ANOTHER RECORD FOR DIRECTUM I

Defeats Peter Stevens, Reading Pacer, on Half-Mile Track at Allentown

Special to The Telegraph Allentown, Pa., Sept. 23.—The speedy New York pacer, Directum I, clearly proved his ability to race over a half-mile track yesterday, when he defeated the Reading pacer, Peter Stevens, in a sharply contested three-heat race, establishing a new world's record, averaging 2:05 1-6.

Peter Stevens has established track records at Lebanon and Kutztown fairs, and created a three-heat world's race record at the latter place. These performances led many horsemen to believe he would beat Directum I over a half-mile course, as the latter horse has been raced exclusively over mile tracks this year.

An Even Start The pair were sent away on an even start, and Murphy pulled Directum back of Stevens, using him as a wind-shield, until past the three-quarter pole, when he urged him to a faster clip, winning by a length.

Directum shot ahead on the second start, and Sneedker pulled Stevens directly back, which position he maintained until the homestretch was reached when responding to a hard drive, he overtook Directum just before the wire was reached, winning by a head in 2:04, lowering the track race record of 2:04 1-2.

On the third heat Murphy again used Stevens as a shield until the last turn was reached. Coming into the homestretch Directum was on even terms and when near the wire stepped ahead, winning the heat and race, covering the heat quarter at a 2:02 shot.

Miss King scored her fifth straight victory in winning the three-year-old pace.

Frank Kelley, of Local International Fame, to Train Tech Eleven

Frank Kelley, trainer for the Harrisburg International baseball team, and whom, according to the story a grapefruit sent to this city, will train the Tech High football eleven this fall.

It is said that Kelley is the first man to be engaged by a local high school, who will devote his entire time to the work. He has taken up his quarters in the basement of the school, where a room will be fitted up for that purpose.

Middleweight Contender Will Meet Leo Houck

Special to The Telegraph Lancaster, Sept. 23.—The best wind-up ever arranged between middleweights for Lancaster, has been made by the New National Club. It will take place on Thursday, September 30, (the big day of the fair) at Rocky Springs.

On that night for the first time Leo Houck will meet Johnny Howard, the Bayonne brawler, who has beaten Sailor Grande, Bob Mohn, Jack Twin Sullivan, Jack Driscoll, Jack Milton and others. He has had two ten-round draws with Jack Dillon and one with Mike Gibbons. Last week he defeated Buck Crouse in New York and knocked out K. O. Ussina.

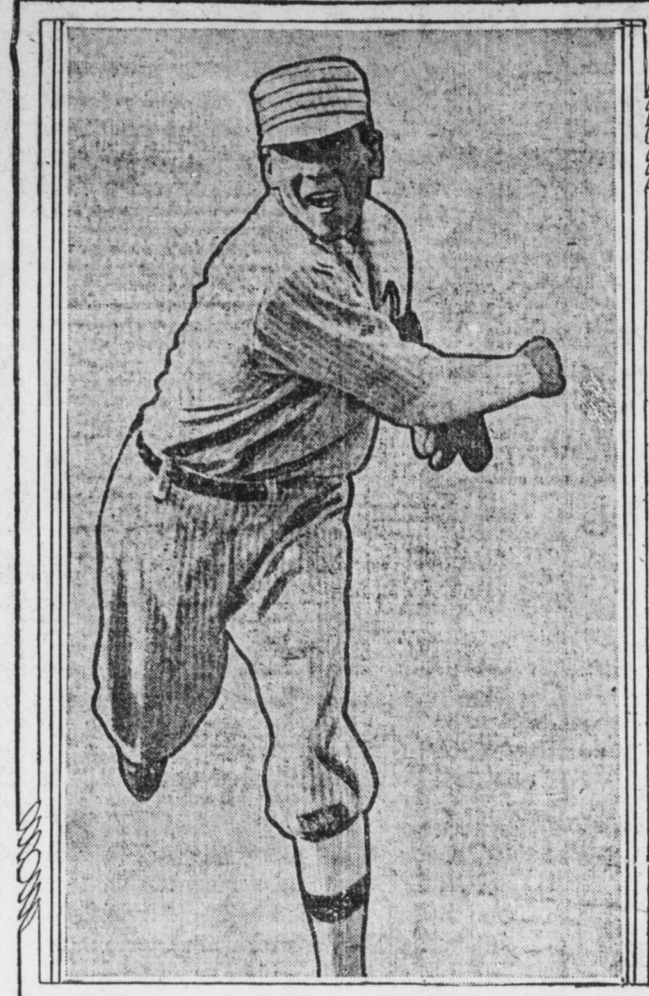

Gettysburg Varsity Guard Joins Hospital Squad

Special to The Telegraph Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—The Gettysburg college football team had yesterday its second real tryout on the athletic field. Coach O'Brien picked out two teams and sent them through a twenty-minute scrimmage.

The men showed good form and were very scrappy, considering the short time they have been at practice. Enkie, a varsity guard, had his arm badly hurt.

CAMP HILL HIGH READY The Camp Hill High school has organized a football team. The average weight is 126 pounds. Managers having open dates should write to F. V. Rockey, Camp Hill, Pa.

"BIG CHIEF" BENDER

THE PILLARS OF HERCULES IN WARTIME Ahead a long, steady searchlight barred the gate to the Inland Sea; a light that grew in intensity with our approach, but seemed never to change direction. Then shadows crawled by through the darkness, and we slowly got the sense of eyes on every side—the eyes of watchful, half-seen cruisers. A sharp signal flashed from shore. We flashed an answer. Then abruptly, out of the blackness, a dazzling brilliancy touched the funnels of the liner, swept the deck, blinded us.

It gathered force. With the deliberation of an expert duelist, it scrutinized us, sought the prow, illuminated the fore-mast and bridge, pondered the marks of identification, hesitated, swept back; and then, quite suddenly and out of nowhere a ridiculously small torpedoboat was alongside. "Who are you?" bellowed an unmistakably British voice. Our captain leaned over the rail with his megaphone. "Paquebot St. Anna, Ligne Fabre, New York a Marseille."

"Who are you?" the darkness repeated, and not until the answer was made in English was it at all considered. There were two or three more questions and answers, and then a friendly "All right."

Bells rang, engines started; as it had come, the destroyer vanished; the searchlight shot away upon some invisible command, and we were left to crawl forward in a darkness that was a thousand times more intense because of the light that had gone.—The Christian Herald.

A SUBMARINE WATER SUPPLY In the Persian Gulf, about twenty miles from the Arabian coast, is a group of islands, the largest of which is called Bahrein. The natives, who live in twenty miles in length and ten in width, is low and sandy in most places, but here and there an oasis rich in date palms dots the island with spots of green. "The Mountain of the Mist" in the center rises to the height of four hundred feet. The eight thousand people who live in Manamah, its largest town, are mostly Arabs of the fanatical Wahabi sect. Fish and seaweed are their chief food, and the only fresh water they have to drink is brought from springs at the bottom of the sea. The natives, with goat-skin bags, dive to the bottom, and holding the openings down upon the bubbling spring, swim to the surface with their bags filled with sweet water. The extensive pearl fisheries for which the islands have always been famous is their one great industry. The Dutch Reformed Church has long maintained a mission station upon the island, and there has been possible because Bahrein is under British protection.—Christian Herald.

A FEW TIMELY OBSERVATIONS In the war of right and wrong we cannot afford to be neutral. Sorrow sweetens life. A life without sorrow would be a sorry life. The man who is always making excuses won't make good even though he make good excuses. Charity begins at home, and covers a multitude of sins that begin in the home—but as wonderful as charity is it cannot cover them all.—The Christian Herald.

LINCOLN STARS WIN FIRST GAME

Scores Three Runs in Eleventh Inning; Schacht Pitches Good Game

Harrisburg's aggregation of International stars fell in the opening battle with the Lincoln Giants yesterday, score 5 to 2. The champion colored team sent three men over the plate in the eleventh inning. The game was full of thrills. The Lincoln stars furnished plenty of amusement in pulling off plays.

Harrisburg's team pulled together nicely, but could not hit the ball for a count after the first inning. Schacht held the dusky swatters until the final inning. The game was witnessed by a large crowd. The second game with the stars was played this afternoon.

Play World's Series Games on Braves Field

Special to The Telegraph Boston, Mass., Sept. 23.—If the Boston Red Sox represent the American League in the World's Championship series this fall, they will play their home games on the new park belonging to the Boston Braves—a park which will seat, with the additional seats planned, close to forty-eight thousand people.

The decision of the Red Sox management to use the National League ball park was reached yesterday when President J. J. Lannin, of the Boston club, received a telegram from President James Gaffney, of the Boston Braves, inviting him to use Allston Field.

President Gaffney offered the Braves' park under the same conditions the National League champions of 1914 used Fenway Park last year, and this means free of expense except the employees and other overhead charges. President Lannin did not charge the Braves a cent last year for the use of his park either for the regular championship games or for the world's series. And now President Gaffney is returning the favor.

The Braves field will accommodate 15,000 more fans than it would be possible to gather inside Fenway Park without putting people on the playing field which is not allowed in world's series games.

HOW CHILDHOOD PAYS FOR THE WAR My opportunities were exceptional. I talked with a friend of my husband, a captain in the cavalry. "So you think the war has not changed us?" he said. "Come with me."

He took me to hospital after hospital. Outside, these looked as they had always looked; but once inside the doors, you saw that they were overflowing. Literally overflowing. They overflowed into the schools, which were full of wounded, nursed for the most part by volunteers from among the women of the city; and I was to learn later that nearly every schoolhouse in France was similarly burdened, education paying its tax to war along with all the other activities of life.—The Christian Herald.
