ONE COSTLY ERROR OF OMISSION

© by I.N.S. E. SCOTT

In every world's series some one pulls off one particular play that figures in the loss of a game. It happened in the eighth inning yesterday. Official scorers say it was an error of omission.

When Jack Barry made one of the most marvelous and spectacular one-handed stops ever seen in a world's series game in the eighth inning of yesterday's opening battle between the Phillies and the Red Sox, and Everett Scott, whose picture is above, failed to cover second base, the "break" came which gave Patrick John Moran-an's team the "ace in the hole." For victory in the first game is a wonderful comfort in a short series. Everybody thought the ball was going to center-field, when it was stopped. Scott was blamed for not covering second base.

AMUSEMENTS

THE STAGE Because of so many openings this week, Oliver Morosco has decided to wait until Saturday evening to give the initial performance of "The Unchastened Woman"; Louis K. Anspacher's comedy.

MOTION PICTURES Thomas H. Ince, one of the three directing minds of the Triangle Film Corporation, will shortly revive in films "The School For Scandal" and other comedies of the Wallace epoch.

Another matinee idol made his initial bow on the screen last week, under the Lasky banner, Donald Brian's vehicle was "The Voice in the Fog," a scenario from Harold McGrath's novel.

"Heredity," one of the manuscripts submitted in the Vitagraph scenario contest by Seymour Galland, will be produced and listed as a three-part Broadway star feature.

Mme. Blanche will produce "My Madonna," a poem by the same name by Robert W. Service, with Madame Petrova and Guy Coombs, as a Metro picture.

Dustin Farnum will appear in a new Pallas play, "The Gentleman From Indiana," which will be organized by the new Paramount production.

"DAMAGED GOODS" The Orpheum, Saturday, matinee and night, October 10, offers Richard Bennett's comedy, "Damaged Goods."

"THE BLINDNESS OF VIRTUE" AT THE COLONIAL To-day is your last chance to see "The Blindness of Virtue," the splendid Essanay picture, which is a recent drama, by that title, which is appearing with much success at the Colonial Theatre. The splendid and popular artists, Edna Mayo and Bryant Washburn, are seen in the leading parts.

"MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE" Girls, here's a new way to end a long courtship. The receipt is told during the screening of "The Little Player," now appearing at the Majestic. The little player is about a fellow who calls on two girls for fifteen years. During this time one of the fair damsels has a proposal of marriage from another suiter.

"MUTT AND JEFF IN COLLEGE" All positively new!—is the most important announcement necessary regarding the new comedy, "Mutt and Jeff in College," which comes to the Orpheum, Friday, matinee and night, as the title signifies, it is a colorful and funny story from start to finish, and is certainly one continuous scream of laughter.

"THE PALACE OF THE KING" in which 5,000 persons take part, headed by Richard Travers, E. J. Ratcliffe, Arleen Hackett, Lillian Drew and Nell Craig. This stupendous production depicts picturesque court life of 350 years ago.

"FIRST DAY'S RECEIPTS LARGER THAN LAST YEAR" Although the first game of the world's series last year between the Athletics and the Boston Braves at Shibe Park drew 1219 more paid admissions than the game yesterday, the Phils collected at the box office $2027 more than the Athletics did. This was due to the fact that the Phils sold more five dollar seats than the Athletics' management did.

STAMPS LACKING; TICKETS UNSOLD

Stupidity in Office of Philadelphia Club Brings Disappointment to Many Fans

Special to The Telegraph Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—Some one pulled the prize bone of all world's series ticket distributions. Business Manager Shettsline is authority for the facts. Last Thursday notices were sent out to all those who had been awarded seats telling them of the fact, and inclosing a card which, delivered at either the Phillies' offices or the ball park, could be exchanged for the seats allotted. Through some piece of stupidity, no stamps were put on the envelopes.

Naturally, Uncle Sam resented this little failure to comply with the postal laws, and declined to deliver the letters. Yesterday morning they came back to the Phillies' offices. How many there were nobody knows. One guess put the total as high as 500.

Fans for whom the cards were intended never knew that they had been awarded tickets, and the tickets waited uncalled for in the Phillies' offices at a time when the whole city was clamoring for them.

Later some one woke up and discovered the fact. Then the box office was opened and the tickets were put on sale. There was no way to get word to thousands all over town who would have been only too glad to take advantage of the Phillies' pastboards.

Cobb For Eighth Time Leads American Batters

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 9.—For the eighth time in his career Ty Cobb is champion batter of the American League, according to averages published here to-day. Beginning in 1907, the Detroit player has led the hitters in every season except in 1908, when the official scores gave Criss, of St. Louis, the lead, he having batted .341 in 64 games to Cobb's .324 in 150.

To-day Cobb's average for the season just ended is .369.

In stolen bases the Georgian has set a new league record at 97 for the season. The old mark for the American League was 85, recorded by Milan of Washington, in 1912. In runs scored Cobb is ahead of all with 144 and leads in total bases with 271.

Those following Cobb in batting who have played in at least half the games are: E. Collins, Chicago, .333; Fournier, Chicago, .325; Speaker, Boston, .318; Means, Philadelphia, .314; Jackson, Chicago, .308; Yeach, Detroit, .308; Kirke, Cleveland, .303.

FOOTBALL GAMES ARE IMPORTANT

Results of Today's Scholastic Gridiron Battles Awaited With Much Interest

The World's series game at Philadelphia to-day, was not the only important sporting event. Football enthusiasts found local games of unusual interest and took in the gridiron battles.

The game at Island Park between Central High and Stevens Trade School of Lancaster promised an interesting contest. On Academy field, the season opened with a game between Harrisburg Academy and Easton High school. This game attracted much attention because of the fact that Tech lost to Lebanon one week ago, score 6 to 0. Steelton has the smaller children who were in the kitchen.

Doctor A. L. Shope removed five small bullets from the head of Abraham and four shots from Blanche's ankle and leg, and several still remain imbedded in her body.
