The new project, when fully under way, will cost at least $75,000 it is believed. The chapel will be located on the site in Wyoming street, between Twelfth and Camac streets, on which the conference church extension society now holds an option.

Each church in the conference district will be assessed a certain sum to be raised for the general fund of the new church, which will be called the Logan Mission, North Philadelphia. Work on the building will be started in less than three months it is believed.

Pledge $1,970

The Rev. Dr. D. D. Lowery, conference superintendent, in a crisp talk this morning urged the pastors to raise an additional sum of $2,000 on pledges for the new charge. Responses came at once, and when they had been totaled, it was found that $1,970 had been pledged. The two biggest amounts recorded came from Hershey and the Sixth Street church, this city, for $100 each. The others named the following extra amounts: Fifty dollars each from Covenant, Lancaster: Myerstown: Trinity, Lebanon: Derry Street, Harrisburg; Hummelstown: Mountville; New Holland; sixty dollars, Salem, Lebanon.

Twenty-five dollars each: Jackson-ville; Catawissa: Zion, Reading; Lebanon Circuit; Intercourse; Centerville; Paradise: North Hamuton; West Wil-

Officially nothing could be learned about the new pastor for the North Philadelphia charge, but it was understood by all of the delegates that some minister with years of experience in one of the best charges of the conference district, will be sent to the new field of labor. The assignment will be made Sunday morning, when the appointment will be read.

The church extension committee immediately after the present conference sessions will start work on plans for the building. Work will be rushed to have it completed and a good report ready for the 117th annual session next Fall.

Suburban Towns to Get Final Edition of Paper

WITH a desire to give the readers of the Telegraph as complete a paper as possible on the several editions some changes in delivery have recently been made which will give the final edition to more of the suburban towns. Of course, our readers understand that the news cannot be printed before it happens and that it is necessary to issue several editions of the Telegraph, starting early in the afternoon so that the readers at a distance may get as complete a paper as it is possible to give them on the earlier steam and trolley schedules

Through the co-operation of our agents in a number of the towns changes are now being made which provide a considerable number of towns with the latest edition containing the last item of news before the big press starts in the afternoon. Here and there the Telegraph may be a trifle later in reaching the homes of the people outside of the city, but the readers will understand they are getting a much more complete newspaper as a result of the change. These readjustments also mean more complete earlier editions for the remoter communities.

"The directors greatly regret the necessity for reducing the rate, but in view of the unfortunate condition of business for the last six months they feel that no other course is open to them.

"The earnings since the first of January have decreased to such an extent that after settling aside bond charges, the amount necessary for depreciation and repairs, the net earnings, after the payment of the dividend on the first of April, amount toonly $910.72. You will, therefore, see that the present dividend is paid out of the surplus account, and not out of the decrease in the net earnings. In the opinion of the management, I Continued on Page 6.]

Two Men Hurt When Auto's Axle Breaks

When the axle of an automobile driven by Robert Jacobs, 217 South Front street, broke as the machine was skimming over the pike below Highspire last night, two men were injured and two others had narrow escapes. The injured were J. R. Comstock, of Mechanicsburg, probable fracture of the right leg, and George S. Comstock, also of Mechanicsburg, severe body bruises. The former is now in the Harrisburg hospital.

The accident occurred when the machine struck a depression in the road which caused the recently-repaired rear axle to snap. The tonneau dropped to the road as one of the wheels rolled afway.

Bumping over the pike, the machine swerved, lurched and turned a complete circle. The two Comstock brothers were thrown from the machine swerved lurched and turned a complete circle. The two Comstock brothers were thrown from the machine and landed in along the side of the pike. Both Jacobs, the driver, and J. H. Peake, the other passenger, managed to stick to themachine and escape initury.

UNIFORM DEVELOPMENT New Highway to Wormleysburg Will Probably Be Built; Other Improvements

One of the most important and comrehensive pieces of work undertaken by the City Planning Comission will be laid before it within the next few days by a committee of Camp Hill council, Carl K. Deen and Robert L. Myers, asking that all of the terri-council, Carl K. Deen and Robert L. Myers, asking that all of the territory lying between the western boundery of Camp Hill and the Susquehanna river be taken under the supervisory care of the commission.

In this section lie Camp Hill and the rapidly growing suburb of Washington Heights, with its schoolhouse, stores and church, and many houses along the Carlisle pike.

The committee will ask the commission to number the streets running parallel with the river all the way from the river back to the western borough limits of Camp Hill. They are now known by name and much confusion exists. The committee is looking forward to the no-distant day when the whole section between Camp Hill and the Susquehanna will be one big community and they desire that the planning commission, which has authority under the law, shall not permit it to be cut up into undesirable plots. Uniformity of development for the protection of all the property owners is one of the big objects. Camp Hill has been careful in its development, but mistakes have been made even there, and it is to guard against errors in the future that the commission's guiding lear is asked.

Pike Becoming Congested

Pike Becoming Congested

Pike Becoming Congested

The Carlisle pike, now the main artery of travel between the river and Camp Hill is becoming congested during the busy hours and on Sundays, and the committee will ask the Planning Commission to lay out another road to join Wormleysburg with Camp Hill.

Hill.

It is known that the Planning Commission members think well of these plans and it is expected that they will give their hearty co-operation and the service of their engineers to solving the problems submitted, for it is real to hospitals yesterday when they belowed to leap across the river and take in the whole West Shore.

Progressive Camp Hill has taken the first step in this direction.

Man Mixed Up in Gun Fray Arrested Here

Calvin McBride, alias McWilliams, alias Harris, was brought to Harrisburg early this morning by Justice of the Peace Ralph C. Crow, and Constable John Shur of Lemoyne, McBride is charged with being drunk and trying to enter the home of his former wife at Lemoyne.

He was arrested in Philadelphia early in the year for practicing dentistry under a fictitious name. It was also said that the certificate he practiced under had been stolen from another dentist named McBride. A Philadelphia dentist shot at McBride when the latter accused him of being a fraud. McBride's real name is said to be McWilliams. He practiced in Harrisburg several years ago.

Africans Play Big Part in Battle of Champagne

By Associated Press

Paris. Sept. 30. — "It was by no means easy work," said one of the wounded at the Grand Palais Hospital in describing the battle of Champagne Saturday. "Never have we seen anything like the barbed wire entanglements. Our shells ploughed up thousands of stakes but there was an innumerable number left which we had to pull up under the enemy's fire. The wire was so thick it was extremely hard to cut. In many places our attacking columns came against Chivaux de Frise behind which the Germans lurked. We pelted them with bombs as hard as we could and the sappers, who came behind us did the rest.

"The machine guns which stormed at us—that's why so many of us were hit in the legs—were soon put out of business. Then our cavalry turned up. They had gone so long without a chance to fight on horseback that they were keen to get into it. It was a fine dash and the Grmans bolted on all sides. What they left behind in the way of material, arms, effects and equipment was unimaginable. Their flight turned into a panic when they saw our African contingents after them. The Africans certainly cut them up frightfully with the bayonet."

RUSSIANS TAKE BRACE

England Regards Action in West as Only Beginning of Great Movement

Berlin, Sept. 20, via London, 3.46 P. M.—Loss of another position in France to the allies as a result of the great battle now in progress is announced in the official statement from the war office to-day. The Germans lost hill No. 191, near Massiges.

Further important gains by the of the general offensive movement of the entente allies on the western front are reported by the Paris war office to-day.

French troops gained a footing in the Germans' second line of defense in the Champagne region, it is announced. They have taken an important defensive work of the Germans south of Ripont, which is four miles northwest of Massiges, back of which lies an important junction on the railway which parallels the German front in this region.

The allied attacks along a front in the west totaling less than thirty miles are regarded in England as only a beginning of the offensive movement.

The Russians are still holding off Field Marshal von Hindenburg's attacks at Dvinsk but are apparently having more difficulty in resisting the energetic movement he is making against them near Osmiana, southeast of Vilna, in the development of a sweep to the southeastward in an effort to head off the Russian baronovichi army. Petrograd admits that the Russians have been forced to retire somewhat in the Osmiana region.

While the Russian forces are seemingly in a retrograde movement again in Volhynia, they are keeping the upper hand in Galicia, according to the last reports, driving back the Teutons in combats along the Stripa.

The Greek chamber has ratified the government's decree of mobilization and authorized a $30,000,000 loan.
