STEELTON WANT SYSTEMATIC CARE FOR TREES

Active Campaign Will Be Started by New Commission; Destroying Cards

Within a few days an active campaign for the systematic care of the shade trees in Steelton will be inaugurated by the recently constituted Shade Tree Commission.

Cards to be distributed among residents of the borough urging them to at once report to the commission any trees that need the attention of a skilled forester, are now in the hands of the printer. They will be distributed within the next week. This card will be followed by a circular pointing out the "Twelve Good Points of a Tree."

In this manner the shade tree commission plans to create a greater interest in shade trees and their care. Just as soon as this is done the commission will undertake to trim and care for all trees that need expert attention. Planting will be taken up later.

Distributing Cards

The card which will be sent out in a few days will say: "The borough of Steelton has upon its streets many shade trees; they are one of the chief attractions of the borough and a most valuable asset."

"Do you realize the advantage of the trees as a means of beautifying our town and making it possible to use our streets and walks with comfort and pleasure during the extreme heat of summer?"

"We, the shade tree commission, in whose care the trees in the streets of the town have been placed, desire your co-operation in our work; and we ask you to notify us either by telephone or letter of any evidence that the trees in front of your property are out of condition, or damaged, or of any tree that may come to your attention that seems to need our care. Look particularly for dead or broken limbs, holes, insect pests, rotten trunks, etc. With your aid, we shall be able to care for the trees promptly for such notice will receive immediate attention."

Women! It's Easy! Dry Clean With Gasoline—Save $5

Nothing shrinks, fades or wrinkles and a wash boiler will do nicely.

Women here who have tried dry cleaning find it very easy and inexpensive to clean and freshen all the ribbons, silks, satins, laces, yokes, furs, silk shirtwaists, lace gloves and shoes, neckties, children's clothes, suits, caps, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, woolen garments, fancy vests, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it instantly dissolves, then put in the goods to be cleaned, rub a little and out they come, looking as bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

You can do five dollars' worth of home dry cleaning in an hour at little cost. It is so easy and you can't make a mistake. Any grocery or garage will supply the gasoline and you can obtain two ounces of solvite at the drug store which is simply a gasoline soap, then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.

Dancing to Come Back to Sane Basis Again

According to the statement of W. A. Reynolds, who will conduct a dancing school at Winterside, dancing this season will be sane and rational, and that people generally will follow the rules of the New York Society Dancing Masters with a view to standardizing dances everywhere.

Mr. Reynolds stated that the dances on the official list would include the fox trot, one-step and modern waltz, but in standardizing these dances it is hoped that the difficulty frequently experienced by dancers who perform the dances in different ways will be overcome. Through the teaching of others by pupils of dancing schools, the addition of steps, etc., not taught by the masters, the beauty and grace of the dance has been lost.

low certain standard rules, and thus have all couples on the dancing floor turning the same way at the same time, taking the same steps at the same time, and observing the hesitation at the same moment, bringing about a harmonious effect among the dancers, that dancing teachers will strive to effect. Some of the dances are, therefore, being subjected to certain revisions of step. The fox trot, it is said, will be much different, while the one-step will be about the same as last season.—Advertisement.

PARDON ASKED BY 2 COMMUTED MEN

State Board's List Contains Cases Which Attracted Much Attention Here Years Ago

Sixteen new applications, including two for full pardon for men who were granted commutation from death sentences imposed years ago, and ten continued cases are listed for the State Board of Pardons when it meets on October 20. Among continued cases are the Reilly and Pennington applications for commutation of death sentences, the former being under sentence of hanging and the latter of electrocution.

To Meet in Scranton.—The Public Service Commission will adjourn today to meet in Scranton on October 14, when the Scranton jitney cases and a number of others from Northeastern Pennsylvania will be considered.

Mr. Jones Here.—E. A. Jones, of Scranton, former Deputy Highway Commissioner, was here yesterday. He is now engaged in business in that city.

To Dedicate Monument.—Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh has announced that he has fixed the afternoon of October 23 for the unveiling of the monument of Christopher Dock, Pennsylvania's first schoolmaster, at Skipback, Montgomery county. Christopher Dock was the first schoolmaster in the state, teaching his first school in 1714. He was also the first writer on pedagogy in America. He died at Skipback in 1771 and Governor Brumbaugh is the author of a biography of him. Plans for the monument were first made by ex-Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, who wrote the inscription for the shaft, which will be unveiled by Governor Brumbaugh. The other speakers will be ex-Governor Pennypacker and Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Bad Apples Don't Go.—Several rotten apples has gotten several fruit dealers and grocers in Luzerne county into trouble, as prosecutions were started against them to-day by agents of Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust on the charge that the apples sold were unfit for food. This is the first prosecution for sale of decayed apples. Arrests were also ordered for sale of milk and ice cream here standards in Lehigh and several western counties.

Plenty Applying.—The State police force, instead of being hampered by the enlistment of many former soldiers and men with police service, is having plenty of applicants. All of the places have been filled and there are a dozen or more men on the waiting list, practically all of them men with army records.

No Change for a While.—No modification of the State's quarantine against Illinois because of foot and mouth disease is likely to be made for some time at least. The quarantine is effective against shipments into and through the state and the reports from the West are being closely scanned. State officials are watching the glanders outbreak in Philadelphia.
