

ONLY SIXTEEN, GIRL VERY SICK

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

—Miss AMELIA JAQUILLARD, 3361 Tchoupitoulas St., New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."

—Miss ESTELLA MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

A Mixture of Sage and Sulphur Darkens the Hair Beautifully and Evenly

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and spots falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Advertisement.

Martyrdoms in Near East Will Dominate Thought of Churches

Evidences That Whole Country Is Becoming Afame Over the Unequaled Persecutions of Christians

(By the Religious Rambler)

All plans for general religious work in America this year are being radically affected by the news of the massacre of Christians in Turkey. As the facts seep into the consciousness of Christendom there is developing an intensity of passion which may sweep the world, even as similar news from the same region aroused Europe of the Middle Ages to undertake the Crusades. One difference between then and now is that the persecutions are immeasurably greater, and news travels faster, and the solidarity of Christians is greater.

Unless I misread all the present signs, the martyrdom of Armenians and other Christians, and of Jews as well, now in progress in the Near East, stir the churches of all names to unprecedented demonstrations. Already the religious press is beginning to realize that this crisis is more than a mere matter for editorial notes; at least one of the foremost weeklies has begun to print crusading articles upon the news from Armenia. Ministers' meetings have taken up the theme, and local pastors and prayer meetings are devoting attention to it. Turkish atrocities are likely to have the right of way with church people this year; and the combined wisdom of Christendom is sure to find some way out of the baffling situation.

Great Meetings Overshadowed
The nation-wide campaign of the Laymen's Missions' Movement began a few days ago and it is covering all the big cities of the land. The crisis in Turkey, with more Christians being slain than at any time since the days of the Caesars, supercedes all other subjects on the programs, simply because it is the one subject in which missionaries, preachers and laymen are most interested at the present hour. These enthusiastic men's meetings are sure to give support to the American government in the formal appeal to Turkey and in any other more radical steps that it may take.

Last Tuesday night there was a dinner given by leaders in the world's largest Sunday school association at the Hotel Astor, and the note struck there revealed the solidarity and sensitiveness of Christian thought at this time. The idea of rallying all Christians of every name and age to the support of the fellow-Christians who are being slain because they will not spurn the Cross and accept Islam is reaching down even to the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor societies. Without anybody's formulating it into words the idea is shaping itself in some minds that if Islam wants a "holy war" it may get more than it bargains for.

This is the month of the Congressional National Council, which meets in New Haven, and the program for the coming year has as its center interest the reorganization of the denominational boards. But the sword of the Turk has changed all that. The atrocities will hold the center of interest at New Haven and at almost a family matter with the Congregationalists. It is their converts who are being slain by the thousands. Their schools are being confiscated or destroyed. Their missionaries are being driven from their homes and put in peril of their lives. Among the native teachers and preachers already tortured and killed are many widely known in person to Congregationalists in this country because educated here. This meeting of the National Council bids fair to be one of the greatest and most solemn in the history of the denomination.

Martyr Blood as Bond of Union
Needless to say, all American denominations are a unit in seeking to arouse the world to the enormity of the tragedy in Turkey, which is already estimated to have cost one-half a million lives. The relief committee in New York has in its membership Dr. John R. Mott, chairman of the continuation committee of the Edinburgh Conference, the most important representative in the Protestant world. Persons who know Dr. Mott's conservatism and his reluctance to commit his world-wide organization to any position appreciate the significance of his chairmanship of the cause of the Christians in Asia.

Because Roman Catholic Christians in Turkey are being slaughtered, along with Gregorians and Greeks and Protestants, the whole round circle of the world's churches is now involved, regardless of ecclesiastical divisions. Hitherto France has been able to protect the Catholics in Turkey, and Russia the members of the Greek Church. Now all Christians suffer alike, and all churches make common cause. The blood of the present-day martyrs is cementing together a divided Christendom. What the consequences may be in years to come in the way of Christian union no man can foresee.

The fact that this saturnalia of lust and loot and blood, with tortures and persecutions unnamable, is taking place in the land of the ancient apostles, saints and martyrs strengthens the appeal to all Christians. These Christians are dying where Christians died eighteen and nineteen hundred years ago. The sentimental appeal of the present crisis is tremendous.

The Case of the Jews
Equally dramatic is the appeal to the Jews for these deported Armenians and the appeal to the Protestants of the ancient Hebrew exiles, and their destination is the same—except that under Sennacherib and Nebuchadnezzar Assyria and Babylonia were fertile, well-governed lands. Now they are a desert. The Euphrates river, "the river" of the Old Testament, is running red and fouled nowadays with the blood and bodies of the victims of Moslem fanaticism.

Nor are the Jews themselves escaping. The Young Turk program is to exterminate first the Armenians and then the Jews. Already many Zionists have been slain. Nobody knows the fate of the small Jewish communities all up and down the Tigris-Euphrates valley. Those of the suffering Jews from Jerusalem and other parts of Palestine have been taken to Alexandria by United States warships. Moses delivered the Hebrews from Egypt; America delivers them to Egypt.

In the movement for relief for sufferers in the Holy Land the Jews have been foremost; and they are represented on the New York American Atrocities Committee. The blood of the martyrs is proving to be the seed of new tolerance and co-operation. Even the thousands of the very same Jews from Jerusalem and other parts of Palestine have been taken to Alexandria by United States warships. Moses delivered the Hebrews from Egypt; America delivers them to Egypt.

They will have still more reason to fear American indignation from the news of what is now being said in Christian gatherings gets back to the seat of the "holy war"—a war whose background is the slaughter of children, the outraging of women and girls and the torture of the best people in the Ottoman empire.

ORPHEUM
To-night—"Mutt and Jeff in College."
To-morrow, matinee and night—"Damaged Goods."
Tuesday, matinee and night, October 19—"Pat White in 'Casey in Society'."
Wednesday, matinee and night, October 21—"The Winners."
Thursday, matinee and evening, October 22—"Mrs. Whitney's Fashion Show."

"MUTT AND JEFF IN COLLEGE"
After three seasons of veritable triumph, Gus Hill comes back for a fourth season with his perennial success Mutt and Jeff in an entirely new dress to the Orpheum this evening. "In College" is the title of the story that is to form a background for Bud Fisher's inimitable characters which easily assumes the credit of the greatest and most durable success of the season.—Advertisement.

CONCERNING "DAMAGED GOODS"
The Orpheum for Saturday, October 16, matinee and night, will offer Richard Bennett's co-workers in Eugene Brieux's remarkable sociological study, "Damaged Goods," which scored so successfully the past season.

"Damaged Goods" is a remarkable stage offering in many ways. It sets forth without fear or prejudice, a subject long tabooed not only to the stage, but to the eye-balls in the daily life. Eugene Brieux and his translators and collaborators have set forth a eugenic sermon which has been accepted as one of the most inspiring appeals to public health and morals.—Advertisement.

"CASEY IN SOCIETY"
Your old friend, Pat White, the famous Irish comedian in a merry metropolitan musical comedy entitled "Casey in Society" will appear at the Orpheum, Tuesday, matinee and night. Pat White, whose masterful work in burlesque has made himself internationally known, will assume the leading comedy character and he will be ably assisted by an excellent company of clever performers both male and female.—Advertisement.

THE WHITNEY FASHION SHOW
Messrs. Selwyn & Co. will present, in conjunction with Mrs. Bella Armstrong Whitney, "The Whitney Fashion Show," at the Orpheum, Saturday, afternoon and evening, October 23, coming directly from a sensational success of engagement at the George M. Cohan Theater, New York.

"The Whitney Fashion Show" is an entirely theatrical performance, with living models, scenic sets, a dramatic story threading through the exposition of clothes, and all the splendor of the authentic designs made for this season in Paris and New York.

It will sum up the fashion trend, weed out the bizarre and the transient, and demonstrate finally what will be the predominating modes of America this year.—Advertisement.

MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE
At the Majestic for the last half of the week there is a beautiful dancing fantasy called "The Old Master," that is indeed the most artistic attraction that Keith vaudeville has sent to the West street playhouse this season. Dan Burke and Girls present it, and while it is a bit of artistic art, still it covers closely to popular lines and will be greatly enjoyed by all lovers of vaudeville. The setting is perfect in detail, having been painted from life in London. The dramatic situations, pace, poise and tone of inflections of the characters show the remarkable artistic values in each character portrayed. "The Old Master" tells a beautiful story with touches of pathos and during the action some excellent dancing is introduced. A comedy gem of the offering is a sketch called "The Firey," presented by Harry Hayward and company. Mr. Hayward has the assistance of a clever cast of players and his sketch abounds with many laughable situations. Mullen and Coogan, singing comedians of Orpheum fame, contribute a hit that is second to none of the aforementioned. The Ponzello Sisters are scoring with a splendid character singing act called "The Italian Sisters," and the thrills of the bill are contributed by the Gregory troupe of sensational hoop rollers.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL
In addition to the greatest head-on collision ever worked up in motion pictures, "The Valley of Lost Hope," which appears at the Colonial Theater to-day and to-morrow, is also notable in that it shows a dynamiting scene that reaches a new high record in realism. Add this to a safe robbery and a score of rough-and-tumble fights and you will appreciate why this great picture more than stirs the emotions of the base. However, "The Valley of Lost Hope" is not a sensational picture in the accepted sense. It is a beautiful love story in a setting that stirred men to do the unusual in a most conventional way. It deals with an unscrupulous capitalist, who lured a small army of prospectors into a gold field, sold them worthless land and then endeavored to leave them in the lurch.—Advertisement.

"STEVE" ANDERSON HONORED

AMUSEMENTS

THE STAGE
"The U. born," a new play to be produced next month is of somewhat the same character as "Damaged Goods" but is described as being even more open in its treatment of the problems involved. A review of the play has been made by physicians who pronounce it medically correct. It will have a special production next month before an audience of men and women vitally interested in social problems.

Billie Burke will begin at once with the rehearsals of a new play which F. Ziegfeld, Jr., has selected for her.

John Drew this year will have a new leading woman in the person of Laura Hope Crews. His play is as yet unnamed but has been written by Horace Vachell.

The new Klaw and Erlanger piece "Around the Map" will open in the New Amsterdam theater November 1. In the cast will be seen Georgia O'Raney.

MOTION PICTURES
"Hypocrites," the Bosworth production, has been banned by the Ohio censors. There is a fight of quite a magnitude being waged about its showing there.

Billie Reeves, well remembered for "A Night in a Music Hall," has signed another contract with the Lubin Co. to star in comedies.

Cyril Maude of "Grumpy" fame, has been signed by the Premo Film Corporation and will soon be seen in "The Antique Dealer."
