

JOHN K. TENER SAYS PHILLIES WILL WIN SERIES---PLAN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

JOHN K. TENER STILL HOPEFUL

Picks Phillies to Win; Ban Johnson and Others Differ in Their Dope

Special to The Telegraph
Boston, Oct. 12.—The head of the National League, John K. Tener, is still of the belief that the Phillies will win. Alexander is of the same opinion. American League officials are of a different opinion. Here is what they all said after yesterday's game:

John K. Tener: "Philadelphia will do far better in the next game, I believe. The team seems to be in a batting slump. Boston's pitchers have shown rare class, but are not likely in future to find the Quaker batters in such a passive mood. I certainly am not discouraged with the showing of Moran's team to date. Every game has been so close that it looks like a toss-up between the clubs. Hope of ultimate victory still runs high in the National League camp."

Alexander: "They made the runs and we didn't. That's all there is to it. Leonard pitched as good a game as any man that ever opposed me, and he deserved to win. It was a hard game for me to lose, but it would have been a harder one to win if Leonard had been the one to suffer defeat."

"I had hoped to win, because the game to-day would have given us the edge. We lost, so the only thing that remains for us to do is to go out and get the next game. We are by no means out of the series, but rather still expected to win it."

Like-wise Mr. Baker
William F. Baker, president of the Phillies: "It was another tough bit of luck for the Quakers, but they are not a bit discouraged, and will fight all the harder to-day, do not believe any left-hander will again hold my club at arm's length. Philadelphia has not shot its bolt by a long way."

Ean Johnson: "I was certainly delighted to see Boston win before this record crowd. Philadelphia fought gamely to the finish and proved itself a worthy opponent of the Red Sox. Boston so far has shown its superiority, both offensively and defensively, and with the advantage it now holds, should not have great difficulty in winning back the world's championship to the American League."

J. J. Lannin, president of the Red Sox: "It gave me great satisfaction to see my club take the measure of Alexander. The fact that I predicted after that pitcher's lucky win last Friday. Every pitcher that Carrigan calls upon may be trusted to maintain the high standard of effectiveness displayed in all three games. I believe Boston will settle the question in the next two days."

Sports of All Sorts

All minor leagues in classes above B will play 15 games this season. Lower classes from 112 to 130. Each team will be limited to sixteen players. In yesterday's game Leonard pitched 106 balls and Alexander 119. The Susquehanna A. C. Millersburg, defeated the Elizabethville ex-High School eleven; score, 12 to 5. The Arrows yesterday defeated the Willard team; score, 13 to 5. The West End A. C. would like a game for Saturday. Call Bell phone 2500J. The Lincoln team defeated Melrose yesterday; score, 54 to 6. Penrose All-Scholastics want a Saturday game. Address Charles S. Shields, Penbrook, Pa., or call Bell phone 1695J.

PHILLIES' FIELDER WAS GOING SOME

GEORGE PASKERT

In the Phillies' centerfield yesterday afternoon was one boy who got everything that came his way. Few hits went in his direction. This boy was Paskert. He had six putouts and was traveling over a big territory all afternoon. Paskert is also a hitter but like other Quakers is in a slump in this big series.

GET OUT RULES TO LOC HUNTERS

Local Sportsman Tells How Accidents May Be Avoided; List of Don'ts

With the large increase of licensed hunters more caution will be necessary. This opinion was last night expressed by a number of hunters who congregated at a local store. "If every hunter uses good sense and is careful there will be no accidents," said one hunter. Another reached in his pocket and pulled out the following set of rules for hunters and trap shooters:

Don't forget to "break" your gun or chamber when sending with others or crossing a fence. Don't drag a gun under a fence with muzzle pointed towards you. Don't climb over fences with your gun, or lean it against trees until you get over; put it through the fence on the ground, business end before.

Don't hunt with anyone that you know to be careless. Carelessness with three and a quarter drams of powder behind one and one-eighth ounces of shot is inviting St. Peter.

Keep your trigger until you are "looking down the barrel at Brer Rabbit."

Don't get intoxicated. Don't load your gun until you actually get to business. At all other times it should be empty.

Don't use a cheap gun. They are apt to explode when using heavy charges. Don't rest on the muzzle of your gun.

Don't borrow a gun or a dog or loan either. Don't shirk doing a little more than your share of the work in camp or boat.

Don't violate the game laws. It is not only criminal, but some times it's unsmart.

Don't "hog" all the game. Leave a little behind for the next fellow—as Shakespeare says—enough is sufficient.

Don't rest the muzzle of your gun on the ground. A gun muzzle clogged with dirt or mud is a dangerous proposition.

Don't talk to your neighbor. It's disconcerting. Keep your mind centered on the work in hand. It's essential to good scores.

When at the score, don't give the command "pull" until you are fixed and ready for the target. Don't shoot too quick; get a steady line on the target and then pull the trigger.

After you've had your shot let your gun remain unloaded until your turn to shoot comes 'round again. Don't talk to your neighbor. It's disconcerting. Keep your mind centered on the work in hand. It's essential to good scores.

TY COBB'S PHILOSOPHY
"I used to worry about my hitting," says Ty Cobb, "but not now. I don't think about it the days I don't hit and look forward to the days I'll get 'em." Backed by this philosophy, Ty would annex 400 per cent. of quota if he were holding in the Elliott-Fisher league.

How near to 400 do you hit? — Elliott-Fisher Ginger.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR STATE LEAGUE

High School Basketball Teams May Form Three Circuits; Five Schools on List

Plans for the organization of a scholastic basketball league are working out. A canvass is being made of schools to ascertain how many teams will enter. At a recent meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. delegates were present from Harrisburg, Steelton and Reading.

It is understood that Central, Tech, Steelton, Lebanon and Reading schools favor a league. A meeting will be held in the near future to form a permanent organization. All high schools in Pennsylvania will be invited to join. One plan suggested is to have three circuits, Eastern, Central and Western. Each circuit may be limited to twelve teams. If this plan is carried out a schedule will be arranged to include games on the three circuits, up to March 1. One month will be devoted to a series of games between winners on each circuit.

OFFICIALS HOLD PEACE MEETING

Will First Eradicate Certain Evils Which Have Developed During Baseball Fight

Special to The Telegraph
Boston, Mass., Oct. 12.—Another meeting was held yesterday between the National Commission and the Federal League representatives. The delegates who were present insist that the subject of the meeting was not to perfect peace plans, but to talk over the baseball conditions in general and eradicate some of the evils which have developed since the fighting between the two factions started.

It is only natural that such an announcement should be made, but it is said on good authority that the plans for peace are progressing rapidly. Only the obstinacy of President Johnson, of the American League, and his personal dislike for President Gilmore, of the National League, are more holding up negotiations, it is said. Johnson refuses to sit at a meeting with Gilmore, and it is necessary to carry on his end of the negotiations through Secretary McRoy. According to information given out by Chairman Herrmann, of the National Commission, and President Tener, of the National League, there is no chance for peace, as organized ball is satisfied with its conditions and will refuse to recognize or deal with the Federal League.

New Home For Yankees Is Up to Ban Johnson

Special to The Telegraph
New York, Oct. 12.—If negotiations now under way go through, Deacon's Field, in Long Island City, will be the new home of the Yankees. Colonel Ruppert and Captain Huston, owners of the American League club in New York, and M. J. Deacon, who owns the property in Queens, have discussed the matter at length. A conference was held at the Waldorf-Astoria, at which Ban Johnson of the American League, was also present.

It is up to Johnson to say whether Deacon's Field will be the new home of the Yankees. Colonel Ruppert and Captain Huston have passed favorably on the grounds and are ready to purchase the field. But Johnson must put his O. K. on the deal before it can go through.

When it was first mentioned that the Yanks would build in Queens, President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, protested over the Yanks invading his territory. Colonel Ruppert and Captain Huston explained to Ebbets that an American League club in Queens would have no effect on the Robins, and late yesterday after a conference with the National Commission, Ebbets withdrew his objection.

Big Doings at Local Games; Wizard Board Is Popular

Baseball fans who have been enjoying the world's series games at Chestnut Street Auditorium are boosting the Wizard Board. The game was over yesterday afternoon and fans were leaving the hall when the news of Boston's victory reached other boards.

Attendance this season has been far above previous records. Yesterday's game was full of thrills and there were moments when the umpire's decisions could not be heard because of the cheers. Games will be played every day there is a world's series game. No change in price of admission. Rain checks with every ticket.

S. P. C. A. Notes

One, somehow does not associate cruelty with poultry, yet they can be made to suffer in many ways besides being carried head down from market, as recently reported to the Harrisburg Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. So real is the need of protection that several express companies, especially in the Northwest are sending out instructions prepared by the Humane Society of St. Paul, Minn., as well as circulars on the evils and abuses of poultry.

By enforcing the humane laws in the handling of poultry the express companies hope to greatly reduce the loss in shipping live poultry. Few buyers know that the abuse of poultry by shipping in low, overcrowded or poorly ventilated coops makes the dealer liable to imprisonment or fine. Carrying companies who receive or transport poultry improperly shipped are also amenable to the law.

The things forbidden are double-deck coops, those of too small proportion for the poultry to be carried comfortably, and those whose top slats are so far apart that the heads of the birds protrude. Much loss and damage is caused in that way. Water pans should be placed in all coops, especially for long distance hauls.

The police of Harrisburg have always been in sympathy with the work of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and in every way co-operate with the peace officer, Charles O'Donnell, who, by the way, was himself at one time a member of the police force. Humane instructions for policemen has become an important part of Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals endeavor everywhere.

The Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of Philadelphia, first prepared a series of instructions for police, which is now widely used. This is in the form of questions and answers on matters pertaining to cruelty to animals.

Miss Kendall, of New York City, recently prevailed upon Lieutenant Williams to have these regulations published in the police order bulletin. This gives it the force of an order to over 10,000 uniformed officers. In addition, Lieutenant Williams is instructing the large number of recruits, training for the force, in all matters relating to the handling of animals.
