Father Whalen Says Pictures Will Never Take Place of Legitimate Plays

WILL W. WHALEN

That the photoplay will never take the place of the legitimate drama—any more, for instance, than the soggy beans that come from a can can displace the real, crisp, nutty kind that come fresh from the vines—is the opinion of Father Will W. Whalen, a former Harrisburger.

The kind of piano you want is one that is truly ornamental to the room, and also so sweet-toned that its melody pleases all hearers.

TAYLOR REPORTS ON FIRE SERVICE

Commissioner Tells How Some of Expert's Suggestions Have Been Carried Out

How Harrisburg's fire department complies in some respects with the requirements suggested by the National Board of Fire Underwriters efficiency expert was reported upon to Council this afternoon by City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, superintendent of parks and public property.

The expert investigation had been made at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, with which the national board had taken up the problem of placing this city in the standard insurance rating class.

The report covered several pages and went into detail with reference to the needs of the city in the way of fire protection, both from the water supply as well as fire fighting standpoint.

To Look Into Dwelling Rates Commissioner H. F. Bowman, superintendent of public safety, to whom the items relative to the betterment of the water supply was referred, said he wanted some more detailed information as to the rates on the dwelling insurance rates.

"What I think most of the people are concerned about," said he, "is the rate on the dwelling insurance which can be done to lower these rates. The report submitted to Council deals more particularly with the central or business districts."

Commissioner Taylor, to whom the fire matters were referred, made a prompt and thorough investigation of the department and reports as follows to the expert's questions: "All firehouses could be used for paid systems; the local department has a supply of 15,000 feet of good, serviceable hose on hand; while the department is without testing apparatus, its only provisions for drying hose are three wooden hose towers and three inclined racks; the engines will deliver 500 gallons a minute in accordance with the fire expert's suggestion."

Fire-Fighting Equipment With reference to the fire-fighting equipment of the firemen, Commissioner Taylor reports that the department is provided with everything recommended: hose gate hydrants and waterproof covers, life belts, torches, surgical kit and waterproof cover.

What To Eat And Prevent Indigestion Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, should try a meal of any food or foods in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bismuthated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bismuthated magnesia is doubtless the best corrective and antacid known. It has direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining. It does more than could possibly be done by any food or medicine. Do not irritate the inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs but get rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bismuthated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bismuthated magnesia as directed above, and note remarkable results.—Advertisement
