

STATE AND CITY SHOULD CO-OPERATE IN PROPER DEVELOPMENT OF CAPITOL PARK EXTENSION, SAYS GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH

Believes Expert of National Reputation Should Be Employed to Make a Survey of the Tract and Submit Plans For Its Improvement Along Lines That Would Fit Into the Park Treatment of Harrisburg as a Whole

Suggests Possibility of Union Station Fronting on the Plot; Capitol Must Be Extended or More State Buildings Erected For Housing of Over-Crowded Departments; Depression of Trolley Lines Through Park Is Recommended

Importance of the Project Looking into the future of the city and the state the Governor said:

"With the distinct understanding that I speak only for myself and not for my distinguished colleagues on the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings, I venture to suggest:

"First — That when the extension of the Capitol Park has been made by purchase, its development is of the utmost importance both to the people of Harrisburg and to the people of the Commonwealth at large.

"Second — I think it would be desirable and attainable to have this park developed in definite relation to the whole parking system of the city of Harrisburg, and to that end I think it quite possible to have some national in reputation and capacity to make a study of this particular park and its relation to the whole development of Harrisburg, in order that the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings might see their problem through the eyes of an expert who sees the problem in its relation to the whole city's development.

"Third — I think it would be an excellent idea for the people of Harrisburg through their proper committee to confer in the near future with the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings with a view to mutual interchange of thought and opinion as to what in their combined judgment would be the wise thing to do in the treatment of this ground.

"Fourth — It would seem to me that this ground cannot be properly treated without having in mind the fact that it is part of the entire Capitol Park and that the old part must be taken into consideration for treatment in conjunction with the new and both as a unit in conjunction with the work planned and carried on by the city itself.

"Fifth — Almost equal in importance with the proper treatment of the park itself is the treatment of the buildings that stand upon it, and to this considerable thought should be given, particularly because of the fact that the State will be obliged in the near future either to extend its present Capitol or to construct some additional building or buildings properly to care for the growing administrative departments of the State government.

"Sixth — I should like to see all the surface trolley lines depressed through this park with proper artistic and economic treatment in order that the surface of the park may be entirely free from all traction service, and I believe that the Harrisburg Railway Company, if this matter is presented in a fair and frank manner, will be willing to cooperate in carrying through the government and the city authorities in securing this desirable result.

"Seventh — It might be possible, if the matter were handled in the right way, to bring an union depot of all the railroads centering in Harrisburg to a point immediately east of the new extension to Capitol Park, in order that the people coming to Harrisburg by train would receive their first impression of the city and of the State Capitol as soon as they step from the depot. It would at once impress visitors of the dignity and importance and beauty of our State and of our city.

"Eighth — It is a question whether or not it would be wise and desirable to erect upon this new park any additional State buildings or whether it would be better to reserve it purely for decorative treatment as a suitable setting for the Capitol building, to be adorned with shrubbery and shade, flowers and fountains, statues and memorials. I take it all this would arise and receive proper consideration once a complete study of the problem is made.

"Ninth — It should be borne in mind that the government lives much longer than individuals live, and that whatever plan is adopted now should project itself far into the future, in order that subsequent generations may approve as fully the condition of the park then as our people would now approve it, and that the wisdom of co-operation in the future of the years to come, and these two interests should be so wrought out as to give to this city and to this Commonwealth the very finest setting for the Capitol building and the most delightful park for the enjoyment and enlightenment of the people who reside here and who from time to time come here.
