Damrosch and Elman Appear Here November

One of the big musical events of the coming season in Harrisburg will be the appearance here of the New York Symphony Orchestra of seventy-five pieces, with Walter Damrosch, conductor, and the same program, with Mischa Elman, the greatest violinist before the public. This musical engagement was announced to-day by the same management that brought McCormack and other noted musical stars here last year. The concert will be given in Chestnut Street Auditorium on the Chestnut Street Auditorium on the evening of November Tand Messrs. Hand and Sigler, who have made the booking, announce that it will be followed during the winter by others of equal importance in the musical world. This great joint attraction will appear in only nine cities of the country this year and Harrisburg was selected as one of them by reason of the splendid support enjoyed by John McCormack and the others brought here under the Hand-Sigler management in other seasons. An earnest endeavor is being made to make Harrisburg a real musical center and proper support for such attractions as the New York Symphony Orchestra and Mischa Elman will go a long way in that

ELECTRIC MACHINE DEVISED FOR MANICURING WORK

Operating in much the same manner as a dentist's drill, an electric manleuring machine has recently been designed by a Los Angeles woman, and is described, with illustration, in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine. It consists essentially of a small motor to which is attached a flexible shafting, by which the various instrumade in disk form so that the trimming, cleaning and polishing of the nails is done without the use of knives or scissors.
