

To the Citizens of Harrisburg, Pa.:

As a candidate for City Council, under the commission form of government, I wish to make a statement to the people whose vote and support I am asking. I believe it is necessary for a Councilman to devote all his time to the duties of his position and, if nominated and elected, I promise to do this. I promise to give to the city that same honest, conscientious, industrious service that I would give to my own business.

I also promise to make every effort to secure for the city a Municipal Ice Plant that will furnish ice to ALL the people, as near as possible to cost as is consistent with a business conduct of the plant.

In the statement printed below I will endeavor to show the cost of building a plant and the expense of running it, and leave to you the decision as to whether the city cannot furnish ice at one-third the price it is now furnished by private parties, making a profit that will go into the city treasury and help reduce the now heavy and burdensome taxes. Our Water Department is very profitable, and with an ice plant located on the island, adjacent to the filter plant, on land now owned by the city, superintended by the same chief engineer and operated by steam taken from boilers in the pumping plant, ice could be made and sold at a very low price. The figures given here were furnished by the best manufacturers and concerns in the various lines and show the exact cost of the various items. The estimate is for a plant of the latest improved type, 100 tons capacity every 24 hours, and shows the actual cost of ice to be $1.36 per ton delivered at the homes of the customers. Ice is now selling in Harrisburg at from six to twelve dollars per ton. This same ice can be made and sold, delivered to customers by the municipal ice plant, at a fair profit to the city at 25 pounds for 5 cents (four dollars a ton). Ample provision has been made to store the surplus ice made during the winter months and the plant can be run every day in the year.

Table with columns: Cost of Building and Equipment, Expenses of Operation Per Year, Receipts and Profit to City Per Year. Includes items like Building, Machinery, Boilers, and various operational costs.

Please investigate my statement, and if you think municipal ownership of the ice plant a good business proposition for the city, and a money-saver for the people, you will help it along by voting for me. Remember, water and ice go hand in hand, and as the Water Department has always been a good profit-maker, an ice plant can be made the same.

The right of a city of the third class to create and operate an ice plant, has been questioned. There never was a doubt on the subject worth considering but to make assurance doubly sure Mr. Rodenhaver appealed to the Legislature for an enabling act and the following bill was passed with practical unanimity by both branches of the General Assembly during the session of 1913 and approved by Governor Tener on the 25th day of June of that year:

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That each city of the third class is hereby authorized to manufacture ice, and to sell the same to the inhabitants of such city at such rates as shall be fixed by ordinance, and to that end may erect, equip and maintain such buildings and other structures, and may purchase or hire and maintain such vehicles, as may be deemed necessary for such purpose.

Approved the 25th day of June, A. D. 1913. JOHN K. TENER, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The foregoing is a true and correct copy of the Act of the General Assembly, No. 353.

Two years ago my friends responded to my appeal for support in great numbers and with genuine earnestness. For this proof of their friendship and confidence I most sincerely thank them. I have in no respect abated my desire to serve the people of the city faithfully and with the ability and energy at my command and now by this medium earnestly solicit a renewal of their pledges of friendship, assuring each voter that I will fully appreciate the favor bestowed and shape my labors in the office so as to work the highest advantage to the public.

Yours for the greatest good to the greatest number, J. EDGAR RODENHAVER

Councilman Henderson Closes Negotiations With Paving Company; Other Business

Assurance that the wood block paving in Front street from Gibson street to Highland street will be relaid wherever it is in a bad condition was given Steelton's council at a special meeting last evening by the United States Wood Preserving Company, of New York.

E. C. Henderson, chairman of the highway committee, has been negotiating with the New York concern and the Harrisburg Railway Company for some time with a view to having this street put into first class condition. Already the traction company is making repairs and last evening the New York concern, through Mr. Henderson, assured council that work on relaying the section blocks outside the trolley tracks will be started within a few days.

20 After Jones' Job No steps were taken last evening for filling the vacancy on the police force caused by the dismissal of Clinton Jones. Mr. Henderson, through half of the other two members of the police committee present—both of whom are candidates for justice of the peace—asked that no selection be made until later. There were about twenty candidates for the place, he said. Mr. Reisch vigorously protested against the delay. Mr. Henderson, however, was sustained and the matter went over.

It was decided to have a special meeting of council as a committee of the whole to discuss the new borough license measure, of which were about 200 copies of the bill sent to each councilman before final action is taken.

To Place More Lights On motion of Mr. Capella the ordinance committee was instructed to prepare a new ordinance placing additional street lamps in the borough. It was also decided to extend the water main in Lincoln street to supply a number of new homes with filtered water.

At the request of Mr. Sellers council authorized the installation of a new heating system and an extensive repair program at the Taxing House and Ladder house. The changes will cost about $250. Mr. Sellers also suggested that the borough solicitor be asked to draw the proposed new building code. This suggestion was adopted.

COUNCILMEN STUDY NEW BOROUGH CODE

Many of the Ordinances Must Be Changed; Will Be Huge Task; Has Bearing on Politics

Members of Steelton's borough council and others interested in municipal affairs are busy these days studying the new Borough Code passed by the last legislature and now in effect.

To conform with the provisions of the code practically every ordinance on the borough's statute books will have to be redrawn. Many of the powers and duties of the various borough departments and officers have been changed or modified and many new forms have been set up.

Within the past few months the new code has made it mandatory for council to change its procedure in several things. One was the adoption of Hyacinth alley into the borough and another was the passing of the proposed new license ordinance. In both these cases much red tape will now be necessary.

As yet, however, the real task of making the present government conform with the new code has not been reached. That will come when council attempts to redraw the ordinances. Many of the present statutes will necessarily have to be wiped from the books and new ordinance drawn.

Capable Men Needed That this huge task shall be done in a competent manner and with a real regard for the interests of the taxpayers, prominent citizens are taking an active interest in the coming election so that the ablest possible men shall go back to council to perform this duty.

In the Third ward these taxpayers have lined up unanimously behind J. W. Weynders, now president of council. As chief executive at the local offices of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, Mr. Weynders naturally is equipped with an executive mind which will enable him to look ahead to the best interests of the future of the borough. Efforts are being made by good-government advocates in all three parties to return Mr. Weynders to council with the largest majority ever given a Third ward man.

Down in the Second ward those interested in carrying out this new law have lined up behind E. C. Henderson. It is said that apparatus for the health supervision of the future of health instead of the superintendent of sewers. A new sewer for Hyacinth alley was authorized. Surface drainage in Francis street and Christian street between the canal and railroad was discussed and it was decided to plan some method of improving conditions there. Lincoln street storm sewers will also be improved and the grade in Lincoln street will be changed.

M. A. Cumber offered to erect a new drinking fountain for public use at Front and T streets in council grounds. He furnished his own water for his barn. The request was granted. Bills to the amount of $2,391.83 were ordered paid.

AUXILIARY CARD PARTY The ladies of Division No. 1, A. O. H., will hold a card party in A. O. H. hall, Front street, Thursday evening. Refreshments will be served. Those in charge for the evening are Mrs. Edw. G. Frazier, Mrs. Margaret Blade and Mrs. Anastasia Frazier.

The company is now turning out forging projectiles is now being installed at No. 2 blooming mill and that the shrapnel finishing machinery will be installed here, too. The steel company is now turning out large orders of steel rounds for the manufacture of war materials.

Bargains in Slightly Used Upright Pianos

Tomorrow Morning at 9 o'clock we will place on sale, at a fraction of their original cost, about 50 New and Used Upright Pianos and Player Pianos. The "used" pianos have come to us from Harrisburg's foremost homes in exchange for new high-grade instruments sold here.

The New Pianos, reduced, are a number of our own splendid makes, certain styles which do not seem to sell as readily as others.

Now Is Your Chance to Get a Genuine Piano Bargain

Prices range from $60 upward. We shall not publish names, as some of the "used" pianos are not of our regular line and we would therefore do other dealers an injustice.

Each instrument in the sale bears a card giving a description of its quality, condition, time of service, net price and terms. Each carries our guarantee. You can come, see, hear, test, examine and compare these instruments. You will not be bothered by "special sale artists" trained to worry you into buying. None of that here. Upon request from you we will demonstrate any instrument and give details, but the printed cards and your own judgment will be all the salesmanship used.

Remember the sale starts to-morrow morning 9 o'clock. Come in, take your time, pick out the instrument you want, call a representative to make out the contract and receipt.

into New York, and there you are ahead of the greater metropolis. Indeed, I felt as though I had in a brief time, stepped from Broadway to Broadway. Some River Front? What? The River Front improvement is something to look at. I have been pretty much around this country and doubt if there is anything so impressive and artistic. New York has its Riverside Drive, to be sure, but it also has its New York Central freight tracks between the Hudson and the Drive, an eyesore that ruins the whole prospect. The taxpayers who carp on spending money for such stunning improvements as this, likewise the gorgeous illumination that is so marked compared with other cities will eventually put on the muffler. Years may pass before the public adequately appreciates what Harrisburg's far-seeing citizens have done; an outsider can realize it now. I have no doubt there remain deficiencies of various kinds, but with progressiveness such as has been displayed they are sure to be remedied. In talking with Col. Hutchison I learned that he only had nineteen patrolmen to cover the entire city on a shift, and when you consider the length and breadth of the Harrisburg and its cosmopolitan population this seems inadequate. At the same time, I observed yesterday that Philadelphia was boasting ever her enterprise in planning a school for tubercular pupils, while Harrisburg—O, who's who!—is comparing its own audacious. I should not be surprised to find subways here before Philadelphia has her's started. Reminiscences of Archibald Sangree was pronounced in the Boer War and just before the surrender of Pretoria met there James F. J. Archibald, now the central figure in the Government investigation of the dispatch carrying incident in which are involved Ambassador Dumba and high German officials. "War reporters will be sorry if Archibald gets into serious trouble over this," related Sangree "for he is, and has long been, a picturesque chap in the war game. I first saw him at ten o'clock of a Thursday morning walking down the main street of Pretoria along with a chunky youth who wore an American messenger boy service uniform. Richard Harding Davis was with me and having a very keen eye he recognized the uniform. We were greatly puzzled to make out what a Yankee messenger boy was doing in Pretoria, especially when British naval gun shells were dropping almost in the city. He turned out to be the bearer of a big volume containing the names of 28,000 school children in Philadelphia who sympathized with the Boer cause. He was chaperoned by Hugh Sutherland, of the Philadelphia North American, but Archibald who had accidentally met the expedition at Fort Said appeared to be the real conductor. For speed and efficiency Archibald beat anything I ever saw except a Chautauqua lecturer. The latter arrived on the same boat, was three hours in Pretoria, and then left for America afterwards writing a "history of the Boer War," and lecturing. Archibald, the day he arrived, helped "Jimmy" Smith, the messenger boy, reach Oom Paul; he organized "The Military Order of Pretoria," to which were eligible Americans who fought for or aided the Boers; and on the day he overed he had charged
