

TO FORM FOREST FIRE PATROL AT TUESDAY MEETING

Big Timber Owners and Boy Scouts to Co-operate For Protection

EXPECT STATE TO HELP

City Forester Mueller Will Confer With Troops Next Monday

Initial steps toward organizing the first forest fire patrol in Central Pennsylvania will be taken next Tuesday evening in the offices of the city park department when City Forester Harry J. Mueller meets with the big timber land owners of this section and representatives of the Boy Scouts.

The proposed fire patrol will be unique among organizations of its kind in that the after-school hours efforts of the Boy Scouts will be devoted to patrol and actual fire fighting work.

Forester Mueller will confer with the various Boy Scout troops on Monday when he will ask their co-operation.

The proposed patrol will be formed along the lines suggested by the fire fighting bureau of the State Forestry Department and the new association can be launched. State aid will be obtainable on a fifty-fifty basis.

The plan in brief is this: Owners of 100 acres or less of timber land in this vicinity will be required to pay $1.00 per year to keep up the organization, provide for patrolling, etc.; owners of more than a hundred acres will pay at the rate of a cent per acre. In addition to paying for the timber owners and farmers living within the timber zones will agree to cooperate instantly and heartily to emergency calls and to maintain the patrol system. The State will contribute a sum similar to the amount that is provided by the members of the forest fire protective association. The State pays for the work of fighting fires. Forester Mueller's plan to interest the Boy Scouts has been followed successfully in other cities of the country and he believes he can easily obtain the help of Harrisburg's Scouts. Each Scout will agree to devote a certain portion of his after-school hours to patrol work and when fires actually require his services he will be paid a certain sum per hour.

IN ERA OF FALSE PROSPERITY, SAYS W. B. MCALEB

Big Republican Victory in Fall Proper Groundwork For 1916

CANDIDATES' RECEPTION

Booster Meeting Held by West End Republican Club

The West End Republican Club entertained with a reception and lunch in honor of the Republican candidates to be voted for in November at the North Third street clubhouse last evening and heard a number of interesting addresses, all of which were most optimistic from the standpoint of Republicanism. While the affair was purely a club function, the doors were open to all who cared to attend, and a large number of nonmembers were present.

Harry Douglas, president of the club, was in the chair and introduced the following candidates: Charles C. Cumber and Dr. Henry M. Stine, candidates for county commissioner; James K. Lentz, for recorder; William H. Houser, for register; Michael E. Stroup, for district attorney; H. W. Gough, for county controller; Mark Mumma, for county treasurer; F. B. Snavely, of Hershey, and Fernando L. Vermilich, of Halifax, for poor director.

Several of the nonpartisan candidates who are members of the club were also present.

Mr. McAleb Speaks The first speaker of the evening was W. B. McAleb, superintendent of the Philadelphia Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who is a member of the club and an ardent Republican. Mr. McAleb said he saw nothing in the way of a big Republican victory and he said it was especially important that a large majority be rolled up for the ticket this Fall in order that a proper groundwork may be laid for the national campaign of next year.

"We are living in an era of false prosperity," said Mr. McAleb. "The Wilson administration has been fortunate in that the war came along just in time to save it from the results of its own legislation. But the war will not last five years longer, and if the Democrats are continued in power for another term this country will be certain to suffer after the war just what the war saved us from during the present period of Democratic supremacy. It is therefore important that we leave the party which is in power to-day in order that we may insure victory next year."

James Craig, Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and William M. Hargest, Deputy Attorney General, spoke to-night to the candidates to be elected in November. The reception was one of the largest in the history of the club.

Elopes in Her Nightie While Father Sleeps

White Plains, N. J., Oct. 14.—Dead of night, father wealthy—and reluctant, twenty-year-old sweethearts, a long ladder and a tap on the lady's window pane, down the ladder with one night dress and shawl as going away garments, a wild taxi ride across country and finally the country judge coming down in his bathrobe and tying the knot—all this the real thing and not movie director with a bit to do with it.

HERE'S A STORY OF THE FOUNTAIN WITHOUT A HOME

Guisepppe Donato Carved It For M. S. Hershey, the Chocolate King

NOW NOBODY WANTS IT

Park Owner Wants to Give It Back; Sculptor Sues For $25,000 Instead

Stripped of legal verbiage, phraseology and explanation this is just a story of a fountain without a home—unpaid for, unwanted, unsung. These are the bare facts: Lo, some five years ago Milton S. Hershey, the "chocolate king," asked Guisepppe Donato, of artistic fame and Philadelphia, to carve him a nice fountain with big basins and daughters of Pan and so on cavorting about the edges. Mr. Hershey, it appears, wanted the piece for Hershey park, and Guisepppe, who is some sculptor, got out his chisels and hammers and things and went to work.

In the five years that followed, so the Dauphin county court was told in argument court yesterday, the "chocolate king" and Guisepppe exchanged a lot of views on the subject and then their lawyers took up the matter. If the legal correspondence was reduced to simple questions and answers the story could be summed up something like this:

1910. Mr. Hershey: "Mr. Guisepppe Donato, make me a fountain. It must be some fountain."

1912. Mr. Donato: "Fountain is nearly ready. How about $5000 on account?"

1913. Mr. Hershey: "Can't be done. Whole job was only to cost $3100."

1914. Mr. Donato: "We've made lots of pretty changes; chopped and sculpted around the figures so that the daughters of Pan stand out in bold relief, etc. If check on account isn't forthcoming must keep fountain."

1915. Mr. Hershey: "Will bring action in replevin for fountain." Later: Donato: "Go to it."

Whereupon the statue was obtained from Donato by a writ of replevin. Then Donato's lawyers got real busy. And the answer went to Hershey something like this: "Keep the fountain. We'll bring action in assumpsit for $25,000."
