The Best Collection of Suit Modes For Women and Misses That You Have Ever Seen at $16.50 to $25.00

Scores of Styles Now on View

There is a good deal of the military about many of the new suit models for Fall. Winter—particularly in the longer lines, the braid finish to sleeves and waist, the high close-fitting collars and smart button effects.

The Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart Suit section for women and misses is an unflinching source of style gratification to those who would ensure correct apparel at moderate cost.

There are many attractive plain tailored styles for women who are conservative in the clothes they wear.

The range at $16.50 to $25.00 includes these styles:

- An exceptionally good looking suit for women of medium figures is of a fine quality poplin with the bottom of the coat and the cuffs trimmed with graduated bands of silk Hercules braid. Panels of self material, bound by a side belt and ending in the front in a pleated form of trimming. A large flaring collar which closes at the throat is an attractive feature; navy blue, African and green $16.50
- A suit that is admirable for large as well as small women has a broad revers. The coat is finished with a top pocket and button trimming front and back; the back of the coat carries two inverted pleats. The suit is of an excellent quality poplin and is especially priced at $18.50
- Another garment at $18.50 is a poplin or gabardine with wide revers which is finished with three rows of stitching, ending at the bottom of the coat. The side goring of the coat finished in a pocket effect attached to match the front. The back of the coat is trimmed with two rows of self-covered buttons.
- Fine quality gabardine suit in African, green, navy and black with two inverted box pleats in the back of the coat, trimmed with bone buttons and finished with silk crows feet. A side pocket effect completes the garment $20.00
- There are one-half dozen other styles equally attractive in poplin and gabardine at $20.00

A very stunning garment of whipcord is shown in a box style, edgings of Hercules silk braid and the trimmings on cuffs and collar of Hudson seal; in navy blue, brown and black $22.50
Gabardine, broadcloth and poplin suits with trimmings of beaver, Hudson seal, and embellishments of bands of Hercules silk braid so to make up the features of twelve distinctly new garments at $25.00
The styles in this group are undoubtedly the most attractively designed features that we have ever presented at a moderate price. There are styles of suits for misses and juniors as well as women of medium and large figures.
