STOCKS REPEATED

War Shares Raised One and Two Points During Early

Morning Hours

New York, Sept. 21.—The familiar upward swing of the special stocks was repeated at the outset of to-day's trading, motor shares again being the most conspicuous features. Willy's-Overland rose 2 points to the new high price of 211. soon increasing its gain to 219. Studebaker opened half a point down, but soon advanced 4½, to the new high price of 144¼ and General Motors also broke all previous records with its advance of 3½ to 299½. Other so called war shares were up 1 to 2 points, but United States Steel opened a fraction lower. Railroads which recently gave promise of resuming their place among the leaders, were dull and fractionally lower. Bryan to Confer With President Tomorrow

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—William J. Bryan will confer to-morrow with President Wilson. The engagement was made to-day at the White House at Mr. Bryan's request. It will be the first time the former Secretary of State and the President have met since Mr. Bryan quit the Cabinet three months ago because he was not willing to follow the President's pelicy in the German submarine crisis.

What the two men will discuss was not disclosed in making the engagement.

WHY SHE WAS KILLED

Samuel Leitner, a private detective New York, shot his wife five times the other day. She died immediately, grap caps had shot her. Later he gave this story to he coroner:
"I first met my wife eleven years ago. She had just come out of the House of Good Shepherd. We went together for about a year, until I found that she behaved herself; then "We took rooms together in Ludlov street, then in Stanton and later in Madison street. When we went to Madison street we had two children, Bessie and Dora. One night I came. home. She wasn't there and she didn't four nights and four days. Her father come back all night. She stayed away four nights and four days. Her father and mother and I all searched for her everywhere. Finally a couple of men told me they had seen her in back of a jewelry store in our own neighborhood and I went in there and there she was. She started to run away, but I stopped and said, 'Listen, Sarah, Can't you be good? You've got two children. Don't spoil their good names; they're girls.' She looked in my face and, 'To — with you!' "Sarah, why do you talk that way?' I said; 'haven't I treated you right?" "Oh, I don't like married life,' she said. 'I'm going to sell the furniture and quit. I don't want to live this way any more.

"She sold the furniture, and on the day she sold it she threw her own mother out of the flat so she could get the things. Then she met me on the street and said: 'How about support?' And I said: 'Why, Sarah, I'll support you. But why won't you be good?' "She laughed at me. She said, 'I should worry!' And I said, 'You ought to be where you came from.'

Leitner told more such incidents to show she had gone on much the same as previous to her entrance to the House of Good Shepherd. Then she

SAYS TORPEDO STRUCK SHIP

By Associated Press

Montreal, Sept. 21.—Major Hercule

Barre, of a Canadian regiment, a survivor of the steamer Hesperian, to-day exhibited a piece of steel which, he said, he picked up on the deck of the Hesperian following the fatal explosion. The major declared the steel was part of a torpedo and termed the contention that the ship had struck a mine "absurd."
