Punishment Likely For Unsuccessful Diplomats

By Associated Press

By Associated Press

Rome, Oct. 11, via Paris.—Foreign Minister Sonnino has been interpellated by Deputy Colajanni as to whether Italian diplomatic representatives abroad who had falled in their duty were to go unpunished.

The interpellation is supposed to have reference to the case of Marquis Garroni, Italian ambassador at Constantinople, who, it has been asserted, although informed in July, 1914, by the German ambassador at Constantinople, Baron von Wangeheim, that the Austrian note to Serbia made war a certainty, neglected to inform the Italian government.
