

ONE DEAD, FOUR SHOT IN BITTER DEMOCRATIC ROW

Reporter Killed When Charleston Committee Meets to Canvass Returns

MILITIA IS CALLED OUT

Governor Charged With Interfering With Primary Favoring Faction

By Associated Press. Charleston, S. C., Oct. 15.—Sidney J. Cohen, a newspaper reporter, was killed and four men shot in a melee that occurred here to-day just outside the room where the Democratic City Executive committee, was to meet to canvass the returns of the municipal primary last Tuesday.

Joseph Black, of the Democratic executive committee is reported to have been shot in the abdomen. It is reported he is dead but hospital authorities refuse to confirm this.

A man named Wingate is said to have been seriously, if not fatally wounded.

It is said the shooting occurred at the moment set for calling the meeting of the executive committee to order, and that the box containing the ballots cast in Tuesday's primary, which were to be canvassed by the committee was thrown into the street.

Bitter Fight. The Democratic municipal primary developed into such a bitter factional fight between the adherents of Mayor John P. Grace and Tristram T. Hyde, running at the head of the tickets, that serious trouble was feared.

Representations made to Governor Manning by the sheriff and members of the Democratic executive committee resulted in the Governor ordering four companies of militia and three divisions of naval militia held their armories as a precautionary measure.

The State adjutant general was hurriedly called to the scene.

Leave of Absence For Germans Revoked by U. S. Navy Department

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—All leave of absence for the men of the German auxiliary cruisers Kromprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Friedrich, interned at the Norfolk navy yard, has been revoked by the Navy Department until the disappearance of six warrant officers of the Kromprinz Wilhelm has been satisfactorily explained.

The department took this action when it was reported by Rear Admiral Beatty, commandant of the Norfolk yard, that the men, who had bought the yacht Colpa, had been granted leave for a sail but had not returned at the expiration of the leave.

Secretary of Treasury Gets Estimates of Big Appropriations Needed

Washington, Oct. 15.—Estimates of government expenditure for the next fiscal year totaling $1,400,000,000, and the largest ever submitted in time of peace were to be presented to-day to the secretary of the treasury.

This was the first time since the law for submitting the estimates, although there is no penalty attached for failure to do so. Most of the members of the cabinet worked until a late hour last night in order to be ready with the estimates for their departments.

The extraordinarily large sum of money which Congress will be asked to appropriate and under the government is due to the prospective big increase in the administration's program of national defense and to the unusual conditions resulting from the European war.

The estimated increase for national defense alone aggregates about $150,000,000 while burdens entailed on account of the war will require an increase of about $1,200,000,000, the State Department. Estimates for the other departments, except State, war and navy and possibly commerce are about the same as last year.

Secretary Redfield, it was believed, would ask for increased funds for extending American trade abroad.

WEST FAIRVIEW FIREMEN READY FOR DEDICATION

Celebration Next Week Will Mark Completion of Fire-house

BOROUGH 100 YEARS OLD

Parades, Dedicatory Exercises, Band Concerts and Bazar, Part of Program

West Fairview, Pa., Oct. 15.—Just one hundred years ago Abraham Neidig, Sr., purchased a big farm from a man named Wormelsdorf and a short time after laid the plot out in building lots.

This was West Fairview started, and for three days next week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, citizens of the old town will observe the birth of the place they call their home.

But the observance of the town's birth is not all that is being arranged for. The dedication of a modern concrete building, the new home of the Good Will Fire Company, No. 1, will be the feature of the affair, and probably, had it not been for the activity of the borough's firemen, the birth of West Fairview would have passed unnoticed.

Organize Fire Company. Quite a few years ago a number of citizens of the town got together and organized a fire company. The best home obtainable in which to house the apparatus was an old shed. That has been replaced by a modern home, and so plans were mapped out. A plot of ground was purchased adjoining the borough schoolhouse and work on the new building was started. With the exception of a little work on the interior the structure is now completed and on Friday afternoon, October 22, it will be dedicated.

While plans for dedicating the new building were being made it occurred to the firemen that the town was 100 years old, so a dual celebration was proposed.

Program for Celebration. The affair will have its beginning next Thursday evening, when a big bazaar and supper will be held in the new building. The bazaar will continue for three days, Thursday evening also, the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. will have its own bazaar.

Dragged several hundred feet by his horse, Charles Heller, 323 North Front street, a Steelton grocer, received a concussion of the brain, probable fracture of the skull and severe injuries of the body which may prove fatal.

Mr. Heller left home early this morning to come to this city for a supply of green groceries for his store. His horse, while standing in front of the wholesale house of J. F. Feeser, 140 South Third street, became frightened when a train passed.

Mr. Heller saw the horse start and grabbed the harness but was dragged to Third and Chestnut streets, where the horse fell, almost crushing him. Men going to work rushed to his aid and then hurried the injured man to the Harrisburg hospital where physicians say his condition is serious.

440 RED-HEADED HUNTSMEN CHASE OLD MR. GOBBLER

Just Eleven Per Cent. of County's Nimrods Are "Sorrel Tops"

4,005 LICENSES ISSUED

Tallest Gunner 6 Feet, 5 Inches; Shortest, 3 Feet, 6 Inches

Eleven per cent of Dauphin county's huntsmen are red-headed.

If, all your life you haven't had to answer more or less gracefully to "reddy," "bricktop," "sorrel," "carrot-top," "cinnamon," or "rusty," this glaring truth about the followers of the chase probably won't appeal particularly; you may even think this is a brief for the red-heads. But it isn't.

It's one of the facts that the records of the county treasury disclosed. To-day the turkey season opened and up until this evening the push for hunter's license was something to make the county treasurer and at least one of his assistants perspire almost—almost mind you—to profanity.

Up until the closing hour 4005 licenses had been issued for 1915 and out of that number more than 440 are listed generally as red haired. True.

PAUL KUNKEL HITS AT COURT, SAYS STROUP

Vigorous Reply of District Attorney to Democratic Opponent's Allegations

TUNIS FOR THE TICKET

Urges Members of County League to Vote For All Republicans

Two interesting incidents marked the opening meeting of the Dauphin County Republican League at party headquarters in the Wyeth building last night.

First, the vigorous reply of Michael E. Stroup, candidate for re-election as district attorney, to imputations of his opponent, Paul A. Kunkel, and second, the address of William S. Tunis in support of James E. Lentz, who defeated him for the recorder nomination, and urging all Republicans to vote for the whole ticket nominated in September.

It was a meeting so large in attendance that the hall could not hold all who tried to crowd into it.

District Attorney Stroup referred to the cards and advertising matter circulated by Mr. Kunkel bearing the assertion that he, Kunkel, was elected district attorney four years ago over

Special to The Telegraph. Reading, Pa., Oct. 15.—At the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania-German Society to-day, B. M. Nead, of Harrisburg, a former president, made an interesting address, his subject being "The Pennsylvania German in Civil Life."

The annual banquet takes place to-night. Discussing the purpose and objects of the society, Mr. Nead said: "Shortly after the inception of this organization it grew to be the belief of some of its members, including the writer, that the title of this society is not a well chosen one, and in fact is somewhat a misnomer. This is not a popular belief, but the conclusion remains nevertheless.

"The pioneer settlers of America of German descent or affiliation formed a large unit, and were indispensable

WHERE DID CASH GO?

Report to Court Does Not Comply With Corrupt Practices Act

Before a largely attended meeting of the Dauphin county Republican League last night, Senator E. E. Beidleman not only charged John K. Royal, Owen M. Copelin and W. L. Gorgas, supposedly nonpartisan candidates for city council, with contributing to the Democratic campaign fund for their re-nomination, but connected their names with a report filed as to their campaign expenses which he said is in distinct violation of the corrupt practices act.

Senator Beidleman quoted the court records to prove what he said. His speech was a reply to the criticism of Democratic bosses and newspapers censuring the Republican councilmanic candidates for contributing $100 each to the candidates campaign committee.

The court records show that Howard W. Jones, chairman of the Democratic City Committee, filed a report of primary expenses for the Citizens' Campaign Committee, under which he disburse the Democratic Committee

BOY'S STORY MAY LAND HIS FATHER BEHIND THE BARS

Tells Court "Dad" Married Another Woman After Deserting His Mother

MAY BE DOUBLE BIGAMY

Declares Parent Had Him Arrested Because He Knew Too Much For Him

The Juvenile court and probation officers, even the prosecutor, were oddly silent this morning as to why 17-year-old Charles Kipple, Jr., was arraigned on charges preferred by his father.

After a few wondering seconds Kipple Junior himself told the court why. "Here's the reason, yer honor. Dad had me arrested because he knows I know he married another mom; and my own mom is still livin' and dad ain't been divorced from her. That's why!"

Youthful Charles Kipple's explanation may send his father behind the bars of the Eastern Penitentiary for some years to come.

The Sins of the Father. The question of why Kipple, Jr., was in Juvenile court paved the way for the telling of the rather tragic story of the house of Kipple when
