

PARTY ON FINAL LEG OF JOURNEY

Governor Expresses Satisfaction With Roads Through Scenic Section

Special to The Telegraph Delaware Water Gap, Pa., Oct. 9.—On the final leg of the 880-mile swing around the State, Governor Brumbaugh and his party of representative Pennsylvanians reached the scenic water gap, to-day shortly before noon. They expressed the utmost satisfaction through the beautiful section and after greeting a number of citizens took lunch at the Kittanning Hotel. Early in the afternoon they left here for Allentown, which they expected to reach before 5 o'clock.

William E. McCaleb, superintendent of the Philadelphia Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who was a member of the party accompanying Governor Brumbaugh on his "Seeing Pennsylvania First" trip, returned to Harrisburg last night. Mr. McCaleb left the party at Wilkes-Barre. He said to-day: "I was greatly surprised and delighted at the wonderful progress the State Highway Department has made in State road improvements. It was a revelation to all."

On Every Type of Road Every type of road that the State Highway Department is maintaining was inspected yesterday by Governor Brumbaugh's "Seeing Pennsylvania" tourists in the 143-mile run from Williamsport to the Pocono Mountains. And all types of road construction stood up equally well under the test which the twenty-two automobiles gave them in that the fifth day of the 1,000-mile tour. Through state roads, for the second time during the week the travelers were able to run ahead of the schedule because of the excellent condition of the roads. They arrived at Pocono Manor at sunset, just in time to see the wonders of the Delaware river valley lying below them in the red glow of the setting sun. The encouraging news of the Phillies' victory, announced as soon as the Governor alighted, made the tourists forget the ten-hour continuous run through cool air. "That's fine!" said the Governor when he heard the score. "I hope they do that with the series."

It was not like other days in one particular. It was mainly given over to seeing the roads and the beauties of this section of Pennsylvania. But at Danville 1,400 school children and 2,000 older persons massed in the center of the town hailed the party, and Governor Brumbaugh made his only "talk of the day."

The old stage route from Williamsport to Northumberland gave the example of what can be done with properly maintained dirt roads. In Northumberland the tourists learned with surprise that it was within one vote of becoming the capital of the state at one time.

Boroughs on the route yesterday with bumpy, rut-filled streets furnished a good comparison as to what the State Highway Department has accomplished. The tourists had no control over these rough streets.

Brick roads, water-bound macadam roads, dirt roads, shale roads, gravel roads and restricted and variously improved roads were traversed. Several of the tourists who have made their summer sightseeing auto tours through New York and New England said that hereafter they will tour this state. The completion of the William Penn highway, over which the party traveled for part of two days, was urged by many of the tourists.

The party arrived at Milford this morning at 11:30 o'clock and pulled into the Hotel Klor for lunch after for lunch. The trip will conclude tonight at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia.

Miss Elizabeth Kolb, whom Governor Brumbaugh calls the "sweetest girl in Pennsylvania," and whom he selected as the sponsor of the battle-ship Pennsylvania, has told what a young woman of rare beauty thinks of matrimonial proposals from cowboys, bankers, students, conductors and millionaires who have been fortunate enough to see her picture published in newspapers all over the country. She considers the proposals embarrassing, foolish, and not at all seriously intended. Let she accepts them with rare good nature as many compliments to her undoubted beauty. Miss Kolb, with her parents, Colonel and Mrs. Kolb, is touring the State with Governor Brumbaugh on his road inspection trip. When the question was asked Miss Kolb laughed heartily, as did her parents. All three talked freely of the hundreds of letters the young woman has received since the day she smashed a bottle of wine over the battleship's bows.

New Grant Six Is Subject to Severe Test

A very unusual test of the new Grant Six is now being conducted by the Grant Motor Company. A steel portable, 50 per cent, grade has been erected on a vacant lot immediately back of the Chicago salesmen's building. The test is a twenty-four foot run from the bottom of the incline and after striking the incline the car starts on a runway twenty-foot standard, which is an actual fifty per cent, grade.

This hill is so steep that when the wheels are locked the car will slide down hill. It is a well-known fact among engineers that friction between rubber and wood, which is the greatest friction known, ceases at a thirty-eight degree angle. When the car goes up the incline it literally holds its breath. The sharpness of the grade is attested by the fact that it is almost impossible for a person to walk up half way and turn around and immediately retrace his steps.

Following close upon the heels of its remarkable thirty-day run, this Grant Six is creating widespread interest and thoroughly convincing the fact that the car is a hill climber of the first rank.

Twenty Automobiles in Race For Astor Cup

New York, Oct. 9.—Twenty of the speediest automobiles in the world started to-day in the 350-mile race for the Astor cup and $50,000 in prizes at the new Sheepshead Bay speedway.

A great throng filled the stands and cheered the racers as they sped around the two-mile track which is located on the site of the old Sheepshead Bay racetrack. As Rosta flashed across the starting line in the lead of Aitken, Oldfield and Burman, the excitement in the stands rivalled the scenes at the finish of the many great horse races held in years past over this course.

WATER CAST ON SUFFRATORS

New York, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Elsie Benedict of Colorado is more than ever convinced that the men of her State are more chivalrous than those of New York. Addressing an open-air suffragist meeting in front of the Park theater in Columbus Circle last night she had just told a story illustrating the politeness of Colorado men, when somebody dropped a bag of water over her head. Mrs. Benedict and W. V. Morgan, Lieutenant-Governor of Kansas, who had finished his speech, were drenched.

J. P. Morgan Instructs 700 How to Sell Bonds

Special to The Telegraph New York, Oct. 9.—Nearly 700 bond salesmen connected with the big houses of New York and the metropolitan district heard J. P. Morgan explain the selling points of the $500,000,000 issue to Great Britain and France at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday afternoon. Summed up Mr. Morgan's declarations were that the issue is neither pro-ally nor anti-German, but pro-American; that it will be impossible for the resources of the two countries to be affected materially by the war, for no great nation can be extinguished; that America has now a chance to enter into world finance; and further that within five years the conversion privileges of the bonds will be at a premium.

WILSON'S PARTY IN PHILADELPHIA

President, Mrs. Galt and Others See Second Game of World's Series Today

By Associated Press New York, Oct. 9.—President Wilson and his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, and their party left in a private car at 11 o'clock to-day for Philadelphia where they will attend the world's series baseball game this afternoon.

Despite the late hour at which the President and members of his party retired last night, they were up early to-day. The President had breakfast at the house of his friend, Colonel E. M. House, while Mrs. Galt, her mother, Mrs. W. H. Bolling, and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, the President's cousin, breakfasted together in Mrs. Galt's suite in an uptown hotel.

The President and Mrs. Galt arranged to meet at 9 o'clock to-day and spend the remaining two hours of their stay in the shopping district.

Both the President and Mrs. Galt received scores of telegrams of congratulations at breakfast. Many of these were from foreign countries.

When Mrs. Galt arose to-day she found in her suite a large bouquet of flowers which the President had sent her. She appeared interested in the weather to-day and when she learned that it was clear and cool both here and in Philadelphia she was anxious to get out of doors and especially to start for the world's series game.

A box in the center of the grandstands at the National League park in Philadelphia, had been reserved for the President and his party. President Wilson will throw the first ball used in to-day's game.

Immediately after the game the President and his guests will return to Washington in a special train.

While the President and Mrs. Galt were in New York, she purchased a solitaire diamond ring for her and to-day she wore it proudly. The President himself did not go to the jeweler's for the ring but sent a member of his party.

50% Judiciary Clause Before Dauphin Court on Wednesday, October 13

The Dauphin county courts may hold today the problem of how to compute the fifty per cent primary election vote for city council candidates in interpreting a similar clause in the nonpartisan judiciary act next Wednesday morning. While the judgeship problem does not pertain to the councilmanic situation, many attorneys think some light may thus be thrown on the city case.

The judiciary fifty per cent clause was put up to the local courts to-day when Uriah P. Rossiter, one of the judicial candidates of Erie, filed a bill in equity against Cyrus E. Woods, Secretary of the Commonwealth, to restrain him from certifying to the printing of the names of both Rossiter and Joseph M. Force as judicial nominees on the general election ballot. Rossiter contends that he alone is the nominee.

The suit was filed by Charles H. Bergner and J. E. E. Cunningham in an opinion given a few days ago Attorney General Brown held that Mr. Rossiter did not have the requisite number to make him the sole nominee and that the name of Mr. Force should also go on the ballot.

"I find no difference in the women of the West," he said, "where they have had the vote for years. It does not un-sex them or make them in any way objectionable. Will they tire of the privilege, you ask, once it is secured? Well, have they tired of it in Colorado? Of course not. Naturally, the women who are now so enthusiastic and busy over the subject will take it all as a matter of course, but tire—oh, no! I think not."

SKINNER TAKES SUFFRAGE STAND

In Interview Famous Actor Says He Believes Women Should Be Given Ballot

By Anna H. Wood Otis Skinner, appearing in "Cock of the Walk" at the Orpheum theater this afternoon and evening, is thoroughly in favor of equal suffrage for women.

"I find no difference in the women of the West," he said, "where they have had the vote for years. It does not un-sex them or make them in any way objectionable. Will they tire of the privilege, you ask, once it is secured? Well, have they tired of it in Colorado? Of course not. Naturally, the women who are now so enthusiastic and busy over the subject will take it all as a matter of course, but tire—oh, no! I think not."

Mr. Skinner's home is in Bryn Mawr, but although a Pennsylvanian he will not cast a vote for the cause, he announced, "but I have not cast a ballot in thirty years. You see, I am a bird of passage, so to speak. The Autumn season always finds me on tour somewhere and so I cannot register. I have never followed politics very carefully for this reason. However, the suffrage cause is a vital issue of the day in which I take deep interest as I do in electrical inventions, aerial work, etc. I hope, really, that the women of Pennsylvania will win this fall, but I am a little afraid because of the vote of the large number of farmers and men of the small towns whose opinions on the subject are negligible. Of course, the thinking men, the men who read and understand the subject cannot fail to see the justice of it."

READING HAS TO PAY FIRST FINE

Company Runs Afoul of Public Service Company Law and Is Fined Fifty Dollars

The Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company ran afoul of the State Public Service Commission this week and paid a $50 fine for atting without authority from the commission in construction of a crossing at Parker street, Chester. The fine was the first to be imposed by the commission and was for violation of regulations. It was paid in cash at the State Treasury and the first entry to be made under the head of "public service fines."

The commission to-day issued an order in the complaint of the borough of Mount Union against the Mount Union Water Company, which may serve as a precedent in other water cases now pending. Objection was made to the service last summer and the commission orders that part of the territory from which the supply is taken be fenced off and wires strung, clean up sites of old lumber camps on the tract and prevent pollution during the time the reservoir is being cleaned.

The company is ordered to report to the commission by December 1. S. K. Rank, of Glen Campbell, has filed a complaint with the commission averring that the passenger and freight station maintained by the New York Central Railroad Company at that point is insufficiently lighted with coal oil lamps and requests that the company be required to supply the station with electric lights, both outside and inside.

On the other hand the invaders were still subject to much danger to mine fields which the umpires reported had not been destroyed or removed.
