

PHILADELPHIA AB R. H. O. Although betting on the series has not been brisk, several wagers of fair size have been placed, mcstly at 6 to 5 with the Bostonians the favorites. There seemed to be plenty of backing for the American League champions but the would-be betters were reluc-tant to give odds. Several bets were made on the result of the first game, National League supporters offering 3 to 2 the Phillies would win provided Alexander was chosen to do the pitch-ing.

First Holiday in Month President Wilson's departure for New York marks the beginning of his first holiday from the cares of office psince his return from the summer White House at Cornish, N. H., about a month ago. The President had hoped to have a protracted stay at Cornish but owing to developments in the international situation he felt it necessary to return to Washington. Following their arrival in New York late to-day, the time before din-ner probably will be spent by the President in purchasing a diamond tring for Mrs. Galt and an automobile ride with her. After dinner at the House residence the party will stop off at Philadelphia to witness the second game in the world's baseball cham-pionship series. The President will throw out the first ball. Following the game the party will return here on a special train. 0 Ticket speculators did not seem to 0 be as numerous as in past years, but 0 those who were in evidence secured.
