tion with active baseball playing was with the Chicago club which he joined in 1876.

For many years Mr. Spalding was a prominent member of the Universal Brotherhood of Theosophical Society, and was identified closely with the good roads movement.

In the first primary election in California for United States Senator in 1910, Mr. Spalding entered, the race against John D. Works, of Los Angeles. Although he had only thirty days for his campaien, he carried 75 lerislative districts of the State, as against 45 for all other candidates. Despite this, the State legislature declared that Works should be chosen and Spalding was defeated.

Played In Harrisburg

A. G. Spalding as a baseball player visited Harrisburg with a Philadelphia team early in the 70's. He played against a local team known as the Tyroleans. Later as a member of the Boston Red Sox Spalding played in Harrisburg against the High Boys, one of the earliest baseball teams in the city, and on which Charles Fleck, desk officer at the police station played on the North Sixth street grounds adjoining the Home for the Friendless and later on North Third street grounds near Seneca streets.

President John K. Tener of the National leasue who was later Governor of Pennsylvanis was a member of the team that Spalding took on a tour around the world. He was secretary and treasurer of the team and was closely identified with Mr. Spalding.

Fred Green, a Lehigh athlete, for three years a star member of the varsity team, is anxious to come to Harrisburg. "Shorty" Miller is also a candidate. Strong pressure is being orought to bear with the faculty to have the local star made coach.

Tech students want "Shorty" Miller, former State College star. Green has written Director Grubb, who is an old Lehigh man, that he would like to come to Harrisburg. However nothing has been heard from Green for a week, and unless a letter arrives today from the Lehigh star with a signed contract enclosed Director Grubb may select Miller.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 10.—The scale committee of the tri-district union convention of the Anthracite coal miners presented a list of demands to the delegates here to-day, and the question of adopting them was taken up. Considerable differences of opinion prevailed.

An effort was made to first establish a minimum wage, before asking for an increase. The committee asked for a 20 per cent increase in wages, but the delegates from the Schuylkill county coal fields claimed that at the present time men in that district are not receiving a living wage and that a 20 per cent. increase would not mean much to them.

managed the first world tour of the Chicago and All-American baseball teams.

In 1875 Mr. Spalding became interested in the manufacture of sporting goods and started a small shop in New Haven, Conn., with a capital of only $800. A year later, when the business grew, it moved to Chicago.

For the last fifteen years Mr. Spalding has published a "guide" which is recognized as an authority on baseball and other athletic sports.

Was Grocery Clerk

A. G. Spalding gave up a $5 a week job in a grocery to become identified with baseball and was perhaps better known to the sport than any otherman. To veterans of the game he was known as the "father of baseball." He became famous as a pitcher, one of the first to use the underhand delivery, and later became the manager of clubs.

Not only during his career on the diamond, but as an interested follower of the game on a high plane. With his parents he moved from Byron. Ill., his birthplace, to Rockford. In 1863 where he attended a commercial college. But he soon learned that he could make money playing ball and joined the Forest Cityclub of Rockford, which made a reputation when it defeated the National club of Washinston in 1867.

Joins Red Stockings.

Four years later Mr. Spalding joined the famous Boston Red Stockings for portion with active baseball playing was with the Chicago of the Universal Brotherhood of Theosophical Society.
