUM

"The Red Rose"
"The Red Rose" opens the Orpheum season to-night.
"The Red Rose" is the production masterpiece of John C. Fisher, who created "Floradora." In fact, "Floradora" often is called the musical comedy sister of "The Red Rose" because the pattern of the last named piece contains many of the elements that won "Floradora's" success. "The Red Rose" is a pretentious musical comedy of the type calling for more than a score of musical numbers, fully as many dancing novelties and dazzling stage pictures, the whole radiating chorus youth, beauty and charm in the great numbers. The star of the show is considered so essential to success.—Advertisement.

"DR. RAMEAU" POWERFUL PROMOTION—COLONIAL TO-DAY

When a photoplay has the sheer power of dramatic force to wave an audience from tears to laughter, it is certainly deserving of the highest praise which is due the wonderful picture of George Obner's famous novel, "Dr. Rameau" the six-part masterpiece photodrama which is the feature picture at the Colonial to-day. Frederick Perry, the star of the Broadway success "On Trial" portrays

Straight, Lank Hair No Longer Necessary

(Guide to Beauty.)
A simple and harmless fluid, hitherto little used for the purpose, has proved so wonderfully effective in quickly turning straight hair beautifully wavy, it bids fair to become "all the rage." You may be surprised to learn that this product is nothing more than plain liquid silmerine. More surprised, when you see how prettily it dries in the most natural-looking curls, swirls and crinkles you could wish for. It makes a fine dressing for the hair, too, keeping it so soft and lustrous.

A few ounces of liquid silmerine, which can of course be found in any drug store, will keep the hair curly for weeks. It is neither sticky nor greasy, but quite pleasant to use. It should be applied at night with a clean tooth brush—a perfectly lovely wave and curliness will be in evidence in the morning. Best of all, one who acquires the silmerine habit need never again resort to the barbarous curling iron.—Advertisement.

INSURANCE FUND TO BE ORGANIZED SOON

Preliminary Meetings Will Be Ended by the State Officials Early in Next Week

Pennsylvania's State Workmen's Insurance Fund will be organized within a month. The preliminary details are now being worked out and will be ready for Governor Brumbaugh to consider when he returns from the Pacific coast. The framing of a schedule of premiums for employers, the solicitation of business and the organization of the office force are now being studied by experts under the direction of Albert L. Allen, who is officially connected with the New York State fund and who is giving expert advice. Francis H. Bohlen, secretary of the Industrial Accidents Commission which assisted Attorney General Brown in framing the law, is also aiding in the work as legal advisor by appointment of the attorney general.

Ideas from New York, Ohio and other States are being considered and by Tuesday additional data will be ready for the board in charge which is composed of State Treasurer Young, Insurance Commissioner Jackson and Commissioner of Labor and Industry Jackson. They will have charge of the administration of the fund under a manager who is to be named soon. Other officials will be named as rapidly as needed.

Part of the plan is to have men in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in charge of branch headquarters for business for the fund and these men will visit employers and explain the merits of the State system. According to inquiries made several mutual liability companies will be formed and some of the existing companies will also go after business of insuring employers.
