A Few Dos and Don'ts in the World of Courtesy

In the November Woman's Home Companion appears a page devoted to "dos" and "don'ts" in the world of courtesy and good form. Following is an extract:

"Don't seal any social note or letter of introduction given to deliver."

"Don't invite people without consulting your hostess."

"Don't invite a friend visiting in town without her hostess."

"Do leave a card for the hostess when calling on a friend who is a guest."

"Don't accept any invitation, however informal, without consulting your hostess."

"Do await a confirmation of an invitation by the hostess before accepting one given by a male member of the family."

"Do, as host, see that a conveyance is provided to and from the station."

"Do, as guest, supply your own postage and pay for your laundry."

"Do send a 'bread and butter letter' after your departure."

"Do ask permission to introduce a gentleman to a lady."

"Do, when introducing a gentleman to a lady, say: 'May I present Mr. X to you.'"

"Don't scold your servants before others."

ARTISTS RECEIVE HEARTY APPLAUSE

Opening Concert of the Wednesday Club Is a Pro-nounced Success

Seldom have two such wonderfully talented artists appeared upon the same program before a Harrisburg audience as those heard last evening in Fahnstock Hall at the first concert of the Wednesday Club. Ernest Hutcherson, pianist, and Miss Mary Jordan, contralto, accompanied by Miss Edythe Evans, brought to local music-lovers a feast which will not soon be forgotten.

Mr. Hutcherson is a true artist, never diverging from his straightforward, true and sure, his technique absolutely faultless. Born in Melbourne, Australia, he made his first public appearance when but five years of age and toured his native country as an infant phenomenon. Thereafter followed years of study before his graduation at Leipzig. In Berlin he conducted an orchestra offering a program of his own compositions. His interpretation of Chopin last evening was a real delight from the soft whispers of melody which touch the very heart strings to the majestic fortissimo swelling louder and louder like an onrushing storm. It is said that his repertoire embraces practically the whole of classic pianoforte literature. His rendering of the "Marche Militaire" (Schubert-Tausig) brought some to his audience realization of the inspiration and power music has always exerted over war-wearied legions throughout the ages. It was the well-known "Marche Herpette" (Alkan MacDowell) that he displayed his marvelous lightness of hand and delicate distinction of finger work. In quick abandon and intensity he played his always clear, distinct and entirely sure of his own self-command.

Miss Mary Jordan, the noted grand opera contralto, is the type of artist who draws tears to many eyes. She had opportunity to display last evening in the choice and variety of her selections. The unutterable beauty and pathos of her rendering of "My Star" (Tosti) drew tears to many eyes. Her thrilling military selection, "War" (Rogers), told in its own way the story of the charge and the tragedy of bereaved wifehood. But it was in the familiar old folk song, "Look Long Ago," sung by the great Patti, that she touched the depths of sentiment in her audience. She sings with ease, humor, abandon and intensity, which her control is unusual, which makes her phrase in a remarkably effective manner. She was especially pleasing in songs requiring sudden dynamic changes, such as "The Eyes and the Whole Mobile Face Lighted with Joy" and "The Lower Notes Rich and Full, and the Top Tones Equally Clear and True."

That the unusually large audience was appreciative of last night's recital was proven by the applause which was called for and graciously given by both Mr. Hutcherson and Miss Jordan.

Mention should not be omitted of the piano accompaniment of Miss Evans, which was in sympathy with the soloist made such a well-rounded performance.

Altogether it was one of the best recitals of the season, and a most brilliant opening for the season's work.

Don't Use Curling Iron! Here's a Better Method

(Woman Beautiful)

By no means use a heated iron. It makes the hair dry and dead looking, giving a most unkempt appearance. After brushing the hair thoroughly, just dip a clean tooth brush in a saucer of plain liquid silmerine and run it through the parts of the hair to be curled. Do this in the morning and you will be quite surprised when you behold yourself in the mirror next morning. The hair will be beautifully wavy and curling and the effect will appear altogether natural.

You will not be troubled doing up your tresses in the style you desire and they will look and feel fluffy and comfortable. You need not hesitate to use pure liquid silmerine, which you can procure at any drugstore, as it is perfectly harmless and will leave no greasy, gummy or streaky trace. A few ounces will last for months.—Advertisement.

PRETTY WEDDING AT NEW CUMBERLAND

MR & MRS PAUL E. REIFF

MISS HEFFLEMAN WEDS PAUL REIFF

Pretty Home Wedding Solemnized Last Evening at New Cumberland

New Cumberland, Pa., Oct. 15.—The marriage of Miss Grace Heffleman and Paul J. Reiff took place at eight-thirty last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Heffleman in Bridge street.

The decorations were of pink and white cosmos and fern. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. R. Ayres, pastor of Trinity United Brethren church in the presence of the immediate families of the young couple.

The wedding music was played by Miss Rhoda Desenberg with the Lohengrin bridal chorus as a processional; during the ceremony "Venetian Love Song," and as a recessional Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride looked lovely in a white crepe de chine frock, her veil fastened with white orange blossoms. She carried bride roses. Miss Ruth Heffleman, a student of Lebanon Valley college, was maid of honor for her sister, wearing moire white crepe de chine and carrying pink roses.

The best man, Russel Kohr, a sophomore at Dickinson College and cousin of the bridegroom, attended Mr. Reiff.

After congratulations and a wedding supper, the happy pair left for a trip to Baltimore, Washington and other places of interest.

Mrs. Reiff was a graduate of the New Cumberland high school, School of Commerce, Harrisburg, and has recently assisted her father in the post office. She is from a fine old family, her grandfather having been an officer in the Revolutionary War.

Mr. Reiff is a graduate of Patrick's Business College, York, Pa., and holds the position as head stenographer and bookkeeper at the Susquehanna Wool-en Mill. He is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Reiff who reside on a large fruit farm near Lewisberry, which has been in the possession of the Reiff family for over a hundred years.

Miss Scott Is Honored With a Variety Shower

Mrs. Wm. H. Cleckner of 1253 Kit-tatiny street gave a variety shower on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Mary E. Scott whose marriage to Theodore E. Brown will be an event of this month. The shower was a surprise to Miss Scott and the gifts were concealed about the house. The bride-to-be was requested to find them after which they were opened and revealed beautiful gifts of linen, silver, glass, aluminum and china.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing cards and chatting. A buffet luncheon was served to Mrs. Fetters, Mrs. E. W. Spangler, Mrs. M. H. Scott, Mrs. W. B. Martin, Mrs. M. Snyder, Mrs. Chas. Goff, Mrs. H. Geiger, Mrs. Ray Arnold, Mrs. B. F. Missimer, Mrs. A. Falor, Misses Leona Scott, Irene Long, Evelyn Whitcomb and Mrs. Scott, W. B. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cleckner.
