It takes all kinds of people to make a world
It takes all kinds of garments to suit them

Our garment department is a little world in itself with styles for old and young, rich and poor, stout and thin, tall and short, conservative and extreme.

Have you seen our suits?

We cannot say too much about them, for customers who have seen them are even more enthusiastic than we are.

For to-morrow we are offering some wonderful values, smart styles, splendid materials, appropriate for dress or tailored wear, many with fur trimming, priced specially at $16.50, $18.00, $20.00 and $25.00.

To match your suit you will want one of these delightfully new blouses of Georgette crepe, or taffeta and crepe, which we are featuring for $5.00.

Come in just to see them to-morrow. They are especially smart.

Other charming models for dress, from $3.75 to $15.00.

This is a good time to buy a new dress.

A new shipment of especially attractive styles, featuring the new plaid taffetas, combined with serge, and some stunning velvet models has just been received, and we have marked them at such tempting prices as $10.98, $12.50, $15.00 and $20.00.

They are bargains—and seeing is believing.

When you are ready for a coat look over our line, whether you want an inexpensive coat for service or a stunning evening wrap.

We have some clever models for general wear, simple and yet dressy; priced especially from $8.98 to $16.50.

OBSERVE EDISON DAY HERE OCT. 21

Electric Co. Enters in $2,500 Prize Contest For Boys and Girls of City

Scores of girls and boys of Harrisburg will help celebrate "Edison Day" October 21, the anniversary of the invention by Thomas A. Edison of the modern incandescent light, through the co-operation of the Harrisburg Light and Power Company.

The local electric company has joined with hundreds of electric utilities throughout the country in the Edison $2,500 prize contest started by the General Electric company as a tribute to the great inventor. The object of the competition which is open to boys and girls under 18 years of age, is this:

Substitution of old style incandescent lights in offices, residences, stores, etc., with the modern Mazda type lamps. These range in size from 10 to 1,000 watts, and each watt counts a point in the contest. The girl or boy who is credited with the greatest number of watt points winner of the first prize—a $275 Indian twin motorcycle for boys and a $200 Edison diamond disc phonograph and $75 in cash for records for girls. Other prizes include an Evinrude bow or canoe motor, a 17-foot "Olightow" canoe, watches, cameras, rifles, electric trains, chafin dish, football, tent, fishing rod, tennis racquets, baseball bats, masks, chest protectors, etc.

The method of entering the contest. The entrant may obtain any number of contest cards of the electric company and as fast as the cards are ordered the number of watt substitution are filled out, he or she turns them into the company's offices. These in turn are collected and sent on to the General Electric company by the local utility company on the date of the expiration of the contest. As soon as the count is made the winners will be announced.

Many of the cards have already been distributed by the local utility company and inquiries for additional cards are keeping the clerks and the phones busy.

Colonel Trexler Will Honor First Defenders

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 8.—At the dinner given by Colonel Harry C. Trexler, Quartermaster General of Pennsylvania, to Adjutant General Stewart and other military officers who had come on to participate in the parade at South Bethlehem, regret was expressed that Governor Brumbaugh had found it necessary to veto the bill passed by the last Legislature, providing $1600 for a tablet in Allentown in memory of the First Defenders.

General Stewart said to Colonel Trexler: "If I were a man of your standing, I should waste no time in regrets, but should out of my own means erect a suitable memorial that should be a perpetual credit to the brave men who went forth instantaneously to save their country from disruption."

Colonel Trexler immediately announced that he would erect a tablet and have it ready for dedication April 18 next, the 55th anniversary of the arrival of the First Defenders in Washington.

Colonel Trexler will invite the survivors of the 350 First Defenders, about 50, to be his guests on that occasion and will pay all their traveling expenses. The dedicatory address will be made by Adjutant General Stewart.

TRAVELETTE

By NIKSAH PAPEETE

Lost in the vast expanse of the South Pacific is Papeete, capital of an isle of enchantment stranded there to mark the crossroads of a trackless sea. The red tile roofs of Papeete peep out from among the verdure of Tahiti, largest of the islands of the society group. All world travelers talk of Tahiti although it might be put in the vest pocket of an American county or its population of 10,000 is lost in many a suburb the name of which is only locally known.

Papeete, the home of dolorous ease, the native land of the people who dance, the garden where fruit is always ripe, the bouquet which replenishes itself, is a province of France. The artistic temperament of the Frenchman refused to allow him to plant here anything that was out of harmony. So the place of the governor is as much Tahitian as French, the barracks of its army post are hidden among tropical foliage, the quaint little villas that have been built on its hillside are overgrown with vines of brilliant flowers, the palace where dwells Prince Hinoe—provided for him as the representative of the last reigning house by the French government which pays him a salary—all are in harmony with the old Tahiti.

Nowhere in the south seas is anything more subtle and alluring and fascinating than Tahiti. This slender island boasts a volcano that rises 8,000 feet into the air and is belted with many classes of growth, gives birth to a thousand streams, tucks away a hundred lakes.

The natives speak the softest dialect in all Oceania. They loil their lives away beneath their banana trees, grow round and sleek and shapely as might so many seals about a rookery. There is no man nor woman in the world more amiable and happy and irresponsible than the Tahitian. They may not be hurried nor induced to fetch and carry. They laugh and trifle and let the traveler wait. There are men among them of magnificent stature and the women have the physiques of bronzed Venus and the mild, lustrous eyes of enchantresses.

The Panama Canal promises to introduce Papeete and Tahiti to many times the number of travelers that have heretofore known them for the trade routes are to be directed past that haven.

MRS. MARY AYRES DIES

Battle With Slides in Panama Canal Is Graphically Described

This is the battle with the slides—the greatest problem of canal operation, the one point of conflict where the river mountain range still strives to close its wound. Cracking at the top of Culebra Mountain, great slides of mixed earth and rock come slipping and crawling down the mountainside and into the water, thrusting a great toe of mud across the bottom, blocking the channel for all but the smallest ships. The material is dug out by ladder and dipper dredges, sucked out by suction dredges, carried miles away and dropped into Gatun Lake. Then another mountainside gives way, and tumbling downward into the big ditch, and the work begins all over again. Fighting the slides at Culebra cut is the most discouraging, the most tremendous and the most incessant engineering task in the world. It costs Uncle Sam $12,000 a day to keep a thirty-foot channel open through the slides. For twenty-two hours a day the snorting, laboring dredges crowd into the cut, digging out thousands of cubic feet of mud and broken rock. Then for two hours, if it is possible, the cut is flung open and the commerce of the world sails through in an impressive procession. As soon as the last vessel has passed the last of the slides, the dredges are rushed back into place and the race with the restless, encroaching mountain begins all over again.

Only one thing can be said in favor of the slides—they have never all been fully active at once. When Cucaracha went to sleep the two Culebra slides suddenly came to life and cascaded tons of material into the canal from either side. Cucaracha has lain now for many months, but both of the Culebra slides are still active.

If you would like to know all the facts about the building and operation of the great Isthmian waterway, as well as the story in detail of the working side of the entire federal government, you should read the two great patriotic books, "The Panama Canal" and "The American Government," both by Frederic J. Haskin. Read the offer of the Telegraph to its readers in the big advertisement printed elsewhere in to-day's issue.

PUSHING "DORM" THROUGH
Efforts are being made to rush the new dormitory of the Harrisburg Academy through to completion by the latter part of next week. About thirty-five students are now living in the old cottage dormitory.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION
This city will be well represented at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Optical Society in Philadelphia next Tuesday and Wednesday. More than 400 delegates are expected.

Why Not Get Rid of Eczema?

If your skin itches and burns with eczema or any such tormenting, unsightly skin disease, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The itching stops INSTANTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins at once. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disease, and almost always restores the tortured inflamed skin to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost.

Prescribed by doctors for over 20 years and sold by every druggist. For sample free, write to Dept. I-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Advertisement.

TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Perminal (double strength) and add to it 3/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Starting "Good Times" On Its Merry Journey

Every new sale made by the merchants of this city is a move towards better times.

Each sale, small in itself, multiplies with the increasing business in other cities and starts factory wheels going.

More people are employed, more raw material is needed, more money rushes for investment, and before anyone knows how or why it happened we are all busy and happy.

Newspaper Window Display Week will help prosperity's wheels to turn.

It will increase the sales of the stores.

It will induce manufacturers to do more newspaper advertising and make still more business.

Our merchants are interested, for they naturally want this newspaper to carry more national advertising that keeps them busy.

It is always to the interest of retailers to push the goods advertised in their home newspapers—for these are the goods their customers want to see.

As an object lesson the week of October 11-16th has been set aside by leading newspapers of the United States and Canada as International Newspaper Window Display Week.

During Next Week Merchants Are Requested to Display in Their Windows, Standard Products of National Distribution Advertised in This Newspaper. Join the Movement.

Housewarming at New Dwelling on Jacob Sheely Farm Near Shiremanstown

Special to The Telegraph
Mechanicsburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—One of the largest and most delightful social events in this locality was the housewarming, last evening, given by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob M. Sheely, near Shiremanstown. For more than 100 years this farm has been in the possession of the Sheely family, passing from one generation to another. About one year ago fire destroyed all the buildings, and the scene of last evening's gathering was the recently completed home. To celebrate the occasion, about 200 guests made merry, and brought beautiful gifts to help replace what the fire destroyed. The large porch was gay with Japanese lanterns and brilliant autumn foliage, golden red and crimson decorated the interior. After viewing the spacious new house, the guests enjoyed cards and social chat. Refreshments were served to the company, among whom were guests from Columbia, Middletown, Harrisburg, Carlisle, New Cumberland, Lemoyne, Mechanicsburg, Lisburn, Camp Hill, Shiremanstown and the surrounding country.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT C. E. CHORAL REHEARSAL

Nearly the entire membership of the Harrisburg Christian Endeavor Choral Union attended the first Fall rehearsal in the Second Reformed Church, last evening. Songs were sung from the "Convention Booster" and a tentative program arranged for the Fall rally and conference to be held in the Fourth Street Church of God, October 19.

Bishop Codman Dies in Boston Hospital

Boston, Oct. 8.—The Rt. Rev. Robert Codman, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Maine, died at a hospital late yesterday. He had been unconscious since undergoing an operation last Monday. Bishop Codman was married at Bar Harbor September 16 to Miss Marguerite Biddle Porter, of Philadelphia, and they were cruising in his yacht, Calumet II, on their wedding trip when he was taken ill.

Bishop Codman had been Bishop of Maine since 1900. Before entering the ministry in 1894 he practiced law in Boston for six years. He was born in that city 56 years ago and was a graduate of the Harvard Law School and the New York Theological Seminary.

Safe Home Treatment For Objectionable Hairs

(Boudoir Secrets)
The electric needle is not required for the removal of hair or fuzz, for with the use of plain delatone the most stubborn growth can be quickly banished. A paste is made with water and a little of the powder, then spread over the hairy surface. In about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple treatment not only removes the hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. Be sure you get genuine delatone.—Advertisement.
