

PHILLIES HOPE TO ELIMINATE BROOKLYN---MOTORCYCLE RUN TO PITTSBURGH

TO ELIMINATE DODGERS TODAY

Idea of Pat Moran; Plans For World's Series On; Boston Prices

Special to The Telegraph
New York, Sept. 28.—The Phillies reached here late last evening. To-day they moved over to Brooklyn. The Quakers hope to eliminate the Dodgers from the race this afternoon. Pat Moran will not make any claims until he lands two more victories. All he says is that he "hopes for a clean-up this week."

Plans are under way for the world's series. Officials of the Philadelphia club were busy at National League headquarters yesterday. John K. Tener, president of the league, is outlining his suggestions for the big games. It is probable that the national commissioners will be called together this week.

Announcement was received from Boston that games on the Braves field may be seen at prices ranging from 50 cents to $3.

The higher price will be for box seats. Other reservations in the grandstand will cost $4 each. The number of seats which may be obtained by reservation has been increased by setting aside the stand which runs back of third base. These seats will sell at $2 each. Tickets in these three classes will be sold in advance only in blocks of three, covering the first three games that may be played here. Applications have been pouring in for weeks and are being filled.

Tickets for the right field bleachers, at $1 each, and in the bleachers, at 50 cents each, will be placed on sale at the grounds before the first game. The seating capacity of Braves Field is now being checked up to determine just how many persons can be cared for. No additional stands will be erected, it was said.
