FIREMEN READY FOR DEDICATION

A band of Enola will give a concert. Friday afternoon there will be a big parade, made up of fire companies from towns along the West Shore, secret organizations and school children. Following their part in the dedicatory exercises will be held. In the evening there will be another band concert.

On Saturday evening the committees in charge of the celebration will present something unique in the history of celebrations in Central Pennsylvania. There will be an "everybody's" parade, and from indications it will be all that its title implies. The West Fairview band will head the procession and residents of the town, home-comers and visitors will be expected to fall in line and cover a route which has been mapped out. It is forecasted that this event will prove one of the most pleasing of the week.

New Bell to Be Ringed
Plans are also being made for the entertainment of former residents of the borough who are returning for the celebration. A committee has been appointed to meet them and entertain them during their stay here.

One of the interesting events of the affair will be the ringing of the new bell on the firehouse by Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, residents of the bor-

COFFEE WHIPS UP AND CONSUMES RESERVE ENERGY

Investigators Declare Continued Use of Coffee Works Disaster to Nervous System

"Does the daily use of coffee as a beverage, continue for a series of years, do harm?"

"Yes," says Dr. W. A. Evans in the Chicago Tribune. "A horse cannot be whipped daily for years without being harmed. A man cannot be nagged continuously for years without being harmed. The very fact that, when fatigue is slowing down muscles and brain cells, coffee will whip them on, and that under the stimulus of coffee the working capacity is unduly excited, is proof that harm will come if the process is kept up for a series of years."

"Fatigue is a danger signal," adds another investigator. "It means that the weary body should immediately seek rest. Caffeine in any form puts a mask on this signal, and temporarily conceals it by whipping up the reserve forces and then consuming them. Fatigue is like a red light that calls attention to a ditch in the dark. Nobody with common sense would assume for a minute that by putting out the light the ditch would be removed. Yet that is exactly what weary people do when they disguise their weariness for an hour by resorting to stimulants."

NOTE.—It is interesting to observe that as medical science more and more reveals the harmfulness of coffee to the health of both old and young there follows a tremendous increase in the use of the pure food beverage, POSTUM.—Advertisement.

ough. While the building was in course of construction Mr. Smith, who is not a member of the company, paused and looked and noted the company was without a bell. "When the building's completed I'll furnish the bell," he remarked to a by-stander. And so he did. The bell has now been placed in the tower and will be rung for the first time officially by Mr. and Mrs. Smith on Friday afternoon as a signal for the start of the parade.

BOY'S STORY MAY LAND FATHER BEHIND BARS

Judge McCarrell asked as to the charge against the youthful prisoner. "You're the prosecutor," said the court turning to Kipple senior. "What has your boy done?"

The prosecutor was silent. The probation officers declared they knew nothing against Kipple, they had preferred no charges. The youthful prisoner told why he was there. Nearly ten years ago his mother was deserted, and later he, Charles Kipple, got a license to wed and married a Mrs. Clara Miller of Coxstown. A short time ago through Mrs. Miller's solicitude he was able to communicate again with his mother and they met again just a few weeks ago.

Recently, so the story goes, Kipple senior went to Steelton and lived with one Ellen Cooper. On September 3, 1915, Kipple and his housekeeper, as he called her, got a license to wed and according to informant, furnished the court this morning by Constable John Diehl, they were married by a Royalton minister September 25. They were held under $200 bail apiece yesterday before Alderman Landis on adultery charges. Mrs. Cooper, it is said, had also been married and it is believed that her own husband is still living.

SUBMARINE SINKS GERMAN WARSHIP

which brought news of this incident, adds that another German destroyer and a cruiser which were accompanying the destroyer, was sunk speeded to the southward.

London, Oct. 14, 12.53 P. M.—A dispatch to the Central News from Copenhagen says that a British submarine has sunk a German torpedo-boat.

Members of Crew Lost
Information received here indicates that all the members of the destroyer's crew were lost. Additional details were given in a version, a German cruiser and three destroyers were engaged with the British submarine. The German craft moved in circles to avoid the attack of the submarine, which was boned heavily. This continued for some time until the submarine lodged a torpedo on the destroyer, which sank with a terrific explosion. The other German warships are said to have retreated. The submarine rose to the surface and remained on the scene for some time before it disappeared. No survivors have been found.

WANTS KING TO TAKE BACK GIFTS

Duke of Orleans Displeased With Attitude of Ruler of Bulgaria

Paris, Oct. 15.—The Duke of Orleans addressed a letter to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria several days ago requesting the monarch to take back jewels of Bulgarian orders which had been bestowed upon him, but the letter was to be published only on the day Bulgaria entered the war. In his communication the Duke said: "The attitude your Majesty has thought right to take in the present war, contrary to your previous policy, forces me to the sad duty of praying your Majesty to take back the jewels of Bulgarian orders with which your Majesty invested me, first upon the death of your venerable mother and second, when your Majesty was in Paris to point out how much Bulgaria owed to France."

"I tell your Majesty to take back the jewels because, alas! I cannot send them, but your Majesty has only to apply to his ally who for more than a year has occupied my chateau in Belgium, and for whom my safe can have no secrets. I authorize giving up to your Majesty orders I can no longer wear."

Name Stricken From Role
"Your Majesty will understand I am obliged to warn your Majesty the day he takes up arms against my country, France, his name will be struck from the chapter of Knights of the Holy Spirit. I do not ask your Majesty to send back the jewels or the Order of the Holy Spirit, but on the contrary that these souvenirs of France he has betrayed shall keep alive perpetual remorse."

A letter from Duke wrote to Emperor Francis Joseph at the outbreak of the war also has been published. In it he asks the ruler of Austria-Hungary to take back the jewels of the Order of the Golden Fleece which he refers to his marriage to the Archduchess Maria Dorothea as "the misfortune of my life."

Prince Louis Philippe, Duke of Orleans, and the French pretender, was married to the Archduchess Maria Dorothea, of Austria, at Vienna in November, 1845. She obtained a separation from him in Paris in July, 1846, a year after a series of domestic difficulties which had lasted for years. Under the decree granted by the court of arbitration she was to receive $11,000 a year from the Duke, who also was ordered to restore to her money which he had used improperly. While the separation was granted the court refused to recommend a decree of divorce.

not commit itself as to whether troops would remain or be transferred. Greece will not intervene in the war on behalf of Serbia at present. She has officially notified the British Government to prevent the Greek fleet from sailing, in the notification statement, declares that intervention by Greece in the present circumstances is not referred for under the treaty with Serbia.

Violent Firing
Intense activity, chiefly on the part of the artillery, has prevailed along the western front. The Paris report mentions in particular violent artillery battles before Loos and north-east of Souchez, and a concentration of German fire on the French lines east of Arras. In the Champagne, near the western end of the new advanced positions of the French. The heavy guns on both sides also were spiritedly engaged at various points between the Ardennes and Champagne districts, the sector of L'homme near Chauines, and the Nouvron Plateau and other points along or near the great bend in the line being mentioned.

In Lorraine, the Germans made a violent attack near Létricourt, which the French fire is declared to have checked. There has been spirited trench fighting in the Vosges, with violent cannonading in some sectors.

A German torpedo boat destroyer was sunk by a British submarine today in the passage connecting the Baltic and the North Sea, known as the sound, a Copenhagen dispatch states.

A German cruiser and another destroyer in the vicinity hastily steamed away southward, the dispatch adds.

British submarines recently have been active in the Baltic, near the scene of the incident of today, several German steamers having been sunk by them.

Formal announcement was made today that Serbia had declared war on Bulgaria. The first war statement issued by the Bulgarian general staff, dated Thursday night, accuses the Serbians of initiating the offensive. It declares the latter on Tuesday made a surprise attempt to obtain possession of strategic points in Bulgaria commanding the route to Sofia but were defeated and driven back.

A press dispatch from Nish to Paris declares the Teutonic forces have not progressed more than four miles south of the Danube at any point, while the Bulgarians are being held along the border.

Greece is being financed by the entente allies to an extent sufficient to pay the expense of keeping her army mobilized, according to an Athens dispatch to Milan. The sum of $6,000,000 already has been advanced, it is declared.

HUNTSMEN CHASE OLD MR. GOBBLER

some of them tried to soften the blow that they thought had dealt 'em by letting themselves be recorded as "auburn-haired," "reddish brown," etc., and some times they got away with it. If there was a big rush on however, they were brutally written down on the records of the county of Dauphin as mere "red heads."

Less Than Dozen Women
Just a few more curious facts about the issue of hunters' licenses. Of the 4000, less than a dozen are women. Elizabethville boasts of the shortest follower of the chase; he's three feet six inches. The tallest hunts for the other end of the county; he's six feet five inches. Boys recorded in figure among the younger huntsmen while the older fellows ran well into the eighties. Most of the nimrods are gray-eyed, a big proportion are blue-eyed, many a number of rare hazel orbs, it seems. Of hair there is black and brown and

PURCHASING clothes when they are needed most, even when the purchaser is not in a position financially to do so, is made possible by our liberal charge account system. If you have not the full amount to cover the price of the garment we gladly offer you the privilege of a charge account. A nominal payment down and $1.00 a week until the goods are paid for. APPROVE NEW NAVAL PROGRAM national defense plans of the administration, calling for an expenditure in the next fiscal year of more than $400,000,000 for army, navy and fortifications, were completed today. Secretary Garrison has forwarded his estimates, already approved by President Wilson, to the Secretary of the Treasury, and Secretary Daniels submitted his estimates this afternoon after going over the final details with President Wilson this morning. It was learned, however, that the expenditures will be distributed as evenly as possible over the five years. The plans of the navy, Secretary Daniels admitted, include a large building program. He said he wanted to increase the capacity of the various government navy yards and do much of the new warship construction in those yards. It is planned also to have some aeroplanes for the navy built by the government. The five-year program would call for sixteen capital ships—ten dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers. In order to get the best advantage of improvements in construction and to overtax the capacity of American navy yards, the first year's construction will include two dreadnaughts and two battle cruisers and about twenty-five submarines, sixteen destroyers and probably five scout cruisers. The total amount to be appropriated for construction this year will be in the neighborhood of $100,000,000.

COUNT HELD FOR BIGAMY

New York, Oct. 15.—Representatives of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice have demanded that Max Loudon, also known as Count Max Lynar Loudon, who says he is of the German nobility, surrender a passport issued by the United States government last July. Loudon was held here today in default of bail and bigamy charges.

OPPOSE SMOKE ON HILL

A meeting to discuss plans for abatement of the smoke nuisance, will be held to-night at the Lincoln school building. The committee appointed two weeks ago to visit industrial plants on the Hill and ask the co-operation of the owners, will report. Addresses will be made by prominent residents of Allison Hill. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock.

DEEP YELLOW EYES

However there are others. One timid little woman wanted a license for her husband to hunt. "Not handsome, but well pretty good looking," was the general way she summed up the details of his appearance. It is as to the eyes however, that she shines. "What is the color of his eyes?" the wife was asked. "Deep yellow!" Since this was intended to be a hunting season story, possibly it might not be amiss to say something about the hundreds of followers of the hounds who hied themselves to field and meadow this morning. Outgoing trains bore lots of them.

Sort o' Reddish

Be this all as it may, there are other curious combinations of colors among Dauphin's listeners to the call of the wild. One of the applicants is a rather cautious old farmer who wanted the license for his son. "What's the color of his hair?" inquired County Treasurer Bailey. "Complexion?" "Sort o' reddish." "Eyes?" "Sort o' reddish."
